Mail Carrier Bell
Fords Grande Ronde

Ferry Washed Ashore By Ice—No Mail At Bartlett in Four Days.

Bartlett, Dec. 26.—Weather is fine now, had a little more snow, making now about four inches deep, hardly enough for good sleighing yet but everybody seems to be enjoying the little we have by sleighriding.

The Christmas tree at the church was a success, and the house was packed with people. There were two trees which were loaded with presents. The decorations were the finest ever had in this part of the country. There was also a program that lasted about an hour and a half. The people appreciated the labor of both the decorating and the program committees. They certainly put in lots of time, and the children were all glad to see Santa once more as he is always such a jolly old fellow.

Everybody reports having had a nice time at the Christmas dance at Mr. Walls' last night.

The ferry boat at Troy has been washed upon the shore by the floating ice coming down the river and is now useless as far as crossing is concerned. Mr. Bell, the mail carrier, has quite a time crossing with the mail now. We are in hopes that the river will not rise any more, as he has to ford with the mail and if it should rise it would be impossible for him to get across.

Mr. Chitwood and Tom Mallory have gone to Reabens, Ida., on a short visit.

Later—These items were dated the 26th, but the mail never came on the 26th or the 29th, and I do not know that it will come today, but we are in hopes that it will. We think that the people in this part of the county need a bridge worse than anything else. Then we could at least get our mail.

Christmas Party
In Garden of Eden

Entire Community Gather at Home of Mrs. Hafer—Pansies for Christmas Table.

MRS. ADAH L. DOWNING,

Wild Rose Home Farm, Troy, Dec. 27.—Christmas was an interesting event in the Garden of Eden. Everyone vied with one another in making it a merry and happy one. The party given on Christmas night by Mrs. Hafer and sons Gene and Harry was a decided success and every Edenite was there, with a few exceptions. The festivities commenced early with a hot supper for all as soon as their wraps were off. Tables were cleared and reset again for the numerous guests. Several card tables were invitingly waiting for those inclined for a game of high five, seven up, cribbage or euchre; they did not wait long for attention, and many were deep in the different games, while others were viewing the most beautiful collection of postal cards the writer had ever seen. There were so many that half a dozen people could be entertained at the same time. Frank Eggleston also had his large collection of most elaborate postal cards there, which were beautiful indeed. George Courtney (our leading violinist and musician) and Charles Fleming with his fine toned guitar, furnished exhilarating Christmas music. After all had supper, the large square kitchen was cleared, the immense range set out doors, and those who had been keeping time to exhilarating quick-steps took possession of the floor which was just right for dancing and waltz, two steps, schottische, Rye waltz, Spanish waltz and heel and toe polka divided the time with old-time country quadrilles. Miss Wilma Courtney and Charles Fleming danced the Highland schottische by request, which was very interesting. Mr. Courtney making it more so by playing double quick time, but they could not be put out of step even then. About 12 o'clock another supper was served consisting of a great variety of cakes, pies, sandwiches, fruit, chicken, and last, but not least, hot coffee. Dancing kept up until 5 o'clock in the morning, after which every one was served with breakfast, then a merry sleighride home again. The weather was ideal for sleighing, both coming and going, air mild, yet bracing and about five inches of

FRAU LIVONIUS, A FAVORITE IN WASHINGTON SOCIETY.

Frau Livonius, wife of the military attache of the German embassy at Washington, is one of the most beautiful women in society at the capital. Aside from her personal charms she is a brilliant conversationalist and is the life of nearly every social event which takes place in diplomatic circles. She is greatly admired by the president and Mrs. Roosevelt.

Fenton and Master Raymond Russell, Gene and Harry Hafer certainly deserve credit for their tactful manner in entertaining so many guests, as their mother's health does not permit her to exert herself much. With the kind assistance of Mrs. George Beecher in the culinary part, they took full control of every thing in the way of management.

Personals.
Saturday night, December 26, Mr. and Mrs. Williams entertained Prof. Foster and Mr. and Mrs. James Downing at their home, Elk Horn Springs, with cards and the best of refreshments. Prof. Foster took a
