Leo Forsythe arrived home Friday from the East. He attended the Bliss Electrical school in Washington D. C. from September till the close about June 1, and since then had been visiting eastern cities.

La Grande Observer: Leo Forsythe of Enterprise, who has been in Washington, D. C., attending the Bliss Electrical school, is here visiting friends, before going on to his home to spend his vacation.

Lake Osborn and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Straley and daughter, Effie, Harry Miller, G. M. Hendrickson and family and Dale Beach of Paradise are all valley visitors this week, some going on to the lake for a few days camp, others visiting friends and re-atives here.

Mrs. W. R. Forsythe and daughter, Belle of Kimbolton, Ohio, are guests of E. J. Forsythe and family and will remain a month or more. Miss Forsythe visited here six years ago and her acquaintances formed then are glad to welcome her back.

La Grande Observer: The well known law firm of Ivanhoe & Hodgins will dissolve by mutual consent on the first of the month. District Attorney F. S. Ivanhoe will remain in his present quarters and Referee Hodgins will move into the law offices for so long occupied by Attorney C. H. Finn, but to be vacated July 1st.

Mrs. O. M. Corkins was given a delightful reception Saturday evening of last week by the young people of the Christian Sunday school. The affair was a surprise to welcome Mrs. Corkins home after several weeks absence in Portland. About 35 young people of the school, of which Mrs. Corkins is a popular teacher, assembled in the lecture room of the church, which they had decked in party form, and Mrs. Corkins was seated for ice cream and cake were served and a general good time was enjoyed.

Everyone would be benefitted by taking Foley's Orino Laxative for stomach and liver trouble and habitual constipation. It sweetens the stomach and breath, gently stimulates the liver and regulates the bowels and is much superior to pills and ordinary laxatives. Why not try Foley's Orino Laxative today? It's hard lines when your baby is sick and you have to send 50 miles for medicine.

STEAMER ON UPPER SNAKE.

From Asotin Sentinel.

The steamer of the Open River Association, "The Twin Cities," will make a run up Snake river Saturday, June 26th, as far as Lime Killa Point, for the purpose of taking on a cargo of wool. The steamer will also carry passengers, who may desire to make the trip for pleasure. Also any freight in the nature of merchandise, etc., will be taken on in Asotin and put off at points along the way, to meet the wishes of people who may desire to have anything taken up the river. The trip will also prove a pleasure to any one who has never taken it.

DEATH RECORD.

Walt Wetherall, formerly a saloon keeper at Wallowa, died at Summerville Sunday morning and was buried Monday afternoon, Rev. Kline of the M. E. church officiating and the Eagles of Elgin in charge of the funeral. Wetherall was bartender in a soft drink joint at Summerville and when he closed his place at 1 a. m. he was suffering and had to be helped to his room. A physician was called but he was already dying and passed away at 7 o'clock.

Wetherall is the man who achieved notoriety by a lively tilt with Rev. Moore at Wallowa a year ago. He leaves no immediate family.

Mrs. Sam Goble.

Mrs. Lucy Ellen, wife of Sam Goble, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George Morrow, in Anatone, Wash., June 22, of dropsy and heart trouble. Mrs. Goble was well known in Wallowa county, she being a former resident. She was a sister-in-law of Mrs. E. A. Hart of near this city. The following obituary is from the Anatone Times:

The deceased was born in Union county, Oregon, June 26, 1865 and was therefore aged 43 years, 11 months and 26 days at the time of her death.

She leaves to mourn her demise, her husband, three sons, Elmer, Clyde and Edwin; six daughters, Mrs. Geo. Morrow and the Misses Cora, Maude, Cressie and Edna, all of Anatone, besides two brothers, L. A. and Wm. Ellis; also two sisters, Mrs. W. V. Bowersock, and Mrs. A. C. McDonald, of Vancouver, Wash., all being here except Mrs. McDonald and Mrs. Pyle.

Eight years ago, she moved with her family from Oregon and has since resided in Asotin and Anatone, until a few months ago when they moved to Spaulding, Idaho, where they lived until about three weeks ago when she returned to Anatone for the benefit of her health. All that medical skill and willing hands could do was administered, but of no avail and the end came and was welcomed by her for she was prepared to go.

She was a member of the M. E. church of Anatone, and a true, christian woman, beloved and respected by all who knew her.

The funeral services were held at the Anatone church this Wednesday after which the remains were taken to Asotin and laid to rest in the cemetery there.

Fickle Fortune.

Ill fortune never crushed that man whom good fortune deceived not. I therefore have counseled my friends never to trust to her fairer side, though she seemed to make peace with them, but to place all things she gave them so as she might ask them again without their trouble; she might take them from them, not pull them; to keep always a distance between her and themselves. He knows not his own strength that hath not met adversity. Heaven prepares good men with crosses, but not ill can happen to a good man. Contraries are not mixed. Yet that which happens to any man may to every man. But it is in his reason what he accounts it and will make it.—Ben Jonson.

Although the ancients knew the value of canals, they failed to hit on the simple device of the lock, which was not discovered till the fourteenth century. To this day the dispute has never been settled as to which country, Italy or Holland, is entitled to the credit of the invention.

In the date of admission Oregon is one of the oldest states beyond the Mississippi, entering the Union in 1859. It was the first new state to have the political honor of naming the vice presidential candidate (Joseph Lane) for one of the great parties in the first year of its statehood.

A little girl of four years, having written a letter consisting simply of zigzag lines, asked her papa to post it. "What did you say?" asked papa. "I don't know," said Rosamond. "Why, you wrote it!" said papa. "Yes, but I did not read it," was the innocent reply.

A Contest of Experts.

Ian MacLaren used to tell a story of two Scots worthies, dounce elders of the kirk, who found themselves alone in the compartment of a railway carriage traveling in Perthshire, and, thrown upon each other for company, they fastened on a knotty point in theology to beguile the time. The subject of controversy was whether a man is saved by faith or works. The discussion became heated, and the train drew up at the destination of one of the debaters not a moment too soon. Loath to give up the argument, they continued to wrangle until the train began to move out of the station, and the discharged passenger had to run along the platform to eke out the precious moments left for a last word. The subject seemed to hang fire for a perilous moment—the train was accelerating its speed—when back from the figure leaning far out of the carriage window came the cry, "Hebrews—thirty-eight!" ("The just shall live by faith.") Quick as lightning the other lunged after the receding anti-sionist, "James—first—twenty-four!" ("By works a man is justified and not by faith only!")—Harper's Weekly.

If people with symptoms of kidney or bladder trouble could realize their danger they would without loss of time commence taking Foley's Kidney Remedy. This great remedy stops the pain and the irregularities, strengthens and builds up these organs and there is no danger of Bright's disease or other serious disorder. Do not disregard the early symptoms. Burnaugh & Mayfield.

A TELEPHONE NEWSPAPER.

American telephone subscribers are familiar with the use of the central switchboard operator for the dissemination of news. Any good natured operator will give one the time of day upon request, and in the smaller towns one can often find out where the fire is and whether or not they have caught the man who broke into Squire Miller's barn. But it has remained for Budapest, way off in telephonically barbarous Europe, to make the completest use of the telephone as a news bureau.

The scheme is a news service, which is turned on at stated times throughout the day. In the morning the day's program is announced, so that the subscriber may take up his receiver and listen whenever the things that he is interested in are on tap. There are hours for stock quotations and business news, parliamentary news and weather forecasts. In the late afternoon cafe music is turned on, and in the evening opera. Thus does the Budapest Telephone company make eavesdropping and gossiping on the wire a source of profit to them, as they charge their patrons $7.31 per year (2 cents a day) for this service. It is as if the whole city were on one party wire with everybody listening to what is going on.

It is not likely that America will soon adopt the Budapest plan. With our newspapers coming out every hour, our "tickers" with business and sporting news, and our omniscient, all-wise American "hello" girls, the need is fairly well met.—Success.

Many people with chronic throat and lung trouble have found comfort and relief in Foley's Honey and Tar as it cures stubborn coughs after other treatment has failed. L. M. Ruggles, Reasnor, Iowa, writes: "The doctors said I had consumption, and I got no better until I took Foley's Honey and Tar. It stopped the hemorrhages and pain in my lungs and they are now as sound as a bullet." Burnaugh & Mayfield.

FLORA OF THE PACIFIC.

Science tells us that organic life on our globe began with sea weeds in cellular structure. During the progress of the ages, however, this order of vegetation has kept pace with the land productions in a steady evolution, yet to this day the gardens of the ocean fail to attract public notice. This may be owing in part to the conclusion of their habits in submerged localities where no human foot can tread, and in depths no human eye can fathom.

The vegetable products of the ocean are far more numerous and are fraught with greater interest than most people suppose. Beneath the stormy billows are some of the most delicate and attractive flower gardens of earth. Their existence is not less real because we cannot see them.

The Macrocystis (long shrub) in southern California waters is the sargassum of the ocean. It is not uncommon for the tide to land on shore a specimen 500 to 700 feet long, and we are assured that some-times a monster 1500 feet long has been on exhibition after a winter storm. The trunk of this tree is simply a cord, or cable, that anchors it to the deep bedrock. What is called the "holdfast" is simply a mass of rootlets cementing the plant to the solid bedrock. Often when it comes ashore it holds a piece of adamant in its grip.

These mammoth plants are confined exclusively to deep water. They are the "big trees" of the ocean, but on their coarse framework are growing, as parasites, some of the most delicate and beautiful moss to be found on land or sea—pictures of opaline gossamer.—July Pacific Monthly.

Foley's Honey and Tar not only stops chronic coughs that weaken the constitution and develop into consumption, but heals and strengthens the lungs. It affords comfort and relief in the worst cases of chronic bronchitis, asthma, hay fever and lung trouble. Burnaugh & Mayfield.
