President Fletcher Homan of Willamette University at Salem delivered a fine sermon on education in the U. S. church Sunday night. He cited the great men of the world, from Moses and the learning of the Egyptians down to modern intellectual giants as being men of trained minds. Dr. Homan is an orator of high order and held the close attention of a large congregation.

Your choice of either Elgin or Waltham 17 jeweled in a solid nickel case fully guaranteed for only $11.00 at E. B. Wheat's

A small stable belonging to "Doc" Homan on West First street burned to the ground Monday about 1:30 p.m. It was all ablaze when first seen, and it was impossible to save it. The fire is supposed to have caught during the noon hour from burning straw that F. McNulty had set on fire to clean up the garden. The loss was about $50.

HORSE SHOW NOTES.

H. E. Metz of Pendleton and Mordo McDonald of Walla Walla were prominent horsemen present from a distance. They said the show was superb in every respect and that Wallowa county had some of the best horses of the entire West. A representative of the Pacific Rural Spirit was also enthusiastic in his praise of all the stock. He said Craig's bull, "Bright Promise," is the best on the Coast.

Metz & Sons were of right proud of their exhibit. The three Percherons shown by Greer Bros. were from the Metz stables. The 2-year old shire was sold to T. C. Bunnell for a price said to be $2000. It is a fine colt.

"Acentus," better known as "Old Blackie," is the daddy of them all. He was 22 years old on the 4th of March, and is still a fine stallion.

All the horses were thin as is best just entering the season. Their show weights would run from 100 to 200 pounds more than they tipped the beam for Saturday.

George Craig had a fine show of his thoroughbred Herefords, including five cows, three yearlings and three calves and his matchless 3-year-old bull, "Bright Promise." The latter tipped the scales at 1825 pounds and would weigh a ton easily if fat.

Mordo McDonald had a fine herd of Jerseys on exhibition.

W. E. A. Watson bought the Shetland pony for $75.

The parade was worth coming miles to see, and everybody unites in saying it beat all previous shows. The entire affair was well managed by J. D. Woodell.

S. L. Williams & Son exhibited a splendid specimen of their thoroughbred Shropshires.
