

Just to Remind You

WHEN MONEY is scarce general stagnation sets in with its resultant disasters to every line of business, to every profession, and every wage-earner. It is therefore to your interest to help to make money plentiful in Oregon by simply keeping it here. The sworn statements of life insurance companies on file with State Insurance Commissioner S. A. Kozler, Salem, Oregon, show that

10,023,334.00 was sent out of OREGON for life insurance premiums in the past five years.

3,152,915.00 is the total returned here to pay death losses and dividends in the same five years.

$6,870,419.00 is the net amount drained out of Oregon in 5 years for life insurance premiums sent to enrich Wisconsin, New York and other states by making THEIR home companies the custodians of these trust funds from Oregon. Does anyone doubt that the commercial supremacy of New York is due to the centralization of the insurance assets in that market, more than to any other one factor? More money is handled by the insurance companies than all the transportation companies in the country, and it is the centralization of these immense accumulations in one locality that makes that locality the seat of the financial empire.

It is the personal interest of every citizen of Oregon to use his influence that life insurance be bought of Oregon life and the money kept in Oregon for Oregon's development.

ASOTIN COUNTY MEN BUY TWO HILL FARMS

The O. R. & I. company has sold the L. J. Davis place six miles north of Enterprise on Trout creek to Wm. F. Kiel of Asotin for $2500. It is a well improved hill ranch of 160 acres 90 acres in crop in splendid condition, and the buy is one of the biggest bargains among recent sales.

The Fay ranch of 496 acres, 3 1/2 miles northeast of Walla Walla has been sold to A. H. Stein of Anatone for $8000, the deal being made by the Enterprise Real Estate company. COMIC SUPPLEMENTS.

Old Prospector Released.

From La Grande Star.
A. O. Jacobs, arrested Thursday night by the local police on suspicion of being a bootlegger, was released yesterday afternoon as no evidence could be obtained against him. The old man said he had lived for 30 years near Lostine in Walla Walla county, and was a prospector by occupation. His wife is living in this valley, but is divorced from him, and his children are in the Boys' and Girls' Aid Society of Portland. The old man says he has a rich mine in view and was going back to the valley to get Marion Stanley, another old-timer, to accompany him to his "good thing." He says he bought the five bottles of whisky in Baker and was taking them to his home, where with the other drugs and barks he had with him he intended to make up medicine enough to do him a long time.

ECLIPSE OF SUN.

A total eclipse of the sun is scheduled to occur on June 17, visible in all portions of the United States except the south. The eclipse will begin in this latitude about 7:00 p. m. and will continue until after sun set. At the time of the disappearance of the sun, the eclipse will cover about one half of the area of Old Sol. The last total eclipse of the sun was witnessed shortly after the close of the Civil war in the year 1869.

WALLOWA COUNTY FLOAT IS PRAISED

ter club of that town failed to fall in with the contest for Walla Walla county queen at the Rose Festival because the conditions left "no chance for any other town to win the contest unless Enterprise willing laid down her hand and let the other towns win." The only conditions were Votes 10 cents each, most votes win.

What's the Use.
The esteemed Walla Walla Sun (again) finds something in this paper no one else can. It says this paper "takes a fling at the other towns because they did not fall in with the scheme and help finance a venture engineered by the Enterprise Commercial club." Also that this paper accuses them (Walla Walla people) of disloyalty to the interests of the county because they did not endorse the plan. Nothing to it, except a guilty conscience. This paper never printed or intimated any such words or phrases. If the Walla Walla boosters were guilty of the things the Sun is trying to excuse them for, the Sun is to our knowledge also the first to charge them. The whole, long, labored and exculpatory editorial is just another case of the Sun's over-heated imagination as far as it impates; to this paper any flings at the Walla Walla boosters. The latter are all right and more power to them. May they cause, in one way or another, two babies to grow within the city limits where one grows now.

COVE WILL PLAY TWO GAMES HERE

and Blyeu both pitched fine ball, about a standoff. Hayes was hit just one the most, and gave two bases on balls to Blyeu's none, but he struck out one more batter than did Blyeu. He was especially effective when hits would have meant runs for Enterprise. Walla Walla made two more errors than the locals, but they were not so costly in yielding runs. Hayes made the feature play of the game in spearing a hot liner from Crumpacker's bat, and Jimmy also starred in batting, getting two hits, scoring one run and bringing in another. Hug was strong with the stick and Oscar Maxwell as usual gave Hayes fine support. Walla Walla's imported players, Hallgarth of Elgin and Hudson of Alceel, did no stellar stunts.

For Enterprise, aside from Blyeu's fine hurling, the features were W. Pidcock's grand work behind the bat and French's and Crumpacker's batting. The team was badly handicapped by R. Pidcock's lameness.

COMMISSIONERS TELL OF HEARING

be a reduction of 2 1/2 cents and as nearly all the wool goes to Boston, this difference on the transcontinental rate per hundred pounds would amount to about 1-40th of a cent a pound on the price. The smallest fraction difference paid in price is one-eighth of a cent, so the reduction would be no advantage. All but a very small part of the wool shipments go long distances and so any rate on wool is a matter for the interstate commerce commission to adjust.

There will be no decision on the complaints until the records are gone over by the full commission. Chairman Campbell not having been present.
