Rev. Batchelder Takes Leave

Rev. F. W. Batchelder, who had charge of the Methodist church work in this city but was compelled to resign from the ministry on account of ill health, took his departure last Friday for Spokane. Rev. Batchelder is one of those earnest, conscientious young men who make their presence felt and those with whom he associates the better for the fellowship, and it is the earnest wish of his many friends in this county that he may soon regain his wonted health and again take up the work of the church, in which work he seems to have received more talent than the average allotment.

An Untaught Cow

Down on a southern plantation the dairy hands were accustomed to do the milking squatting down in a primitive fashion, until the owner introduced milking stools with other improvements. But the initial experiment with the innovation was not exactly a success. The dorky who first sallied forth with the stool returned bruised and battered and with an empty pail. "I done my best, sah," he explained. "Dat stool looked all right to me, but de blamed cow she won't sit on it!"—Woman's Home Companion for October.

Railroad Down Snake River

One has only to go and take a look at the start on the new road down Snake river to know that there will be no more through traffic along the Blue mountain route when the Snake river route is completed, says the Union Scout. They are beginning the road with the heaviest steel and when it is completed the O. R. & N. can make time with the best of them. The two big pulls from Snake river to the summit and then again to Kamela are a great handicap these days when all the roads are bent on making time. The O. R. & N. is not going to put up with this handicap a day longer than is necessary and it will not be surprising if within two years there will be nothing through here but local traffic.
