Traveler's Notes In North Country

The main highway leading to the North country has been traveled more than ever before this fall, as nearly the entire wheat crop of the fertile Paradise farms has been brought to mills in the valley, principally to the E. M. & M. Co's. Enterprise mill.

The well known Sled Springs hotel, owned by the popular S. B. Connor, is now conducted by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Norton, who have leased it from Mr. Connor. While at the hotel the other day, a representative of the News Record met Isaac Bingaman of Imbler, who was on his way in to his ranch. He is going to paint the buildings on his place if bad weather doesn't prevent.

Miss M. R. Applegate, postmistress at Appleton, is going to try for a prize in the great $405 contest, and will gladly forward subscriptions to the News Record.

The Straley Hotel at Paradise is a very comfortable place for travelers. Mr. and Mrs. Straley make every stranger feel at home. Mr. Straley is having a new barn built to replace the big one burned the night of October 14. The lumber for the barn is manufactured in the mill at Paradise. T. D. Coblentz of Flora who teaches the Deer Creek school, boards at the Straley.

Mr. Boone, a former Missourian but who has been residing at Anetone, Wash., for the last five years, is talking of going into the milling business at Flora. Mr. Boone is Mrs. Nova Straley's father.

A spelling school was held at Flora Friday night and a literary society organized that will meet every Friday night. A big crowd was in attendance and the new society will no doubt prove of great benefit. Mr. Davis was elected president, and Miss Prudence Eddlemon secretary.

Mrs. E. P. Skaggs is editing a splendid local paper at Flora and the paper is flourishing as it richly deserves to.

Miss Lillie Yager of Arko district, Miss Myrtle Thomas of Flora, Miss Bessie Friddles of Grouse, Mrs. Lucy Duley of Flora and Miss Lelah Cole of Flora are among those proposed by friends for the great $405 prize contest, and with such popular candidates it will be strange indeed if one or more of the fine prizes for district No. 3 does not come to the north country.

Mrs. N. A. Austin, landlady of the Farmers House, knows the secret of making the weary wayfarer feel at home. It is a real pleasure to stay at a hotel like one kept by Mrs. Austin.

E. D. Southwick has been driving the Wallowa-Paradise mail route for his son who has been ill of smallpox, but the latter will resume the reins this week. The horse that was so badly burned in the Straley barn fire is slowly recovering and Mr. Southwick thinks it will, in time, be able to bear the harness. E. D. Southwick is going to try for a prize in the great contest, and will also send news to the News Record from the Fairview district.

TROY NEWS

Troy, Nov. 15—I notice in your issue of Oct. 31, someone wants to know where to find the scripture where Christ and his apostles sprinkled infants. I hardly think he can find it, for the reason the sprinkling or baptism of infants is contrary to God's plan of salvation, for we are taught that first we must consecrate ourselves to God, then in symbol of the death of our self-will we are baptized in Christ. So you see an infant could not have the understanding of consecration or of laying down the selfwill, and consequently Christ would not do anything that was contrary to the Father's plan.

It is likely that Matthew 19:13, Mark 10:13, Luke 18:15, are the texts wanted.

Forester McKinsey and Inspector Foster of the forest reserve are in this locality inspecting land for the proposed settlers.

The county court gave us an appropriation on the hill between Troy and Flora that was much needed. Harry Brown was appointed road boss and he is doing some good work, though we should have $500 more for the making of a good road.

The Edenites are getting anxious about the bridge across Salmon river. Just whisper to Lathrope Bros. that the Salmon has been known to get muddy and swell up about this time of the year. You can tell them also that the trout are ripe now for your humble servant was out this morning and picked a dozen.

ALDER SLOPE.

F. B. Miller and family were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Ellis, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Scribner of Joseph and Mr. Scribner's father from Cherokee, Iowa, and Mr. and Mrs. L. Knapper from Prairie Creek, were visiting at A. Wade's Sunday.

There will be a basket social in the Alder church, Nov. 29. Everybody invited to come and enjoy a good time.

Miss Stella Hooper of Joseph was a visitor at the Alder Sunday school, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Carter and daughter Edith were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Litch, Sunday.

The people of Alder are at work building a new fence around the cemetery.

William McCormack is building a new barn on his residence on Alder Slope.

Indications of Coal.

While digging a well on his Trout Creek farm four miles north of Enterprise, Joe Allen struck indications of coal at a depth of 40 feet. Strata of brown and black rock of a soapstone nature were passed through, that are said to usually overlay veins of coal.

Council Orders New Arc Light.

At a called meeting of the city council Friday evening an arc light was ordered placed at the corner of North and Forsythe streets. This is the corner by C. W. Boatman's residence, and the light will be not only a great convenience to the people residing in that part of the city, but to travelers on the Lostine road as well.

The application of F. I. Vergere for permission for the E. M. & M. Co. to lay water pipes to his barn, was laid on the table. J. C. Shackleford was granted permission to excavate and build a rack to wash buggies on in front of his barn.

The following bills were allowed:

E. J. Forsythe, lights	$29 80
K. S. Pace, work	2 50
W. E. Taggart, October pay and rent	6 00
T. M. Dill, October pay	5 00
C. M. Lockwood, October pay	5 00
J. C. Reavis October pay St. Comr.	60 00
Arch Marcus, work on street	5 00
J. W. Kerns, nightwatch Oct. 31	3 50
Geo. Anderson, work with team	10 50

Mayor Boyd and Councilmen Reavis, Akins, Combes and Berland were present.

Struck Good Water Vein.

G. C. Schluer, who owns a fine ranch south of Enterprise, has had a 40 foot well driven on a small knoll near his residence and struck a fine vein of water. Although there is only 15 feet of water in the well, continuous pumping for hours does not lower the water level perceptibly, says the Joseph Herald. Mr. Schluer intends to build a storage tank next summer and install a gravity system of water works in his dwelling house, stables and feed yards.

Alphabetical.

The kindergarden children are struggling with the alphabet.

"Who can tell what comes after G?" asks the teacher. Silence reigns.

Again she questions, "Doesn't any one know what comes after G?"

Then Carlton raises his hand. "I do," he says. "Whiz. Gee whiz."—Woman's Home Companion for November.
