Home-Made Saratoga Chips

"Home-made Saratoga Chips are much more of a rarity than they should be," says Fannie Merritt Farmer in the August WOMAN'S HOME COMPANION. "If one owns a potato slicer, which is not an expensive utensil, they are not difficult to prepare. They are always an acceptable accompaniment to fried fish, but perhaps are never more happily in evidence than when served as one of the accessories of a picnic luncheon. Wash and pare medium-sized potatoes. Slice thin, using a vegetable slicer for that purpose, into a bowl of cold water, and let stand one and one half hours, changing the water twice. Drain, plunge into a kettle of boiling water, and boil one minute. Drain again, cover with cold water, and let stand five minutes. Take from the water and dry between towels. Fry in deep fat until delicately browned, keeping in motion with a skimmer, throughout the cooking. Remove with a skimmer to a pan lined with brown paper (which will absorb the superfluous fat) and sprinkle with salt. Always drain fried potatoes on brown paper, for fried food if properly cooked and properly drained seldom absorbs enough fat to be indigestible to adults.

Mining Activities

The rich mineral belt lying to the south and west of Lostine is attracting considerable attention and several camps are now working. A company in Seattle has men at work while several residents are developing properties located last spring.
 The ore taken out predominates greatly in copper but carries enough gold and silver to pay for operating. Several owners are showing some excellent cuprite and bornite copper from ledges varying from a foot to several feet in width.
 The general course of the ore veins is northeast southwest while ore shoots can be found coming into these main veins at very regular intervals. The formation is granite, slate and porphyry. The copper has a gossan capping which varies in depth but invariably shows copper when depth has been obtained.
 One company in Lostine has a group of claims on which they are negotiating for a working bond to be given on a basis of $5000 per claim, a crew of men to be kept at work continuously for 18 months. With such operations it will be but a short time before it will be fully determined just to what extent the mineral deposits exist in that locality. Lostine bids fair to become a mining center if a few paying properties are developed. It is an easy matter to bring ore down the south fork of the Wallowa. The time may come however, when the output of the mines may be taken across the divide to Enterprise or Joseph. It depends on other conditions than those at present being altered.
 A good quality of copper is found above Joseph and should sufficient capital be invested it would make Enterprise the center between Lostine and Joseph with the mines equally distant. Enterprise is so located that every resource in Wallowa county is within reach of it.

Engine Overtuned

Edgar Marvin of Wallowa had to leave his place of business recently to remedy an accident which befell his threshing engine and outfit. We are informed that the engineer employed by Mr. Marvin succeeded in getting too much fire water and ran his outfit over a grade almost demolishing the engine. However, Mr. Marvin appeared on the scene and threshing is going on as if nothing had happened. Engineers who use fire water to excess are the cause of many accidents, loss of life, and wrecks both with traction engines and those of other types.

County Fair To Be Held Oct. 9, 10, 11

Those interested in the Fair for Wallowa county are pushing the project as rapidly as possible and much is being accomplished looking to a successful exhibit. And now that the date has been set—October 9, 10, 11—and the committees appointed to have the work in charge, the Wallowa County Fair will be carried through to a glorious sending.
 Now let every one line up and boost for the Fair and aid the committee with the work in every way possible. A collection of products can be gathered together in this county this fall that will surprise even ourselves if the proper amount of energy is expended and if the Fair is widely advertised many strangers and people from a distance will be induced to come and see for themselves the wonderful resources of this wonderful county. The stock exhibit can likewise be made one that cannot be excelled by any county in the state and it is hoped that all will manifest an interest by entering their stock, not alone for the prizes offered but for the advertisement it will be for our county.

Further Improvement of Condition on Western Ranges.

Washington, September 11.—Further evidence of the government's concern over the improvement of range conditions in the National Forests is shown in the announcement just made that stock owners will be furnished free of charge supplies of vaccine for the treatment of stock afflicted with black leg, tuberculosis and other animal diseases. This arrangement has been made by the Forest Service with Dr. A. D. Melvin, chief of the Bureau of Animal Industry.
 Stockmen holding permits for grazing in the National Forests will now be furnished with an affective means of combatting without cost all of the most dangerous diseases to which stock is subject. The vaccine can be obtained simply by applying to the supervisor of the Forest upon which the stock is grazed who will at one forward the approved request to the Bureau of Animal Industry where it will be filled. Full directions will be furnished for its use.
 The Forest Service and the Bureau of Animal Industry are working hard in an endeavor to eradicate or diminish the common forms of stock disease found on the western ranges and their efforts are meeting much success. It is anticipated that a large number of stockmen will avail themselves of this latest offer of assistance as a result the loss of stock will be greatly reduced and range conditions improved.
