MONTANANS TO PICNIC AT GRANTS PASS SUNDAY

Next Sunday at the city park in Grants Pass there is to be held the first picnic given by the Montana association.

All who have made Montana their home are not only invited, but urged to attend, and meet, perhaps, some former acquaintances.

While it is expected, all or most of the attendants will be former Montana people, all are now at heart Oregonians, and it is hoped that the result of the picnic will be more Montana folks as settlers for southern Oregon.

GETTING READY TO OPEN DIAMOND LAKE RESORT

ROSEBURG, June 5.—George L. Howard, of Jacksonville, has been in Roseburg for the past few days in the interest of the Diamond Lake Improvement company, which is being formed to build a summer resort at this well known lake.

Mr. Howard says that there will be boats at the lake early in July.

"THE SHEIK" IS WONDERFUL SPECTACULAR PRODUCTION

One of the most impressive features of "The Sheik," George Melvold's latest production for Paramount, which comes to the Vining theatre tomorrow, Wednesday and Thursday, are the many magnificent and spectacular settings in which the various scenes are enacted. These include:

A remarkable conception of a public section of the ancient city of Carthage under Roman rule; a birdseye shot of the city of Biskra, the Monte Carlo of the Algerian Sahara; fifteen actual shots about the city of Biskra, especially made for the picture by a representative from Paramount's London studio; a picturesque African oasis, especially constructed on a desert site near Hollywood; a complete Arabian village—the stronghold of the bandit chieftain, Omsir; and beautiful exotic interiors, such as the interior of the Sheik's tent, and the desert palace of Omsir.

In the Carthage episode, which is a vision in the picture, a very unusual effect is produced, Agnes Ayres, playing the principal feminine role, is shown as the haughty queen who rules the city under Roman domination. When the scene first opens, it shows her encamped at night among the ruins of Roman splendor in the ancient city. There are broken pillars and crumbling ruins.

Then the girl becomes a Carthaginian queen, the architecture is restored and scenes of splendor, peopled with the royal court, flower girls, harp girls, slaves, centurions and Roman soldiers follow. This vision establishes the haughty, dominant character of the girl, who insists upon taking a journey into the desert despite her brother's objections. The role of the Sheik is played by Rudolph Valentino, the popular "Julio" of "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse."

HENRY FORD SPENDING BIG MONEY IN OREGON

When Henry Ford does anything, it is usually on a big scale, so it is not surprising, although extremely gratifying to learn that he appreciates the quality of wool grown in Oregon to the extent that he has placed an order with the Portland Woolen Mills for 150,000 yards of cloth, at a cost of $200,000.

Harrison & Harrison, who handle the Ford products in this city, state that this cloth will be used for the upholstery of the Ford sedans. Heretofore Ford has purchased the raw wool in various states and had it manufactured into cloth at a particular mill in the east. He has been experimenting with the Oregon product and finds it is so satisfactory that it will be manufactured in the Oregon mills.

METHODIST JUNIORS WIN Y. M. C. A. LEAGUE PENNANT

The concluding games of the season Saturday, returned the Methodist boys as winners in the Junior Y. M. C. A. baseball league. This team has had very good success, not to say good luck, and did not drop a game during the season, so the boys are fairly entitled to the fine pennant provided by the league.

A resume of the league's affairs must not be out of place at this time. The basis of the Y. M. C. A. Athletic league in Ashland is the Sunday school organizations in the several churches of the city. In order to represent a church on any team or in any sport, the athlete must be a registered member of the Sunday school of that church and to main- tain his eligibility he must attend at least three Sundays per month during the season. The use of profanity, obscene or objectionable language, or the use of tobacco during the progress of any game, or while at practice renders such player ineligible and subject to suspension. Sunday ball playing is not permitted.

It will be seen that while baseball cannot be called a religious activity, it can be made to contribute to attendance on church services and thus increase the church's opportunity. This is one of the ways in which the Y. M. C. A. works hand in hand with the church.

During the season twelve games have been played, and a minimum of 50 boys have been actively interested for a period of two months. All games have been supervised by adults, and the sport has been kept clean and free from the objectionable features which frequently occur where such supervision is not given.

The pennant is now being displayed at the Citizens bank, and it is hoped that it may be formally presented at some public function in the near future.

Visiting in City—

Mr. and Mrs. Wood, of Albany were in the city today and called on a number of friends while here.

BIGGER, BETTER GLORIOUS "4TH" IS PROGRAM

LOOSEN UP, LIVEN UP, AND MAKE THE OLD TOWN HUM!

Things are moving right along for a record breaking July Fourth celebration, and the lineup at the present time looks like all southern Oregon will be here, because they are coming to know there is no place like Ashland for a good time.

With a quiet Sunday, July 2, in the auto camp and Lithia park, with the biggest Trade day on July 3 ever held in southern Oregon, and with July 4 bigger and better than ever, hundreds of people are coming to spend a week of their vacation in Ashland.

It takes money to hold such a celebration as is contemplated this year and the Chamber of Commerce is asked for $2000 for this event. Plans for raising this amount are under way. With the budget plan, the chamber has raised this money, together with the amount needed for other projects at one time, and the merchants and others have not been solicited but once a year for these various items. However, there are many who do not have an opportunity to assist, and for the benefit of these a subscription fund will be started at once. The names of all subscribers will be published in the Tidings from day to day. Various other plans will be adopted and notice given from time to time as they are arranged.

BOYS LEAVE SOON FOR ENCAMPMENT

Great enthusiasm reigns among the men belonging to the company, and the largest turnout Ashland has ever sent to camp will leave here this year. This is largely on account of the splendid location for the camp, being about 25 miles from the Canadian border on the shores of the Strait of Juan de Fuca, and close to the cities of Port Townsend, Victoria, B. C., and Seattle.

The troop train, which will be composed entirely of sleepers, will arrive in Portland the night of June 14, and will continue on to Seattle, arriving there the next morning. After a short lay-over at Seattle, the men will go by steamer to Port Worden.

First company, having the senior captain of the coast artillery of Oregon, has secured the assignment to the 12-inch battery, and it will certainly be an educational experience for the young men of Ashland, who have never seen a gun shoot with a range of 10 to 15 miles.

The company has been fortunate in securing two capable restaurant men as cooks, namely, Messrs. Spencer and Jarvis, and with the liberal allowance for food made by the government, no one will go hungry. This camp will be under canvas, and will be as good as any vacation for business men who desire to have a rest with a change combined. Being at sea level, it is a desirable change for Ashlanders.

Turn out with the band and see the boys off this year and show them that the town is behind them.

First company, C. A., now designated as the 484th company, C. A., O. N. G., will entrain for Fort Worden, Wash., on train 14 at 5:30 a. m., June 14, to take part in the annual maneuvers and encampment.

FORMER "STUB TOE" CITIZENS TO CELEBRATE

The former residents of Montana are planning for a grand gathering at Grants Pass next Sunday to renew old acquaintance and to talk over the days that were passed in that state.

All former Montana citizens are invited to attend, bringing with them well-filled picnic baskets, and the committee in charge has arranged to furnish all the hot coffee that is needed for the occasion.

Walter F. Brown, of Medford, will speak on the days he spent in Montana.

F. E. French is head of the committee in Ashland and will be glad to furnish any information in regard to the celebration.

Domestic Science RHYTHMIC PHILOSOPHY By Dick Posey

They have placed domestic science as a high art in our school. And Susie and Maria do our cooking now by rule. Each wears a thoughtful pucker on her cultured, classic brow. And they come out strong on calories, and how to make chow-chow.

They measure out a pinch of salt as if 'twere radium, while sugar, flour and shortening are sacred things to them. And back and forth from pantry to our kitchen stove they glide, and they serve a wondrous salad with dill pickles on the side; they float some white of egg on soup and call it a "souffle," and a little mixed up ball of grub they nominate "croquet"; they serve each thing so dainty in a little ball or wedge, I dare not ask a blessing for fear 'twere sacrilege; and when the spread is over in deep reverie I find I have filled my inner chasm with a lot of pickled wind.

Should the spirit of my yeoman sires revolt and show their spleens, and plead corned beef and cabbage, succotash and mustard greens, straightaway they look offended that I don't admire their food, and hint I'm coarse and vulgar and I don't know what is good.

Well, well, perhaps it's for the best, I shouldn't criticize. They're surely in dead earnest and they're trying to get wise; No doubt it's best for young folks to learn things by the rule; We're proud to see their credit cards they bring us home from school. But when their lunch is over, and we know they've gone for good, Then Mother puts the kettle on and cooks us some real food.

DANCING

Some tell us that the dance is wrong And leads young folks astray, While other claim 'tis helpful and uplifting in its way. I don't know how it is, but then, the world seems plumb dance mad; they've jazzed and shimmed all the way from Adam down to Dad. Perhaps Shem, Ham and Japheth danced above a world's sad wreck, while Noah cut the pigeon wing upon the slanting deck; King David swung Uriah's wife, and Mark and Cleopatra Fair scandalized a giddy world And made the gossips chatter.

I've seen full many a damsel In the arms of many a lad, And a frisky old grass widow in the clutch of gay old Dad; the Hottentots are doing it, the Maoris and the Japs, they're dancing in the torrid zone and at the poles, perhaps; they're at it on the housetop, the sidewalk and the street, you'll have to shut the music off if you control your feet; it's jazz and hop and shimmy, and when all is said and done, They may be slightly tarnished, But they've had a world of fun.

BIRD CATCHING

(By Dick Posey) Mid the many scenes of childhood That come drifting back to me, There's a barefoot boy with a radiant joy and a heart brimful of glee. With salt in his breeches pocket he chases the lark or quail, While he does his best, With a child's zest To put salt upon its tail.

We draw full many a lesson From the little things of life: There's the bird of Fame we should like to tame, so we enter the dizzy strife; we labor and sweat and struggle, and then in the end we fail, For that bird roosts high, And he keeps his eye Peeled back on his precious tail.

Now, there is the bird of Riches, And he flaunts his plumage gay, With a peacock's pride and a taunt beside, he dares us up and away; he flutters just beyond us, we strain, but without avail, And we make a pass With our salt—Alas! It never touches its tail.

There's a sweet little dove sits cooing Far up on a pinnacle frail, And Briton and Frank and Dago and Yank hurl cargoes of salt at its tail; but she sits there with feathers unruined and sobs with a piteous wail: "Boys, what are you about? You've pulled 'em all out, And I hain't got no tail."

TWO MORE REMOVALS RESULT OF REVENUE ROW

WASHINGTON, June 5.—Internal Revenue Commissioner Blair ordered the removal of Samuel G. Patchell, chief payroll examiner in the accounts division, and Frederic Gellinger, a clerk. Both were appointments of Assistant Secretary Dover, their dismissal being a continuation of the row between Dover and Blair.

WANTS "DIRT FARMER" ON FEDERAL RESERVE

WASHINGTON, June 5.—President Harding cleared the way for the placing of a "dirt farmer" on the federal reserve board, by signing the bill increasing the membership of the board from five to six, with the provision that the agricultural interests be represented along with the banking and commercial interests.

MERCHANTS ALL SET FOR THE BIG "FORD" CONTEST

All set for Ford Day! A number of the merchants who make up the committees for the big "Ford Day" to be held on July 3 as a prelude to the biggest and best Fourth of July celebration ever held in Ashland, were busy today launching the contest for the Ford touring car which is to be given away on "Ford Day." Tasteful window cards have been printed and are displayed in the windows of all the merchants who are participating. They were all supplied with the duplicate tickets, too, and are now ready to start the contest.

The merchants will arrange the distribution of these tickets, each one of which represents a chance on the Ford car in accordance with their individual plans, some of which will be noted in the advertisements today. Posters are being distributed in all the near-by towns and there is every indication that this will prove one of the biggest and most important commercial events Ashland has ever known.

AMERICAN TROOPS TO REMAIN ON THE RHINE

DAILY VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL OPENS TODAY

All aboard for the daily vacation Bible school. What is it? It is a little chip off the school of life. Here, the kiddies, under good supervision, learn to make useful articles, hammocks, baskets, mats, paper folding, coloring, amateur carpentry, together with those finer things of life which pertain to habit, worship and patriotism. It is free. The Baptist and the Presbyterian congregations are doing this for the children of their Sunday schools and for any children of the community so far as there is room to take care of them. Mothers! Your problem is how to keep the children profitably entertained and out of mischief. Here is your solution. Send them to this school. Open to all children from five to 15 years old. It begins tomorrow at 9 a. m. in the basement of the Baptist church. Take a look-in.

FIRST FIGS TAKEN FOR ESPEE DINERS

The first fresh figs of the season from Imperial valley were snapped up on the Los Angeles market by the Southern Pacific company this week. The fruit is for the company's dining cars.

The figs were bought for $1.50 a pound, and eight pound basket cost- ing $12. The Southern Pacific in making the purchase followed its policy of getting early fruits and vegetables, the best the market affords, regardless of price, for its patrons.

ALUMNI ELECT OFFICERS FOR THE COMING YEAR

CIVIC CLUB WILL HOLD BUSINESS MEETING

The Civic club will hold a business meeting at the parish house tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock to audit bills that have been rendered and discuss the advisability of increasing the club dues.

Plans will also be made for the strawberry festival which the club will give Tuesday evening, June 13. Originally plans had been made to give a card party in the Armory on that date, but Mrs. Briggs, who had charge of that committee, decided an outdoor party would be much more attractive and plans were changed accordingly. Mr. Greer has donated the use of the bungalow for the evening to the club. It is hoped by club members that there will be a large attendance to eat the mountain of strawberries which will be furnished, and thereby lend a hand towards the completion of the club house.
