Good Track Team For W. C. H. S.

Track Day Meet Will Take Place
May 7 at Enterprise—High School Notes.

The La Grande High school baseball team will cross' bats with the boys from the W. C. H. S. Friday and Saturday of this week. The Friday game will be called at 3:30, the La Grande team going to the field immediately upon their arrival. The W. C. H. S. will line up as follows: Ronald Wagner, first base; Asa Craig, center field; Irvine French, short stop; Fay Vesk, left fielder; Byrd Auk second base; Claude Emmons, third base; Joe Bauer, right fielder; Park Wilson, catcher; Loyd Cramer, pitcher.

This is the same team that last Saturday defeated the Lostine picked nine by the score of 6 to 1. The boys have trained faithfully and deserve to win.

Prof. Sweetser, of the State University, who lectures Wednesday for the benefit of the students, parents of the students, and all of the citizens of this neighborhood, is an ardent devotee of the microscope. Some of his research along this line are of national repute. He is the author of Oregon Flora and is a botanist of rare ability. He comes to us for one night only with his illustrated lecture.

The boys of the track team squad have been indulging in some cross country runs for the sake of securing "wind". French, Auk, Jackson, Craig and Hill have already increased their chest expansion by some 4 or 5 inches. The Track Day meet of the schools of Wallowa county will be held at this place May 7. All of the four towns are training for the events and ward tales are waiving from the various schools relative to the prowess of the respective contestants.

The three seniors of the Class of 1918 are entering the home stretch in the work of their careers. Last year the graduating class contained three boys, this year it is composed of three girls who are already adopting the slogan "It is the year of women and eclipse."

Every parent should see that each pupil is in attendance every day of the closing weeks of school. Often he able to promotion rests upon the work done during the last few weeks, so that scholars that are the least uncertain of their standing are frequently bringing up their average by the grades of the last month. Quite a number of the pupils will be exempt from all examinations, since their averages are over the required mark; most of the students will have the doubtful pleasure of taking one or more of the finals during the closing week of school.

The literary of next Friday night will be the closing one of the school year; everyone is invited to be present and listen to the program that will be rendered.

Class Day will be observed by the seniors May 9, with a unique program. Rumor has it that the Class of '18 will perform some great stunts.

The parents and many friends of the school who have so far failed to "take us this year" will have to "scurry" as the school year is very near its close. If you are pleased with the work of your boys and girls, why not place the stamp of your approval upon their efforts by a visit to the class rooms? Teachers and pupils alike will be glad to welcome you.

J. D. Huston Buys Car of Fine Horses

Shipped To Seattle for the O. H.
Holcomb Company of That City.

Mr. J. D. Huston of Seattle, in the employ of the well known horse dealer, the O. H. Holcomb company of Seattle, Wash., purchased and shipped Wednesday to that point a carload of excellent horses. All the animals were purchased of owners in and around Enterprise, and the entire lot of twenty present a fine picture—hot a scrub being among the shipment.

The firm of O. H. Holcomb of Seattle is known throughout Oregon and the coast. Mr. Huston is a genial representative of the firm whose judgment of "horseflesh" is proved in his recent purchases here.

As a stock country, including well bred draft horses among other stock raised in the section, Wallowa county has a wide reputation. It supplements this reputation by raising some of the finest timothy forage or the stock production, in the state or in the entire country. The farmers of Wallowa county have in recent years learned from experience that timothy can be so successfully grown, with a little care, that the purchase of any outside feed is eliminated. Moreover there is a big market waiting both for the forage and the stock.

WALLOWA LIVE STOCK PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION

The Wallowa Live Stock Protective association will hold its annual meeting on the first day of Circuit Court, Monday, May 6, at 1 o'clock p. m., at Enterprise, Oregon, to transact such business as may properly come before the meeting.

The membership fee of the association is $1 per year, and the dues are 25 cents per quarter, payable every three months in advance.

In making the assessments to pay the rewards which are offered by the association each member shall be assessed in the proportion which the value of his protected property of live stock bears to the value of the protected live stock of the whole association, such values to be taken from the records of the last assessment of the county assessor. The association offers a standing reward of $500.00 to any person or persons who shall arrest or cause to be arrested and secure the conviction of any one stealing any of the protected live stock belonging to any member of the association.

HORSE SHOW DAY GALA EVENT HERE

BIG CROWD OF PEOPLE FROM ALL OVER THE COUNTY AND ELSEWHERE PRESENT.

Horse show day in Enterprise. The people came, the band played, the horses pranced, the hotels and every stables were filled to overflowing, the baseball fans cheered, and everybody experienced a whole unbroken day of continuous pleasure, instruction, and entertainment.

The crowd was made up not alone of Wallowa county people, but from neighbors as far away as Pendleton, from the north, east, south and west of us, and everybody was happy. Perhaps the horses placed on exhibition proved the leading feature.

They were the picked stock of this season. Seemingly to catch the spirit of the occasion, they pranced like royal products of Oregon should, and arched their necks and departed themselves generally in a most approved way. And they left a lasting impression of their beauty and value upon the big assemblage which viewed them.

The showing made by this exhibition of Wallowa county's live stock is a splendid prediction for the annual fair to be held here in the fall. As the county is settled and its production increases in amount and variety, the fair will necessarily become annual, and the county will be fully advertised to visiting persons and to prospective settlers.

SEES MANY WALLOWANS IN SUNNY CALIFORNIA

Miss Victoria Haas, who has been at Woodland, Cal., for several months, is now at San Jose attending the Rose Festival. In a letter to Mrs. W. W. White of this city she tells of meeting a number of former Enterprise people, among them Mrs. Imbler and daughter Miss Jessele, and Mrs. Cobb and daughter Mattie formerly of Alder. Here she also met Mrs. Keltner, mother of S. D. Keltner of this city. Miss Haas is a guest at San Jose of Miss Cora Vaughan, at one time a popular teacher of this city, and a sister of Harry Vaughan of The Buttes.

Miss Haas also visited the Wallowa colony at Turlock, where she was a guest of Mrs. James McAlister. At a St. Patrick's luncheon she met Mrs. Al King and son John, formerly of Alder; Mr. Hagner and son, Ben Roswell, Mrs. George Paul, Mr. and Mrs. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. George O'Brien and Rev. and Mrs. Blair, formerly of the Presbyterian church of this city.

DEATH RECORD.

Landlord Perry Blanchard of the Hotel Enterprise, received word last week of the death of his father, William Blanchard, at his home in Rockland, Idaho. Mr. and Mrs. Blanchard visited their son in this city just seven weeks ago. Mr. Blanchard had been an invalid for many years and almost helpless the past seven years. He was aged 82 years and 9 months. He leaves a widow, six sons and four daughters. Mr. and Mrs. Blanchard resided at Imbler for four years where they have a son and daughter living. Funeral services were held at Rockland at 2 o'clock p. m. Friday.

Movement in Local Realty Continues

Old Gould Homestead Changes Ownership in What is Called Bargain Sale.

The 160 acre homestead, known as the old Gould homestead, near Chico, was sold to Miner Stump by Calvin Smith for a consideration of $1750. The price paid, the value of the homestead taken into consideration, makes the deal what is considered a bargain. There are sixty acres in cultivation. One hundred acres contain an estimated 1,000,000 feet of lumber—a market value presenting the real bargain phase of the deal forcibly.

There are fair improvements on the place and a big spring of clear, cold, pure Oregon water that, from the viewpoint of healthfulness, is worth more than its weight in gold.

Asking Too Much.

The mother of little six-year-old Mary had told her a number of times not to hitch her sled to passing sleighs, feeling that it was a dangerous practice. It was such a fascinating sport, however, that Mary could not resist it, and one day her mother saw her go skimming past the house behind a farmer's bob.

When she came in from play she was taken to task, her mother saying severely: "Mary, haven't I told you that you must not hitch on to bobs? Besides, it is against the law." Mary tossed her head. "Oh," she said, "don't talk to me about the law. It's all I can do to keep the Ten Commandments!"—Woman's Home Companion.

Osteopathic Victory

American Medical Association Journal Discusses Relation of Posture to Efficiency According to Osteopathic Idea.

It is Goldthwaite's belief that the way in which our bodies are used, or the attitudes assumed in the performance of all that goes to make up the routine of life, is of greater importance than is commonly supposed. To stand erect, to walk or move easily, to have the various parts of the body so perfectly adjusted that easy balance and graceful use must result, is to be desired for reasons of far greater importance than the esthetic. Such elements are of absolute importance for perfect health and the fullest economic efficiency, since use of the body in proper poise insures the least friction with consequently the greatest amount of energy available for whatever may be required by the individual. This is of importance not only because of the framework of the body, but because of the effect which it must have on the body as a whole. The human organism resembles in many ways a delicately balanced machine made up of many parts, each related to the others, and that which we call perfect health is simply the proper correlation of all these many parts. As a machine, it is intended for use, and when working rightly there is the minimum of friction, and consequently the efficiency of the individual is the greatest that is possible. Anything which results in a departure from this correlation or balance means strain or friction and represents a distinct waste of energy so that the efficiency is lessened. Under such conditions some one part may be, and usually is, strained more than the others, but it must be remembered, nevertheless, that no one part can be strained without affecting the whole. —Journal A.
