STATE ASSEMBLY MEETS AT SALEM

BOWENMAN IS ELECTED PRESIDENT OF SENATE—McARTHUR SPEAKER OF HOUSE.

Governor's Biennial Message Read To Senate and House in Joint Session Tuesday.

Salem—Oregon's 25th legislature organized Monday according to the programme arranged in Portland last week. Temporary and permanent organizations were effected without unusual incident.

There was no opposition to Senator Jay Bowerman, of Gilliam, Sherman and Wheeler, for permanent president of the senate. W. H. Barry of Multnomah won out over S. L. Moorhead of Lane for permanent chief clerk.

C. N. McArthur's election as speaker of the house was made unanimous. The name of the caucus nominee was presented to the house by Campbell, chairman of the caucus.

Immediately after the machinery of the two houses was safely lodged in Republican hands, the election of the United States senatorship, which had been a suppressed subject up to that time, became a live question among Republicans, although no evidence of it was revealed in the official transactions of either body.

Will Oppose Chamberlain.

While it is too early yet to forecast what action will be taken in the Republican legislature against Chamberlain, it is easy to see that the governor will not win without a fight.

A move against the governor will be that of compelling him to resign the governorship should he be elected senator. Republicans regard the governorship as highly important in the event that Chamberlain should be elected owing to the unfortunate situation as to Secretary of State Benson, whose bad health is a general subject of discussion in the capitol.

In the event of his death before Chamberlain should cease to be governor, Chamberlain would appoint Benson's successor as secretary of state. This successor, after Chamberlain became senator, would not only be secretary of state, but acting governor and control all the patronage of the combined board of governor, secretary of state and state treasurer.

Presidential Elector R. R. Butler, of Gilliam county, was chosen to carry the state Presidential vote to Washington, D. C. His mileage will amount to nearly $900.

Governor Chamberlain's biennial message to the legislature was read in the house chamber at 1:30 p. m. Tuesday, the senate and house being in joint session.

Proposed Legislation Recommended by the Governor.

Strict observance of the direct primary pledge in the election of a United States Senator.

Uniformity of county taxation to make the state levy equitable.

Use of convicts on roads, earnings to go to their families' support or to the state.

More money for state fair premiums.

DEATH OF OREGON PIONEER WOMAN

MRS. MARY WOOD, WHO CROSSED THE PLAINS IN 1859, PASSES AWAY.

Mary E. Wood, whose maiden name was Mary E. Francis, was born in Pittsylvania county, Virginia, April 11, 1827, and died at Lostine, Oregon, on January 13, 1909.

Early in life she removed with her parents to Missouri, and on June 26, 1852, was united in marriage to George W. Boatman. By the death of her husband in 1855, she was left a widow with two small children—John B. and Marshall K. Boatman, and in 1859 in company with her two small sons and her brother, S. K. Francis, she crossed the plains and mountains by the ox-team route, riding most of the way on horseback and assisting in driving the stock which they brought with them, and settled in Alsea valley in what is now Benton county, Oregon, November 13, 1859, she was married to William H. Wood, who survives her at the age of 85 years. To this union one son was born, George D. Wood, residing at Lostine, Oregon. Accompanied by her husband and her two sons she came to Wallowa county in the month of October, 1881, locating near the town of Lostine, where the remainder of her life was spent.

The deceased in early womanhood became a Christian and united with the Baptist church and from that day lived a devoted christian and a consistent member of the church, displaying those qualities of womanly christian character which caused her to be honored and loved by all her neighbors and acquaintances.

The deceased is survived by her husband, William H. Wood, of Lostine, her brothers, S. K. Francis, of Enterprise, and John Francis of Missouri; her sister, Louise Pace, of Prairie Creek; and her two sons, Marshall K. Boatman of Enterprise, and George D. Wood of Lostine.

MAXINE ELLIOTT AND HER NEW THEATER.

Maxine Elliott, besides being rated as one of the most beautiful women on the stage, is the only actress in the world who has her own theater. The new Maxine Elliott theater in West Thirty-ninth street, New York, was planned by Miss Elliott and built under her direction. She invested a fortune in it and owns it in copartnership with the Shuberts. The playhouse has many entirely new features. It is probably the costliest theater of its size in the world.

land whose rivers it haunts, there is another chinook in this Northwest we think more of than the royal fish.

The genial southwest wind, warmed by the Japan current, fresh and balmy from wandering over tropic seas, the Loyal Chinook, arrived in Wallowa county Thursday, a day or two overtime, but here at last, and presto, in 24 hours the great mantle of snow, one to two feet deep, disappeared as by magic.

The day before the temperature was below zero, and stockmen were hurrying to and fro buying feed for their cattle and sheep on the winter range. The day after, outdoor work is a pleasure, and the cattle and sheep are feeding on the rich green grass of a thousand hillsides along the Imnaha, Snake, Joseph and their countless tributaries.

STOCK SHIPMENTS.

J. W. Emmons of Day Ridge brought out 20 fine shots Friday and sold them to Dishman & Day. S. B. Warnock and H. W. Dorse helped Emmons bring the hogs to market in wagons.

Dishman & Day shipped two carloads of hogs from Enterprise Saturday, and Hotchkiss two Friday. The latter shipped three of hogs from Joseph Friday, and Harry Dowd shipped two cars of cattle Saturday.

JOSEPH

Joseph, Jan. 15.—At the last meeting of council R. I. Long, representing a company presumably composed of local capital, made inquiry in regard to a light franchise. He was told to bring in his franchise at the next meeting, and all others who want an electric light franchise have the same invitation. If a franchise is granted by council it will be submitted to the voters for approval at the April election.
