Frederick N. Judson, of St. Louis, a widely-known lawyer and author, will be the chief speaker. Other notable addresses will also be delivered at that time. It has not yet been decided whether the ceremonies will be held in Portland or Salem.

While the constitution of Oregon was adopted by the people of Oregon in 1857, and officers chosen thereunder, it was not until February 14, 1859, that Oregon was admitted to the Union as a state by act of Congress. As February 14 this year falls on Sunday, those in charge have deemed it advisable to hold the celebration on the Saturday preceding.

OREGON BRIEFLETS

Officers from Klamath county have located a car of stolen horses at San Francisco, shipped recently, and are now on track of the men who drove the horses to the shipping point and collected the payment for the animals.

Criminal proceedings have been brought against Charles Anderson, of La Grande, who was recently tried on a charge of violating the local-option law, and who is accused of having attempted to bribe a juror with a box of cigars.

A great conference of the timber trade was held last week in New Zealand to discuss the question of the importation of Oregon pine. The press was excluded, but several of the delegates asserted after the conference that owing to recent wholesale importation of pine fully 50 sawmills would close down indefinitely.

Governor Chamberlain has issued a requisition upon the governor of California for the extradition of George Diehl, who is under arrest in that state and who is wanted in Portland to answer to a charge of obtaining $1700 from R. P. Effinger, last May, by means of a bogus check for $2500, drawn on the Citizens National Bank of Los Angeles and signed with the name of C. D. Bush.

The Senate adopted Senator Fulton's concurrent resolutions directing the secretary of war to survey the Siuslaw river to determine what project for its improvement can be completed with the expenditure of $100,000 in addition to a like sum to be provided by local residents and also to survey the Columbia river for improvement in front of the town of Hood River.

Klamath county will begin this year an active campaign of good-road construction. The county court has made a levy that will raise $25,000 for use this year and adopted a resolution pledging a levy necessary to have $24,000 each year for two years for the construction of the state highway via Crater Lake, at any time the additional funds necessary to carry out the project can be made available.

Argument of the case against Christ Nielsen has been set for hearing before the United States supreme court on January 18. This is the case in which the defendant was fined $50 in the justice court at Astoria for operating a purse seine in the Columbia river. The defendant held a license for his seine from the state of Washington, which has a special law which provides for licensing them.

All business organizations of Baker City have united on a plan of action to secure the branch insane asylum which it is proposed shall be located in Eastern Oregon. Letters have been mailed to every senator and representative in the legislature setting forth many reasons why Baker City is the proper place for the institution. A lobby of business men has been chosen to visit Salem and stay until the bill is disposed of.

A great deal of importance is attached to the proposition of the Oregon Pioneers' Association and the Oregon Historical Society to establish itself in a permanent location in Portland. The plan is to locate centrally this way in order that all residents of the state may have the opportunity of availing themselves of the advantages of such an institution and make of the enterprise one of which every citizen of Oregon may be proud.

Resolutions adopted by the Portland Chamber of Commerce to be submitted to the legislature, if adopted, will provide for an appropriation by the legislature that will enable the Railroad Commission of the state to contest the rate advances before the Interstate Commerce Commission. It is thought that with funds sufficient to carry on any proceedings they may think necessary, the members of the state commission may be able to oppose the increase.
