Brief News Items

The best farms for sale in Wallowa county are listed by the O. R. & I. Co.

Large, open-end envelopes—just the right size for mailing the county booklet—at News Record office.

J. W. Bickford, of the Wallowa Valley Cream company, delivered five separators last week and received three more Monday.

The Enterprise Printing company put up a big sign on the News Record office this week, that speaks well of their skill in that branch of their work.

J. D. Walck, the Joseph real estate man, was in town Wednesday in company with Mr. Cordel of Stone-Webster company, Seattle.

Geo. S. Craig left Thursday morning for Walla Walla to attend the recital by his daughter, Miss Joyce Craig, who will graduate next Monday from Whitman college conservatory of music.

Our new stock of dry goods, boots and shoes, hats and caps will be here next week. R. S. & Z.

This is the candidates' issue of the News Record, and we'll have to put in some extra licks in the way of news for several weeks to make up for its scarcity in this paper.

A letter containing a number of interesting Swamp Creeks items had to be left out this week, because the writer forgot to sign his or her name. The News Record does not publish news items unless it knows who sent them.

The stirring six act farcical comedy "Carl Yonson, Woodman" was rendered last Friday evening in L. O. O. F. hall by the local lodge of Modern Woodmen. The large hall was filled with a good natured audience who gave hearty applause almost continuously throughout the performance. While some of the actors were rather weak in voice, taking the show as a whole, it was certainly a side splitting one.—Joseph Herald.

At the Enterprise opera house Saturday night of this week under the auspices of Eagle Camp, M. W. A.

Strychnine and poisoned wheat at Burnaugh & Mayfield's. Does the trick for squirrels.

Dermine Cream, the best preparation for chapped hands and face, is sold by Burnaugh & Mayfield.

Ashley's so busy opening up car loads of new furniture this week he had no time for the ad man.

Irrigated farms and splendid hill wheat lands for sale at bargain by the O. R. & I. Co.

Miss Josie Matlock has been engaged as primary teacher at Wallowa. She is now teaching at Lostine.

Roger Kay, who was ill last week, is again waiting on customers in W. J. Hank & Co's.

Henry Young and niece have returned from Ohio where they spent the winter.

Varnish stains and brushes, and Lacquer—makes old furniture look like new—at Burnaugh & Mayfield's.

A union meeting will be held in the Methodist church next Sunday morning. Rev. H. B. Hudson, Oregon Field Secretary of the International Refinery Bureau, will deliver one of his popular and helpful lectures.

Old bedsprings restretched—made tighter than new—for $1. G. I. Ratcliff, the Home Furnisher, Enterprise.

Misses Jennie and Katherine Berland returned Wednesday from Corvallis where they have been students at the O. A. C.

The debate at the county high school literary society Friday was "Resolved: The County Seat Should Not Be Removed to Wallowa." A. A. Craig, Vance Thomas, Chester Riley, Leila Ault, Ivan Jackson and Ethel Weaver were the debaters. Three visitors acted as judges, and voted 2 affirmative and 1 negative.

R. L. Day has started a dairy—a business that was much needed in Enterprise. He has bought several grade Jerseys and will add more as needed. He will also put on a milk wagon as soon as business warrants. Mr. Day can be depended upon to sell only the best of milk and cream.

Iron Beds, all styles and all prices. The only modern bed, 100 kinds to choose from at Ashley's.

The following members of the book-keeping class conducted by Prof. C. A. Lewis received diplomas Friday evening: Clyde Robertson, Pearl Poulson, Eva Makin, W. V. Weaver, Lee Calvin, C. W. Otto, Nettie Brock, Mrs. L. Morrison, Emma Mahaffey, H. T. Weaver, Edith Fay, J. E. Stubblefield, David B. Reavis, Clifford Wade, Louise Bauer.

Jersey Milk and Cream.
Persons desiring pure milk and cream from grade Jersey cows, leave word for me at Berland's shop. Delivery daily. R. L. Day.

Railroad Work.
A dozen stories have been repeated this week about the resumption of work on the Elgin-Joseph extension, but nothing definite and official is really known. It is generally believed work will begin by the 15th of April.

GROUSE.
Peter Clark, a stranger in this country, was staying with M. M. Russell's. On Monday the 23d, while at dinner, Clark threw both hands above his head and fell from his seat. Mr. Russell and W. A. Hack soon placed him on the bed, he seemingly very ill and weak; he continued to get weaker and just at 2 o'clock, Wednesday, he breathed his last breath. His remains were interred in the Grouse cemetery. It is said that he had no relatives in this country, but that he had one brother at Kennewick, Wash., and one at Denver, Colo. He had a light team, one coil and buggy but not a cent in money.

I hear a great many reports regarding the damage sustained by the new bridge across the Wenaha or Little Salmon at Troy. I see one report in the Clarkston Republic that the bridge was entirely washed out. Other reports from various directions say the abutment was washed out leaving the whole structure in a critical condition. I wish to inform the readers of the News Record that the reports are without foundation notwithstanding the Little Salmon was higher than it had been in 20 years, or so stated by the first settlers of this country. The bridge stood two feet above the water at the highest stage. The water went over one corner of the abutment where some loose rock was thrown up, and the vacuum between the rocks was filled with dirt and sand. The loose material was washed out but no damage resulted; one hour's work with a shovel will replace the removed material.

We have not been hearing the mill regularly since the river has been up; the ferry at Troy is not safe even at a common stage of the river. Men don't like to pay 25 or even 50 cents to a ferryman to cross them over the river and have to take chances of losing their lives; so our people would prefer to pay a liberal price into a bridge across the river at the whirlpool than to take chances. We are willing to do all that we can to help ourselves, with the expectation that the county will join hands with us and help us out. The people here are now coming and poor and will always be poor as long as we remain locked up. We have a good country but it must be developed before it can come to the front. Give us good roads, bridges, etc. and we will do the rest.

A Mr. Brown from the upper end of county has been among us for a few days shaking hands and forming acquaintances. He doesn't say that he is a candidate for county commissioner, but he did say that he wanted to find out the needs of the people in the rural districts of Wallowa county. Mr. Brown was favorably impressed with the future prospects of this county and made a number of warm friends among us.

Accept Troy Bridge.
County Commissioners Sam Litch and W. C. Wilson are in the North Country, where they formally accepted the new bridge at Troy, Wednesday.

LOWER VALLEY.
Lower Valley, April 6.—Several school children have the whooping cough.
