GREGON BRIEFLETS

Grant B. Dimick, county judge of Clackamas county, has made a public announcement of his candidacy for governor. Mr. Dimick wants to succeed Benson in 1911. Judge Dimick is 40 years of age and a native of Marion county.

Munro Huber, aged 30 years, who shot and killed William Heltzel, near Banks, Thursday, committed suicide at the farm of William Thornburgh, where he was in hiding. It is believed that the shooting was due to a quarrel over wages.

Mrs. Nancy Smith, of Salem, has begun an action against the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company for $7500 damages on account of the death of her husband, who was recently killed by one of the company's cars.

R. W. Deal, a white-haired pioneer of Union county, who was tried at Pendleton on a charge of venue and found guilty of horse-stealing, will soon occupy a cell in the penitentiary. The supreme court has upheld the verdict of the district court.

A fruitgrowers' union was organized at Albany Saturday. The object is to obtain better prices for fruit and to insure a uniform pack and to market fruit wrapped in a special label distinctive of the valley. The Chinese pheasant label may be adopted. Many fruitmen were in attendance.

Albany has begun a campaign for a new armory. A bill calling for an appropriation was introduced in the state legislature this week and strong efforts to secure its passage will be made by the Albany Commercial Club and local officers and members of the Oregon National Guard.

The Oregon-Idaho Development Congress will meet in the statehouse at Salem Friday and Saturday, January 29 and 30. Governor Chamberlain of Oregon, and Governor Brady of Idaho, will be among the principal speakers. Many senators and representatives will be on the programme.

Reports from farmers from all parts of Gilliam county show that the recent snow has been a great benefit to wheat and prospects are bright for fall grain. The covering of snow protected the wheat during the severe freezing weather and the soil was in excellent condition to retain the moisture from the melting snow.

After posing as two orphans from rustic regions, Clare Curtis and Marie Brown, two Portland girls, were arrested and placed in prison in Oakland, California, where they confessed to the theft of diamonds and coin and are suspected by the police of being confidence operators and pickpockets with criminal records.

The Linn county court has decided to offer the following bounties on wild animals: Cougars, $5; gray wolves, $5; wildcats, $2.50; coyotes, $2.50. These bounties will be paid by Linn county independent of state bounties on animals killed in this county. The bounties were allowed in response to a large petition of taxpayers.

Representative Burnett, of Alabama has introduced a bill in congress authorizing Yaquina Wagon Road Company or its assigns to make lien selection of about 9000 acres of government land in Oregon, in place of a like area included in the grant of this company for construction of a wagon road from Corvallis to Yaquina, which has been patented to settlers.

Because the Baker River & Shulshan Railroad Company, incorporated Oregon December 22, 1908, has a name identical with a Washington corporation, Secretary of State Sam H. Nichols, of Washington, refuses to allow the Oregon company to file articles at Olympia so it can do business in that state. The Oregon company proposes to build a railroad from Baker, Skagit county, to Baker Lake and to a point near Ricky Creek.

Coos Bay timber and coal lands, that have received so much National advertising through the Roosevelt-Tillman controversy, has received favorable mention by an agent of E. H. Harriman. The agent found, according to his report, that cedar grows in the Coos Bay region as nowhere else on earth and forest of fir as well. A harbor as good as is to be found on the Pacific Coast, and attention is called to the fact of the increasing value of terminal facilities and the likelihood of some one not friendly to the Southern Pacific's interests getting the most valuable right-of-way unless Harriman's road gets busy.

Preliminary steps in the formation of an incorporation capitalized at $600,000 were taken at the Irrigation Congress, held at La Grande last week, and attended by over 400 farmers. The direct result of the meeting was the adoption of a report which provides for incorporation and the closing of the subscription books on April 1, when the construction of the gigantic project will begin on one of two plans, namely, the irrigation of 20,000 acres by building a long canal to the Sandridge country, or by irrigating 15,000 acres south and east of La Grande by building a less expensive canal in another direction. The cost price for the water under either project will be $20 an acre. With irrigation water, it is believed that the wheat land will be converted into orchard and small farms, thus enabling the valley to supply a much larger population.

Came Near Choking to Death.
A little boy, the son of Chris. D. Peterson, a well known resident of the village of Jacksonville, Iowa, had a sudden and violent attack of croup. Much thick stringy phlegm came up after giving Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Mr. Peterson says: "I think he would have choked to death had we not given him this remedy." Cured of a Severe Attack of Bronchitis by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

"On October 18th, last, my little three year old daughter contracted a severe cold which resulted in a bad case of bronchitis," says Mrs. W. G. Gibson, Lexington, Ky. "She lost the power of speech completely and was a very sick child. Fortunately we had a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house and gave it to her according to the printed directions. On the second day she was a great deal better, and on the fifth day, October 23rd, she was entirely well of her cold and bronchitis, which I attribute to this splendid medicine. I recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy unreservedly as I have found it the surest, safest and quickest cure for colds, both for children and adults, of any I have ever used."
