TALL CORN GROWS IN ASHLAND GARDEN

Many people are dubious about corn growing in this section, and some are bold enough to make statements to the effect that the ground is not good enough to raise anything of that kind, but S. A. Hawks, 128 Factory street, is an enthusiastic Ashland booster, and in an effort to substantiate the statement that anything can be grown in Ashland, he planted some corn on May 5th this year, and saw that it had plenty of water at all times. Today he sent a stalk of the corn to the Tidings office measuring eight and one-half feet in height, out in full tassel and with good heavy shoots started for an ear of corn.

And it is still safe to say anything can be raised here, if given plenty of water.

JACKSON COUNTY MEDICAL SOCIETY HOLDS PICNIC

The Jackson County Medical society held their second annual picnic in Lithia park last evening, it being the date of their regular monthly meeting.

Dr. P. W. Covington, of the Rockefeller foundation, who appeared before the Medford chamber of commerce at their forum luncheon yesterday, was present with the doctors last evening, and made a short address on the work which it is hoped will be established in Jackson county. Upon the conclusion of Dr. Covington's talk, a motion was made and unanimously adopted by the society to send a set of resolutions to the county court, asking that that body act favorably upon the offer made by Dr. Covington.

The picnic lasted until dark, and it was the opinion of all that a much better time was had this year than last, and they hope to make each ensuing year still better.

CHARLES ELIASON PASSED AWAY THIS MORNING

Charles A. Eliason died at his home on Laurel street at 5:45 this morning, following an illness of three weeks. Mr. Eliason had been in his usual state of health until the latter part of June, when he was taken ill, and it was feared from the first that he would not survive. However, his condition had improved considerably and the first of the week, he was able to sit up in an easy chair, but he took a change for the worse and lost consciousness during the early part of last night.

Mr. Eliason was 75 years old. He was born in the state of West Virginia, where he entered the oil fields, becoming an expert driller, and was often conferred with in regard to oil wells in the west.

He moved to Ashland with his family 25 years ago, and has lived here continually since that time, and had a host of friends among the older people of the city.

He leaves to mourn his loss, besides his wife, two sons and two daughters. The sons are Lars and Ross Eliason, both of whom are located in Alberta, Canada, and the daughters are Miss Bertha Eliason, of Portland, and Mrs. George N. Kramer, of Ashland.

Funeral arrangements will not be completed until word is received from the sons in Canada. J. P. Dodge and Sons will have charge of the funeral.

COURSE OF STUDY OUTLINED FOR OREGON SCHOOLS

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, July 21.—In an address to the Principals' club, this week, J. A. Churchill, state superintendent of public instruction, outlined the new course of study for the Oregon grade and high schools, which will be in effect for two years from next September.

Superintendent Churchill appealed to the schoolmen present to carry out faithfully the provisions of the state law providing for 20 minutes of physical education daily for every student in the public schools. This exercise, the superintendent pointed out, must be taken in the regular school period and not at recesses.

Among the changes in the study course will be the introduction of six weeks of Oregon history study at the opening of the year, in the eighth grade. Agriculture also will be taught in the eighth grade again next year. To make room for these subjects, the course has been lightened in some other respects.

ROGUE RIVER CITIZENS ORGANIZE COMMUNITY CLUB

Citizens of the village of Rogue River held a meeting Monday evening in the Rogue River community hall, and organized a community club with A. R. Bradshaws as president.

Jesse Winburn's Hotel Proposition Laid Before Chamber of Commerce

At the meeting of the chamber of commerce in the city hall last night, a letter from Jesse Winburn was read, in which he submitted a proposition, which in his judgment, offered a direct means of speedily bringing about the erection of a hotel in Ashland. Fred Homes acting as Mr. Winburn's representative, told how Mr. Winburn had become interested in the matter through learning of the work being done by the Hockenbury System, Inc., a concern of promoters who made a specialty of financing hotel ventures. They are regarded as experts, and he thought it would be well for the chamber of commerce to get in touch with them as speedily as possible, in order to have them send one or more of their experts here to look over the field and decide as to the feasibility of a hotel project. He recommended that a committee be appointed for this purpose.

The following correspondence between Mr. Winburn and the Hockenbury System, Inc., and which was read at the meeting last night by Mr. Homes, is self-explanatory:

June 1, 1922.
Mr. Jesse Winburn,
Broadmoor Hotel,
Colorado Springs, Colo.

My dear Mr. Winburn:
Thank you for your letter of May 28th regarding your proposed hotel project in Ashland, Oregon.

Our work is confined entirely to community projects. By that I mean those projects which supply a real community need and which therefore receive the endorsement, support and co-operation of the chamber of commerce, Rotary, Kiwanis, and other similar civic organizations interested in the civic welfare. We do not undertake any private financial projects.

We are not stock salesmen in the sense in which that term is ordinarily understood. We do not personally sell the stock. We do organize, train and direct the leaders of a community in the selling of the stock to the people of the community.

Within the past eight months we have completed the successful financing of 11 different projects involving approximately $5,000,000. The total amount of stock sold on these projects was more than $4,500,000.

During the past month we have closed two successful projects on the Pacific coast, one at Astoria, Oregon, closed with $256,000 on a $200,000 objective, the other at Tacoma, where we sold $1,015,000 on an objective of $1,000,000.

We now have projects under way at Petaluma, California, and Port Angeles, Washington. These will be completed about the first of July and if conditions warrant, it would be possible for us to send a representative to Ashland to meet any committee that might be interested in the promotion of a new hotel for that city.

The first step in a proposition of this kind is the appointment of a hotel committee from the chamber of commerce, Rotary, Kiwanis or some other organization interested in the civic welfare. If this committee can be made representative of all of the civic bodies of the city, it will be strengthened thereby. This committee should then carefully investigate our record and satisfy itself about our ability to handle this project successfully. We shall be glad to furnish you with the names of men who are thoroughly familiar with our work and let them tell you direct their own story of Hockenbury Service.

Inasmuch as the question of operation is always an important factor in a proposition of this kind, it ought not to be difficult for you to arouse interest and enthusiasm in Ashland and secure the appointment of such a committee. If you can do this, I am sure we can sell the securities needed to make the hotel a reality.

At your service,
THE HOCKENBURY SYSTEM INC.
A. L. Aderton, Secretary.

On July 5th, Mr. Winburn received another letter from The Hockenbury System, Inc., which after repeating portions of the previous correspondence, added:

We have just completed three successful hotel campaigns on the Pacific coast. Two of them I referred to in my letter of June 1st. Since that time we have added another at Petaluma, California, where we sold $257,800 on an objective of $250,000.

We are now engaged in the sale of $2,700,000 for the new hotel at Seattle, Washington. This project will probably be completed about August 1st.

If you are interested in our service, it is quite possible that we can arrange to have one of our representatives meet your committee and talk over our proposition, sometime after the first of August. Our men will be busy until the completion of the Seattle project. I will appreciate it if you will let me know whether you desire such a conference.

There were about thirty of the most prominent men of the city present and the proposition was earnestly discussed, as was also a proposition for the erection of an apartment house by C. L. Stidd, of Portland, who recently addressed a meeting of the chamber of commerce on this same subject. Secretary Fuller read a letter from Mr.
