BIG RANCH DEALS MADE THIS WEEK

RAGSDALE SELLS 1700 ACRES—MALEY PLACE SOLD—ANOTHER GOOD BUY.

C. P. Ragdale has sold during the past week over 1700 acres of his Trout Creek ranch to outside parties at $15 an acre. The deals were made through the Enterprise Real Estate company.

J. A. Badesley of Athena, Ore., bought 700 acres at the lower end of the ranch including what was formerly known as the Sprague and Goodman homesteads. It consists of a large proportion of good wheat land. Mr. Badesley, who recently sold a section of land near Athena at $100 an acre, is coming to make his home here and has already given orders to rent a house in town until he completes improvements on the ranch.

About 820 acres of the Ragdale ranch were bought Friday by John C. Glass of Spokane and A. B. Shaw of Seattle. The new owners will move here and live on their places.

This purchase includes the sheep and lambing corrals and the main ranch house, barns, etc.

Mr. Ragdale still owns over 700 acres mainly east of Trout Creek. He bought the ranch in the fall of 1907 of Sam Litch, paying $10 an acre.

Another Big Deal.

S. D. Keltner and C. S. Bradley of this city have bought the well known Silas Maley homestead on Prairie Creek for $3000. This is a fine place, under the ditch, and has been eagerly sought by local investors for some time. Mr. Maley was one of the earliest settlers here but of late years he has resided at Newport. He came back a few days ago to attend to his holdings preparatory to going to Honolulu.

This ranch sale is considered an extremely good buy. The deal was made thru W. E. Taggart, the pioneer real estate dealer.

Timothy and Timber Ranch.

J. A. Burreigh and Daniel Boyd have bought the I. Harvey timothy and timber ranch 12 miles north of this city for $2000. It is a fine place and good judges say it went at a very low price.

Five More Alder View Lots Sold

Great Activity in City Property—Emmons Buys Keltner Corner—Other Sales.

Daniel Boyd has sold five lots in Alder View recently, that favorite residence section of the city getting its share and more too of the veritable boom in city lot sales.

Glen E. Odle bought one of the lots and will begin the erection of nice cottage home at once. The other purchasers were C. S. Haney, Mary F. Rankin of Salem, I. Harvey of Eagle Point and Joe Allen.

Mr. Boyd is a hearty believer in newspaper advertising and attributes many of his recent sales to his ads in this paper.

PASS DRASTIC NEAR BEER ORDINANCE

COUNCIL FIXES HEAVY PENALTY—GOVERNMENT LICENSE SUFFICIENT PROOF.

A drastic anti-intoxicating beverage ordinance was passed by the council at its meeting Monday night, March 21, that is expected to close up the near beer places, of which two have been running in this city without payment of city license. The possession of a government license is stated to be sufficient evidence to declare the place a nuisance. The ordinance is published elsewhere in this paper. Councilmen Birkford, Combes, Funk and Hockett voted yes; Councilman Graves was absent.

The marshal was also instructed to strictly enforce the ordinance closing the pool rooms at 10 o'clock on week nights and all day Sundays.

After some discussion the council decided to keep the city water ditch in its own hands, and it will be cleaned out and placed in repair. This will be good news to owners of gardens and shade trees.

It was voted to vacate Main street from the southeast corner of S. E. Combes' property in an angle to 20 feet from the southwest corner of the same property. No notice of intended vacation has been published or ordinance passed.

The sidewalks washed out by the recent flood on Depot street were ordered replaced. Pipe and connections for tapping mains were ordered, also 1200 feet of 6-inch pipe. The committee on securing a new council room reported "progress." Following are the

WALLOWA COUNTY STEERS TOP PRICE

COMBES & HOTCHKISS GET HIGHEST MARKET EVER KNOWN AT PORTLAND YARDS.

Again Wallowa county stock has broken the record for price on the Portland market. A carload (26) of steers shipped from this city Saturday, by Combes & Hotchkiss, sold Tuesday at $6.75 per hundred. The steers averaged 1213 pounds, so the average price of them was $81.88 each. How's that for high?

This is 15 cents a hundred pounds ahead of anything heretofore offered at the Union stockyards of Portland. The preceding day two carloads sold at $6.60, which was 10 cents higher than ever before.

Cows are selling at $5.50, the highest price ever reached on Portland market.

Hogs continue to soar as if they had wings, the top being $11.75. Bacon, the standard poor man's food since the Lewis & Clarke expedition, is now out of the reach of everybody except Wallowa county residents, who sell the hogs, cattle, sheep or wool that everybody else must pay the big prices for.

Demonstration Train Greeted By 1500

Large Crowd Gets Benefit of Lectures By Experts—Much Practical Information Given.

A burst of cheers greeted the demonstration train when it pulled into the Enterprise station Thursday, and the Oregon Agricultural college fell was enthusiastically given by a host of students who were, students who are, and students-to-be. It is estimated that 1500 people, among whom were many prominent farmers and stockmen, viewed the exhibits, and the O. R. and N. and college officials in charge were much pleased by the large attendance and great interest shown here.

There were all kinds of interesting practical things, for the gardener, the dairyman, the poultryman, the farmer and the stockman.

A. A. Morse, special representative of the O. R. & N., presided and introduced the speakers: Dr. W. H. Combs, Prof. H. B. Scudder, who spoke of soils and tillage; Prof. F. L. Kent, on dairying; and D. C. Livesay, of the Portland Union stockyards, on live stock. A valuable information was given in short speeches, the first of which shown, the cow milk, and pamphlets were distributed.
