 It protects horses and cattle from attacks of insects, enabling them to feed and sleep in peace. It prevents loss of weight and strength from worry caused by attacks of insects, and from the irritation of their bites and stings. There is a satisfaction in the relief it affords domestic animals from the annoyance of maddening parasites and flies, besides the profit in return. Horses do more work on less feed and cows yield more and better milk when relieved from the frenzy induced by constantly fighting a swarm of voracious, insatiable insects.
