a public address at the Armory on the afternoon of October 2, he will lay the cornerstone of the First Unitarian church on the following day.

The coming visit of the President has been the cause of a new record being set for Oregon fruit. Some admirer has purchased two prizes boxes of Winter Banana apples from Hood River orchard, paying $25 per box for them and will present them to the nation's executive. As the apples will run about 32 to the box, the buyer will spend about 75 cents for each apple, a price never before, so far as known, paid for Oregon apples. Of course the careful selection and packing of the fruit for shipment to the White House accounts for a large part of the almost fabulous price.

Exhibit Your Poultry.

If you have good chickens, enter them at the fair. If they are good enough they will get a prize, though they may be good and not get a prize depending on the competition; but send them any way, and you will probably learn wherein they lack. Don't be afraid to learn. If you don't get a prize it is your privilege when you go home to tell your neighbors that the judge didn't know his business; sometimes the judge does not. Poultry judges may make mistakes like other judges, but they are generally honest and they are just as liable to make the mistake of giving the prize to your bird as the other fellow's. Send for premium list and enter blanks to the secretary, F. A. Welch.

The Guilty Parrot.

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, the well-known suffragist, while she hopes she gives due credit to the noble being, Man, does not, on the other hand, overestimate the lords of creation. She was speaking recently of another prominent woman who is somewhat lukewarm in the suffrage cause.

"The trouble with Mrs. Blank," said Mrs. Catt, "is that she fairly worships her husband. She thinks that he is absolutely perfect. Why, the parrot taught him to swear."—the woman actually believes that Woman's Home Companion for September.

CALL FOR BIDS.

The trustees of the M. E. church of Enterprise will receive sealed bids for the construction of a parsonage according to the plans and specifications on file with the secretary. Bids will be opened Saturday Sept. 18th, 1909, at 2 p. m. Plans and specifications may be inspected at the office of J. A. Burleigh, Enterprise, Oregon.

SATURDAY NIGHT SEPTEMBER 11

Ethel Tucker Stock Co.

The beautiful story of life in a mining camp.

Across the Desert

THE CHARACTERS IN THE PLAY THE PLAYERS

Wamego, a full-blood Indian, - - - Louis Koch
George Hampton, a ragged hero, - - - Lynton Athey
Jimmie Hearne, a Bowery poet - - - Morney Athey
Jason Baxter, a mighty hard time passing a chicken coop, but that's just nigger's ways - - - Frank Browne

Dick Lewis - - - all round bad men, Harrington Dupuy
Manuel Tones - - - an old stage driver - - - Lynton Athey
John Allen, a Bowery rough of speech but a heart of gold - - - ETHEL TUCKER
Madge, a Bowery pearl, - - - Marjorie Mandeville
Sister Constance, a dove of peace, - - - Jennie Berliani

ACT I—Crossing the Arizona desert. The Indian a faithful watcher. Madge's story to the sister. Boy and girl love. Jason gets ready for trouble. "For I knows dar's goin' to be a hot time." The murder. The stolen papers. "Who will take the word of an Indian?"

ACT II—In the mining camp. Wamego saves Madge from the mad dog and cauterizes the bite on his own arm with a red hot iron. The Mexican plans to kidnap Madge. George Hampton exchanges his revolver for a bottle of whiskey. A fault when directed by heaven sometimes proves a virtue for Madge gets the gun.

ACT III—Madge in the Mexican's power. She bluffs him with an empty gun. The chloroform. The tramp actor proves himself a hero.

ACT IV—The Bowery pearl is given a pretty setting. "Drawing hearts all around" The Indian and the Mexican meet. The fight to the death. Retribution at last.

Be sure to wait for the drawing for the hat now on exhibition at Mrs. Hug's Millinery Parlors
