Notes From The Political Field

The direct primary law has one defect. There is no way of making a unanimous nomination by all parties. That seems to be the only thing that will keep Claude Boatman's name off both the white and blue primary ballots.

E. C. Berry is well pleased with his prospects for the Democratic nomination for sheriff. All up and down the valley he reports things coming his way, and while he doesn't underestimate his opponent, he is reaping the benefit of his own extensive acquaintanceship. Few if any men are better known in all parts of Wallowa county than is Mr. Berry.

Gene W. Hall, candidate for the Republican nomination for superintendent of schools, stands on the good platform that the office demands the entire time and attention of the incumbent and promises if nominated and elected to give it the whole of his best service. Mr. Hall is well fitted by education and experience as a teacher for the position and is adapted to the work. He is clean, vigorous and a worker, to whom visiting the most remote schools in all kinds of weather will be a pleasure as well as a duty. He says he will keep up the "Jack Kerns gait," and that's good enough for anybody.

W. C. Wilson is a one pledge candidate for the Democratic nomination for county treasurer. The one-pledge is to give the county a square deal as custodian of the county funds, being bound to no bank or set of individuals. Careful safeguarding of the county money and accurate accounts will be his sole care. Mr. Wilson is an old-time school teacher and for years was a farmer in the Paradise country. He removed to Enterprise this winter. Mr. Wilson is now finishing a term as county commissioner.

New announcements in this week's News Record are L. J. Davies of Union and J. W. Knowles of La Grande, both aspirants for the Republican nomination for circuit judge; B. F. Miller of Promise, candidate for the Democratic nomination for assessor.

B. F. Miller, a school teacher well and favorably known in many sections of Wallowa county, is making the race for assessor on the Democratic ticket. Mr. Miller, if elected, will be no novice in the position, as he served for four years as assessor back at his old home in West Virginia. He has been a resident of this county since 1897, his homestead being at Promise. Four years ago Mr. Miller, for party's sake, made the almost hopeless race for the legislature against Hon. J. H. Dobbin, and he spent his time and money in a conscientious canvass, greatly reducing the Republican majority.

Edgar Marvin was again greeting many friends in the countyseat, the first of the week. Mr. Marvin is making friends with every new acquaintance and every friend secured is clear gain, there are no losses. Mr. Marvin has been a resident of this county eight years. He is a partner in the Cash store at Wallowa, and while a quiet man he has a genial, sincere manner that everyone likes. He is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for sheriff, and if nominated and elected will be a thoroughly capable and reliable official.
