UNLAWFUL TO FIRE CANNON FIRECRACKERS
The state law prohibits the use of cannon firecrackers, the big fellows loaded with dynamite. This law is not rigidly enforced but you run the danger of being arrested as well the danger of losing a hand or eye whenever you monkey with a cannon firecracker. There is no state law or city ordinance prohibiting the use of the smaller firecracker or fireworks such as roman candles, rockets, etc., on July 4.

Boswell brought in Pilot, the first Standard Bred horse.
The present high prices are justified by the lack of supply. Good work horses are scarce—just as many or more raised but the local demand has actually doubled in the last year for that class of horses.
