A Sprained Ankle.
As usually treated a sprained ankle will disable the injured person for a month or more, but by applying Chamberlain's Liniment and observing the directions with each bottle faithfully, a cure may, in most cases, be effected in less than one week's time. This liniment is a most remarkable preparation; try it for a sprain or a bruise, or when laid up with chronic or muscular rheumatism and you are certain to be delighted with the prompt relief which it affords. Milk on a Stick.
In winter time milk goes to the buyer in a chunk instead of a quart, says a Glasgow paper. The people in Siberia buy their milk frozen, and for convenience it is allowed to freeze about a stick, which comes as a handle to carry it by. The milkman leaves one chunk or two chunks, as the case may be, at the houses of his customers. The children in Irkutsk, instead of crying for a drink of milk, cry for a bite of milk. The people in winter time do not say, "Be careful not to spill the milk," but "Be careful not to break the milk." Broken milk is better than spilled milk, though, because there is an opportunity to save the pieces. A quart of frozen milk on a stick is a very formidable weapon in the hand of an angry man or boy, as it is possible to knock a person down with it. Irkutsk people hang their milk on hooks instead of putting it in pans, though, of course, when warm spring weather comes on they have to use the pans or pails as the milk begins to melt and drop down the hooks.

Photograph Volcano For Moving Pictures

Seattle, Sept. 6.—In making the moving picture film showing the volcano of Kilauea in action, the artist, Bonine, encountered many difficulties. In the territorial exhibit of Hawaii shown at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition, the big scenic feature of the Hawaiian Islands was necessarily included. The noted moving picture artist was engaged by the Government to secure a set of films showing the volcano just as it appeared in action.

In doing this Mr. Bonine had many difficulties to overcome. The heat near the crater is always intense, and when the lava is flowing freely, a close approach is nearly impossible. In making the exposures, the camera could not be kept in position for a longer time than one half minute. The heat would destroy the plate or film and render it useless. The artist enveloped himself in a covering of asbestos, and the camera was protected by the same material. By doing this, and by making only these very short exposures, Mr. Bonine by his great patience, secured a wonderful set of pictures, absolutely correct in every detail.

In looking at them as they are run through the moving picture machine in the Hawaiian Building, the reproduction of Kilauea in action is seen so fleetly and beautifully. From the bottom of the crater the great streams of molten lava are seen rushing and surging above the huge cauldron in which the Goddess Pele makes her home; the steam and sulphurous smoke blows and drifts in clouds and one looks on the greatest demonstration nature can present. The picture requires twenty minutes in presenting, and required many weeks in making.

A model of the old Mayflower has been built on La'e Union as a feature of the New England Day celebration at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition, September 11. Bearing a crew of 120 "Pilgrims," who will represent the different people who made up the party of the original Mayflower, the ship will land its passengers on a model of Plymouth Rock, located at the foot of the Pay Streak of the Exposition.

The party will be dressed in the old Pilgrim costumes and will present a quaint appearance as they land from their ship. They will be met by a party of Indians, who will be secured from one of the attractions on the Pay Streak for the occasion, and a pow-wow will ensue, which will end in the smoking of the pipe of peace.

Then the party will march through the grounds to the Puritan Inn on the Exposition grounds, where they will be served with an old New England dinner. The bill of fare will include the well-known Boston baked beans and brown bread.

A letter has been received by the Seattle-New England Day committee from Governor Kimby of New Hampshire, in which he states that he has delegated Mr. Goodell to represent him. Among the distinguished visitors who will speak at the afternoon exercises in the Auditorium is Ex-governor Rollins of New Hampshire, the father of "Old Home Week." An original poem on New England Day will be written by Sam Walter Foss, whose name appears in the Boston Hall of Fame. This poem will be recited by Mrs. A. Warren Gould.

The Pacific Monthly of Portland, Oregon, is a beautifully illustrated monthly magazine. If you are interested in dairying, fruit raising, poultry raising, or want to know about irrigated lands, timber lands, or free government land open to homestead entry, The Pacific Monthly will give you full information. The price is $1.50 a year.

WARNING.
Do not be persuaded into taking anything but Foley's Honey and Tar for chronic coughs, bronchitis, hay fever, asthma, and lung trouble, as it stops the cough and heals the lungs.
Dr. Abernethy, the great English physician, said, "Watch your kidneys. When they are affected, life is in danger." Foley's Kidney Remedy makes healthy kidneys, corrects urinary irregularities, and tones up the whole system.

Many people delude themselves by saying "It will wear away," when they notice symptoms of kidney and bladder trouble. This is a mistake. Take Foley's Kidney remedy, and stop the drain on the vitality. It cures backache, rheumatism, kidney and bladder trouble, and makes every trace of pain, weakness, and urinary trouble disappear. Burnaugh & Mayfield.

Whirlwind Tablets cure rheumatism in this climate. They have relieved hundreds and cured scores of cases in Union and Wallowa counties, positive proof, names, etc., furnished on application. For sale by Jackson & Weaver, Enterprise. 20btf
