FROM WASHINGTON.

CHARGES AGAINST AN OFFICER.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Specific charges of drunkenness and cruelty have been filed with the Secretary of the Treasury against Captain Healy, of the revenue cutter "Bear." The acts specified in the charge are alleged to have been committed during a recent cruise of that vessel in Alaskan waters. The secretary has directed an investigation of the charges, and a board of revenue officers will be appointed for the purpose. It will necessarily be convened in San Francisco, as Captain Healy and the necessary witnesses are in that neighborhood.

Notable Dead.

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—Edmund W Corlies is dead. He was founder of the firm of John Caswell & Co., for years the leading house in this city in the China and Japan trade. Since dissolution of the firm, Corlies has carried on business on his own account. He was also president of the Bank of America and has been identified with many financial enterprises.

FOREIGN DISPATCHES.

A Massacre.

PARIS, Feb. 7.—A dispatch to "La France" from a special correspondent at Obeck, states that the Somalis, instigated by the English, attacked a French caravan en route to Harrar, and massacred all the people in the caravan.

WEST RELEASED ON BAIL.

CHICAGO, Feb. 8.—J. West, late editor of the Chicago Times, who was sentenced to seven years' imprisonment for watering the stock of the Times Company, was released this morning on an order of the supreme court admitting him to bail, pending the hearing of an appeal from the lower court.

DEATH OF CARDINAL PECCI.

ROME, Feb. 8.—Cardinal Pecci, brother of the Pope, is dead. He was a native of Italy and nominated to be cardinal in 1879. He was born in 1801.

A ROMANCE OF SOCIAL CASTE.

STUTTGART, Germany, Feb. 8.—Lieutenant Andreas, whose family occupy a high social position, fell in love with a pretty seamstress named Klein. They found that the iron rules of social caste would not sanction a marriage between a couple of such unequal social standing, and resolved to be united in death, if they could not be in life. They retired to a room together and drank soup poisoned with phosphorus. They were dead when found.

The Gypsy moth is beginning to cause Massachusetts farmers considerable uneasiness. Just now the pests are confined to the neighborhood of Medford. An entomologist at Amherst College says the newcomer may travel all over the country and cause more havoc than the Colorado beetle. According to the New York World dispatch, "the moth was introduced into Massachusetts twenty years ago by a doctor, who saw the eggs at the Paris Exposition and put a few in his vest pocket. One day the little bunch of eggs was blown out of his window in Medford and never heard from until last fall, when millions of the gypsy moths attacked shade and fruit trees and shrubbery, leaving nothing save twigs and stalks behind."

Mr. W. H. Baldrige, druggist, Escondido, California, says: "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best selling medicine I handle. In fact I sell more of it than all other cough medicines combined. Everyone who has used it speaks in glowing terms of its efficiency." For sale by Chitwood Bros.
