ROCKEFELLER FOUNDATION FOR JACKSON COUNTY

At a meeting of the county court in Jacksonville Wednesday, July 26, the county commissioners voted the necessary appropriation to secure the Rockefeller Foundation unit for Jackson county. Delegates from Ashland, Medford, Phoenix and Central Point, each delegate representing a large group of people, urged that this appropriation be made. The increase in taxes due to this extra burden in the budget was estimated at one-twentieth of a mill. From Ashland, Mrs. Galey represented the school board, Mrs. Engle the Parent-Teachers association, Mrs. Fuller the Civic club, and Miss Chamberlain the chamber of commerce. A petition was sent from the Jackson County Medical association, and another from the committee appointed by the local chamber of commerce. Mrs. Peruzzi commended the splendid work done by Miss Faldine and the necessity for another nurse, which would mean the expenditure of at least $1800. Miss Palmer, Mrs. Pell and Mrs. Tilton were also present and wholly in accord with the unit plan. Mrs. Noblitt, temporary head of the Red Cross in Medford made a forceful plea for the establishing of the unit in Jackson county. Her own work gives proof of the pressing need for such a program of work as Dr. Covington outlined in his talk to the commissioners a week ago. Mr. Frobach dwelt upon the advantages of securing $10,000 for the extra expenditure of less than $1500 by the court. Dr. Malmgren from Phoenix was another enthusiastic supporter of the proposed measure, as was Miss Carlton, of Central Point. Coos county was the first to accept the offer extended to five counties in Oregon, whereby two full-time nurses, a full-time physician and a laboratory assistant will be engaged to carry on an extensive health program. Jackson county is to be congratulated on having county commissioners whose vision is great enough to see into the future and to realize the growth and needs of new times and new people.

State Fair Winners Will Exhibit Here

The coming Jackson county fair on the new fair grounds in September is attracting wide attention all over the state and in northern California, and letters of inquiry from breeders of livestock and probable entries in agricultural lines are coming in daily. The River Banks farm in Josephine county, famed as one of the leading Guernsey cattle and Berkshire hog breeders of the northwest, and which captured prizes at the state fair and Pacific Livestock Exposition in recent years, will have a large exhibit at the local fair, as witness the letter of inquiry just received from the farm by Clyde E. Miles, to County Agent Gate: "Upon receipt of your recent letter, I went out and put an extra curl in the old boar's tail and told him to fill out, and we could step out again with the aristocracy in Josephine and Jackson counties. "We will come with about 11 Guernseys and 23 Berkshires, and will need seven double stalls for cattle and 11 pens for the Berks. In addition to this we are going to ask your association for one free stall in each of the Guernsey and Berk sections for use as headquarters for our farm, where our men can sleep, and where we can arrange some chairs, a lounge, etc. "I wish you would get me a letter from your association granting us this concession. It is a pretty expensive trip for the premium paid, and if we get "trimmed" we shall need all the free stuff we can get. "Also, can we get some dairymen near there to bring us enough silage every day to feed our cattle stuff? If that can be arranged we shall not have to break them over onto beet pulp. Could you call someone up and get a price on this?"

CATHOLIC PRIEST KNOCKED DOWN BY RUNAWAY HORSE

Father Conaty was knocked down by a runaway horse this morning at 11:45 o'clock, while he was walking along the sidewalk near the Nelda cafe. He received some very severe bruises and was considerably shaken up as the result of the fall. He was taken to the office of Dr. E. A. Woods, where it was found that he had struck his head, shoulder and one knee in the fall, all being badly bruised. After having the wounds dressed and resting for a while, he was taken to his home in a car. It is thought he will be able to be about as usual in a few days. The horse was one of two saddle animals tied to a metal bicycle rack in front of the Eastern Supply company store. The spirited animals were bothered by flies, and one of them jerked its head and pulled the rack off the sidewalk, and before anyone could reach them, they were running down the street. They ran past the Ashland-Medford bus which was preparing to stop at the East Side pharmacy and were crowded towards the sidewalk. Here they ran into a car standing there, one horse going on each side of the machine. The horse on the street side broke loose from the rack and fell down when the bridle rein broke. The other horse ran by the car and onto the sidewalk, taking the bicycle rack with him. On account of cars parked along the walk, he was unable to get back to the street until after he had run down the priest. He kicked himself loose from the rack at this point and was caught by people close by. The horse received several scratches and two bad cuts, which a veterinary was called to attend.
