

BOOST FOR ECHO'S NEW HIGH SCHOOL

Principal Ottimer A. Cannon Gives a List of the Courses.

BRIEF RESUME OF SCHOOL WORK

Echo Now Has One of the -Best High Schools in Eastern Oregon, Offering
Special Advantages to Students.

Echo has always ranked among the foremost in the matter of her schools and school facilities. With a fine set of school-boys and school-girls, with a Board who are not afraid to do things and with parents who by their encouragement and backing give their needful aid—one of the greatest essentials for a successful school year—with a corps of enthusiastic, painstaking and conscientious teachers, it is no wonder that we have one of the very best schools in Umatilla County; no wonder our school has a reputation for doing things.

This year will mark a new epoch in the history of our school. On account of the new building not being ready for occupancy, the work of the High School Department will of necessity have to be correlated with the work of the grades, but the High School plan per the State Course of Study will be carried to the letter. Studies which are the most practical will be given the preference and all the supplementary work will be along practical lines. Care will also be taken to choose subjects from the course which will be best suited to the individual needs of the boys and girls of Echo, who have come up through the grades under careful observance of thoughtful teachers. The following is the plan of work for the High Schools of Oregon, who maintain a four-year high school course:

nong and Kittredge Virgil, Allen and Greenough Cicero, Heath's List of German Authors.

It might be well for pupils of the High School department to cut this list out and bring it with them to be checked for books needed by them.

High school building and high school organizations are not made in a minute. The building of the edifice takes a brief time, the building up of a good high school takes a longer period, but with proper encouragement and hearty co-operation we will soon have both, and a high school of which we can feel justly proud.

Boost, don't knock. Knockers are in the hopeless minority and very lonesome in the up-to-date little city of Echo.

Any information to either pupil or patron will be gladly furnished or any questions concerning the High School work will be gladly answered.

Prin. Echo High School.

RETURNS TO ECHO.

Wm. Hoggard, ex-city marshal and water superintendent, of this city, came down from Walla Walla where he has been running an engine in the big harvest. Wm. says Echo looks good to him. Mr. Hoggard says he went to Spokane and registered for a homestead in the Coeur d'Alene reservation but they failed to find his name when they were drawing.

HE GETS HIS--SOMETIMES.

People in Oregon have a way of letting the politicians scheme and figure and combine and then some fine morning—generally a day or two after some voting has been done—these birds of prey waken to find their wings clipped and some times a twist put in their necks that requires months of anxious rubbing before recovery. The average Oregon voter is a humor-loving, quiet-moving, grim-acting cuss, and he does not go around for months before election telling what he is going to do; but, oh, my! when the returns come in how some of the wires and cogs of the machine do wrinkle and crack!

F. M. Scribner and J. W. Meador, blacksmithing and horseshoeing a specialty. Satisfaction guaranteed. Corner Bonanza and Buckley streets.

TO THOSE WHO DO NOT HELP

We desire to give notice to all whom it may concern that in publishing the Register in Echo we are giving full value for all received—and then some. It is true that we are not able to give as good a paper as some larger cities can boast of, but without saying anything that would look like throwing bunches of posies at ourselves we can aver that the Register is further ahead of Echo than some of the kickers and knockers of this sheet seem to imagine. No newspaper in a town is a public charity; no publisher of a paper that stands up for the town and advertises its advantages and resources can be considered in any way as a burden or an affliction on the community. If you want to knock a town down in the estimation of property buyers and home seekers, just drive newspapers out of it. There are property owners in this vicinity who hold their land at big figures who would see several figures knocked off their estimated fortunes should the Register fold up its wings and things and depart this life through inability to make ends meet at least once in a while. The Register is not worth as much as some farms have increased in value since it was first published. Its publishers are not as well off as if they had cultivated ten acres of irrigated land instead of telling about the opportunities to do so. For every line of advertisement, for every job of printing done, the Register gives full value, directly or indirectly—generally both—and many times the measure is pressed down and running over. When you feel mean, get up with a bitter taste in your mouth and have a grouch at mankind, don't cuss the editor. The printer has troubles like other men, and a few others thrown in to make up for any possible omissions of Fate.

Best Treatment for a Burn.

If for no other reason, Chamberlain's Salve should be kept in every household on account of its great value in the treatment of burns. This salve is also unequalled for chapped hands, sore nipples and diseases of the skin. Price, 25 cents. For sale by Dorn & Dorn, druggists.

THE HOT WAVE.

"Hot today!"

Suppose you have heard that stale, stereotyped, aggravating, phrase a few dozen times this week, and it only served to intensify the heat. But truly it has been warm, very warm, genuine "nigger weather" and the desired temperature that makes the ice man smile.

The hottest weather of the season has been with us for two weeks and there are prospects for still more.

The wave extends over the whole Pacific Coast and over the East. At Portland no such September weather has been experienced in thirty years and only once before has it been any hotter in the history of the city. It is not likely that a change will come before the middle of the month, according to the Portland weather forecaster.

A Sprained Ankle.

As usually treated a sprained ankle will disable the injured person for a month or more, but by applying Chamberlain's Liniment and observing the directions with each bottle faithfully, a cure may, in most cases, be effected in less than one week's time. This liniment is a most remarkable preparation; try it for a sprain or a bruise, or when laid up with chronic or muscular rheumatism, and you are certain to be delighted with the prompt relief which it affords. For sale by Dorn & Dorn.
