The visit of the Grand Woelby Matron, Mrs. Stiles, to the local chapter, Thursday night, was a gala occasion for the Eastern Stars. A very large attendance greeted Mrs. Stiles and the degree team exemplified the beautiful work. A fine supper was served in the new banquet hall. The tables were arranged in the form of a five pointed star, and the Star colors prevailed in the decorations. The occasion was a successful affair of which Woelby Matron Elva French and the other officers and members may well be proud.

La Grande Observer—Doctor F. E. Moore left at noon today for Enterprise, where he will open an office immediately and his genial disposition and his commendable character should cement his business relations there as they have here. The doctor leaves many a staunch friend in this city who hopes good fortune will smile on him always.

Colonist Travel
Crowds All Trains

Portland, Ore., Sept. 21 (Special)—The Portland Fair and Livestock Show is the big event of the week in this city. Bigger and better than ever, the annual event is attracting wide attention all over the Northwest. The attendance is outdoing that of last year and the attractions offered are far ahead of last season.

The exhibition of livestock is valued at more than $1,000,000 and is 25 per cent larger than last year. The State Fair at Salem exhibits of livestock were brought to Portland and numerous attractions have been added that will make the week's show a notable one. Stock entries have been made from the Central and Eastern states that have never been shown west of Chicago and Denver. Nearly 500 harness horses will contest for the $25,000 in race purses this week. Livestock entries will bring close to 3,000 head of horses, cattle, sheep, sows and goats here.
Railroads serving this territory are preparing estimates of travel during the Colonist period, September 15 to October 15. They expect no less than 60,000 new settlers for the Pacific Northwest during the 30 days the low one-way rates are in effect. Extra equipment is being assembled by the various lines to handle the heavy traffic expected and the passenger agents believe they will have all they can do to care for the flood of new-comers.

Inquiry at Eastern ticket offices is reported to be wide and the west-bound trains bearing the vanguard of this great colonist movement are heavily loaded. During this week the travel is expected to be at its height and will undoubtedly be heavy.

Coo's Bay is going to deepen its own harbor channel without waiting for government aid. The Port of Coo's Bay is preparing for the sale of bonds amounting to $500,000. The proceeds will be used in digging out the channel, making the docks at the Coo's Bay ports accessible at all times for vessels of deep draught. Proposals for the bonds have been asked and will be received at the First National Bank, North Bend, up to November 9.

Portland's union stock yards in the peninsula packing house district were opened during the past week and now this city, which is to be the livestock center of the Northwest, offers the most modern and complete stockyards in the country. Hundreds of business men of the city attended the opening, and all were forced to admire the perfect arrangements for handling livestock that have been provided. The big union yards will have a strong influence in developing the livestock industry throughout this territory.
According to the records of the Government Forestry Service and the State Board of Forestry, Oregon, has been remarkably fortunate this summer in escaping the usual heavy toll taken by forest fires. The season has been marked by less destruction of timber than any in the past decade. Fires this year have been few and widely separated while losses have been small. This is thought to be partly due to an aroused public interest in preventing forest fires and a largely increased force of fire wardens throughout the forests this season.

Program For Taft Days at Seattle

Seattle, Sept. 21.—The visit of President Taft will be a feature of the week from Monday, September 27 to Sunday, October 3, at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition. According to A. E. Charlton, assistant general passenger agent of the Northern Pacific, the travel to the fair will reach its highest point during this week.

A brilliant programme has been planned for President Taft's visit Thursday. He will be banqueted in the New York State building, escorted through the Exposition grounds in a magnificent automobile parade, and tendered an elaborate reception in the Washington State building in the evening. The president will address the people of the Northwest in the natural amphitheatre of the fair, which seats 17,000 people, in the afternoon. After the reception in the evening Mr. Taft has consented to ride the goat as an initiate into the Arctic brotherhood. One hundred other candidates will be admitted into the northern order along with the president.

The opening of the livestock show on Monday to continue until October 3, will be the largest event of the programme of the last month at the Exposition. More than two thousand head of thoroughbred stock have been entered, and in the poultry department more than five thousand birds and fifteen hundred pigeons. The facilities for the handling of the livestock are the most modern that have ever been provided at any Exposition, over $100,000 having been expended.
