THE NEW LEADERSHIP.

From Salem Capital Journal (Rep.)
The type of Republicans who are appearing and around whom the Republican party will grow strong and healthy as a political organization are men like Arthur, Bowerman, Rusk, Finnott, Eaton, McCue, Patton, Kay, Abbott, Jones of Polk, Hawley, the men from Clackamas, McKinney, Brooks, Abrahams and others, who say pledges are made to be kept in the interest of the people and party, not to be violated in the interest of factionalism or personal ambition.

It is in this new leadership that the Republicans have hope.

The new leadership will not sneer at the Direct Primary law, which is rapidly being adopted by other states.

Under it the farmer, the laborer, the common citizen, who is not a professional politician, has something to say.

Will the masses of the people accept leadership that distrusts them, that places the lowest machine politician from the North End in Portland, or from the gambling halls of Astoria, above the honest decent granger?

Yet that is what has been expected and because the farmer would not let go his power under the Direct Primary, he has been insulted by men who stole into positions, in violation of law, voted for the Democratic nominee for senator, and bet money that Chamberlain would be elected.

Isn't it time for the new clean, decent young blood in the Republican party to assert itself and declare for Republican policies that have some respect for American citizenship?

The members of the legislature from this district fared well in the committee assignments. Representative Rusk was given a place on the judiciary committee, a most unusual honor for a new member. A place on that committee is counted equal to a chairmanship of a minor committee. In addition he is on the irrigation, military affairs and mining committees—all important ones. Senator Oliver is on four of the best committees in the Senate, agriculture and forestry, counties, municipal corporations, and revision of laws.

Representative Brooke of Harney and Malheur, and Representative Bean of Lane (it took two to do it) have introduced a bill making it a misdemeanor for a candidate for the legislature to subscribe to Statement No. 1. Under this bill it becomes unlawful for a person to make a pledge to the people of his district. It would still be "lawful" for a legislator to pledge his vote to a corporation or set of political bosses. Oh, yes! That would be perfectly constitutional.

Representative Rusk has introduced a bill to permit the Wallawa county court to sell the jail property.

A Sprained Ankle.

As a rule a man will feel well satisfied if he can hobble around on crutches in two or three weeks after spraining his ankle, and it is often two or three months before he is fully recovered. This is an unnecessary loss of time, as by applying Chamberlain's Liniment, as directed, a cure may as a rule be effected in less than one week's time, and in many cases within three days. Sold by Burnaugh & Mayfield.

FIRST CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR IS ANNOUNCED

Grant B. Dimick, for the last three years county judge of Clackamas county, and for five years mayor of Oregon City, has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for Governor of Oregon, after being urged by many people from all parts of the state to make the run.

His friends feel that should he be the nominee of the party of his adoption, no issue could ever be made about his being of foreign birth, or about his true Americanism, since he was born on a farm on Pudding River, in Marion county, Oregon, the son of one of the most prominent G. A. R. men who ever drew sword in his country's behalf. He was admitted to the bar of Oregon in 1895, and located the following year in Oregon City, where he has established himself firmly in the hearts of the people of that city and county. He has successfully filled the office of deputy district attorney 2 years; mayor of Oregon City five successive terms, and has served as county judge two years. In 1904 he was a presidential elector on the Republican ticket, speaking in many sections of the state, and received over 40,000 plurality.

The Oregon City Enterprise, in the issue announcing the candidacy of Judge Dimick, has a long editorial, speaking in eulogistic terms of him, and pledging 5000 votes solid from "Old Clackamas." It is very early for candidates for governor, since the primary election deciding this contest will not take place until in September, 1910, but evidently the Clackamas man feels that if "the early bird catches the worm" the prize in this case should be his.

Killed Following Hounds.

Pilot Rock—Josh Clark, a pioneer hotel man of Albee, Or., aged 55 years, was instantly killed Sunday afternoon on Bear Creek, 25 1/2 miles south of this place. He and a party of friends were on horseback following a pack of hounds in hot pursuit of three cougars, when his horse fell on him.

Will Steel, of Portland is in Washington, D. C., endeavoring to obtain a lease of lands in Crater Lake Park, upon which to erect a summer resort, hotels and cottages. The department of the interior will grant a 10-year lease, but Steel desired one for 20 years.

Governor Chamberlain has decided to pardon Courtland Green, sent up for life from Lane county for the murder of John Linn, who was driving a bunch of horses from Eastern Oregon. Green's mother has been living in Salem on the county. Mother and son will leave at once, it is said, going to another state.

Chief among the features of "Homecoming day," which will open the annual rose festival in Portland, June 7-12, will be a rousing round-up and reunion of Oregon's old pioneers. The regular "Pioneer day" is June 16, but it is now planned to have this date changed to June 7, the opening day of the festival.

"I hereby instruct and direct my said executor to erect a tombstone at my grave, and I wish him to have engraved thereon in bold letters the words, 'I have no desire for Heaven and no fear of Hell.'" This is the queer instruction given in the last will of James W. Logan, which has been admitted to probate in the Multnomah county court.

A message has been received at Hood River from Washington, D. C., stating that a concurrent resolution was passed in the United States senate directing the secretary of war to have a survey and estimate made in regard to dredging out the channel of the Columbia river opposite the city, in order to provide a permanent harbor there.

Bryan R. Dorr, on whom the spotlight of national publicity has been thrown as a result of the war between President Roosevelt and Senator Tillman, announces his intention of bringing suit against the South Carolina senator for $100,000 for malicious libel. Mr. Dorr is president of the St. Paul & Pacific Timber Syndicate.

Representative Hawley has secured the passage through the house of his bill to pay volunteers of the Cayuse Indian War who have not heretofore been compensated for their services. The bill carries an appropriation of $1500, which will be distributed at the rate of $5.50 for each day's service during the war of 1847-1848.

The Pacific Postal Telegraph-Cable Company won its suit against the Southern Pacific Company, which was tried out before Judge Wolverton, at Portland, the jury bringing in a sealed verdict awarding the railroad company damages amounting to $66,000 and granting the telegraph company a right of way along the railroad lines between Portland and San Francisco.

According to official statistics prepared by the department of commerce and labor at Washington, D. C., Portland, during the calendar year of 1908, exported more wheat than any other American port, save New York. Exports for the entire Puget Sound district the past year amounted to but 11,917,682 bushels.

General Manager O'Brien, of the Harriman lines, upon his return to Portland from an extended trip East, said: "Authority will probably be given us to start work on the Central Oregon line within the next two months." Three different lines into interior Oregon are being considered for the Harriman line. One is up the Deschutes, another south from Shaniko and a third is the extension of the Corvallis & Eastern east from Detroit, across the summit of the Cascades near Mount Jefferson and thence down into the Central Oregon prairies to Redmonds, the center of the Deschutes irrigated district.

Oregon Labor Men Meet in Salem.

Salem—The sixth annual convention of the Oregon State Federation of Labor convened here Monday at 10 o'clock a. m.

The sessions were held in the Salem Unitarian church, which was rendered practically free, and whose women served meals at nominal cost during the convention in the basement dining-room.

An employers' liability measure is one of the most important to be presented to the legislature. An amendment to the state eight-hour law, the eliminating of competition of convict labor with that of free labor, abolishing of free passes, anti-injunction, child labor and good roads are other subjects on the bill of fare.

A Reason For His Donation.

The late Father Walters, who was loved by his parishioners, was particularly chummy with a clergyman of the Methodist faith. One day Father Walters was approached by his friend, who solicited a subscription to help pay for a new sidewalk in front of his church.

"What, I, a Catholic priest, give to a Methodist church?" exclaimed Father Walters, with feigned amazement. "No, I'll not do that."

Then, after a moment's hesitation, during which the Methodist preacher seemed to be painfully embarrassed, he added, with a characteristic twinkle in his eye:

"But I'll give $100 to the new sidewalk so that my people can get over to my church."—Youth's Companion.
