The dance at the opera house Thanksgiving night was a very enjoyable affair and was attended by a large number of people, the floor being thronged with dancers and nearly as many spectators watched the bright and joyous scene and listened to the splendid music by the Vest orchestra.

GOOD DESCRIPTION WALLOWA COUNTY

MUCH SAID IN LITTLE SPACE IN PORTLAND TELEGRAM'S OREGON EDITION.

The Thanksgiving Oregon edition of the Portland Telegram, issued Wednesday evening, November 24, was the best and most comprehensive description of the state's resources and progress ever put out by an Oregon paper in the same number of pages. The various industries of the state were newly written up, not a re-hash of old matter, but a truthful, up-to-date and well edited resume of the wonderful natural wealth and the progress in the utilization of the resources of both East and West Oregon.

In addition to the special articles finely illustrated on the principal industries, several columns of description of the state by counties are given, in the main accurate and far ahead of the county descriptions given in the recent state pamphlet. The one on Wallowa county is incorrect in only one particular, railroad transportation having reached here only one year ago instead of two as stated.

The Wallowa county paragraphs give a realistic picture of conditions here in small space. They are herewith re-printed:

"Wallowa—Total area, 1,883,000 acres; unappropriated and open to entry, 338,985 acres; population, 7100; county seat and principal town, Enterprise.

"Wallowa is in fact a new county, because of railroad transportation given two years ago. Livestock before then was its only marketable product. Now it is entering upon the production of all agricultural and horticultural crops, with great profit and growing success. Situated in the midst of mountains, with beautiful, well-watered valleys, climate tempered, abundant water for irrigation, and normal precipitation, Wallowa is destined to become very rich. It is a Switzerland in Oregon. Mountains and lakes abound. Stock feed for dairying and market herds is in plethora. Lumber will become an important industry. Copper and gold mines give promise of being permanent. Water power is more than ever to be utilized. A great county with few people, it is one of the homeseekers' paradises that Oregon offers to the world."

Wallowa Students Attending O. A. C.

Big Enrollment at Corvallis—27 States and Foreign Counties Represented.

Corvallis, Nov. 26—Every county in Oregon is represented in the roll of students at the Oregon Agricultural college, also 27 states and foreign countries. Excluding Benton county, Multnomah of course leads with 152 representatives, Washington being second with 42 and Linn third with 40. Following are the students registered from Wallowa county:

Challis William Allen, Lawrence F. Allen, Lorraine; Homer H. Hayes, Joseph; Robert R. McKenzie, Lorraine; Howard Elmer McLean, Wallowa; Watson Poone Miles, Lorraine; Guy Ernest Mitchell, Lorraine; Annis and Emma Fay Wade, Enterprise; Harry Samuel Wade, Lorraine; William A. Miles, Lorraine; William Roy Varner, Lorraine.

Road District Meeting.

The legal voters of road district No. 17 (Powwaska) are called in special meeting at Schoolhouse in Dist. 45, on Saturday, December 4, at 3 p. m., for voting special tax to be applied on construction of Geo. L. Post road.

SHERIFF MARVIN GETS ANDY HEAVERN

LATTER NABBED IN MIDST OF CELEBRATION OF SUPPOSED IMMUNITY.

Andy Heavern, indicted in the fall of 1907 on a charge of stealing a horse over on Snake river, was arrested in Joseph Thursday night by Sheriff Marvin, and brought to Enterprise and lodged in jail to await his trial.

Heavern rode into Joseph about 5 o'clock Thanksgiving afternoon and soon after Sheriff Marvin was notified by telephone of his presence. Mr. Marvin answered over the phone that "Heavern was not wanted," suspecting that the information would reach Heavern. Sure enough Heavern was informed of the reply and when the sheriff reached Joseph he found his man up town celebrating his supposed immunity from arrest.

Circuit Court Adjourns.

The November term of circuit court adjourned Wednesday evening. The last case tried was the State vs. James Fisk of Wallowa, for violation of the local option law. He was found guilty and sentenced to pay a fine of $100 and serve 20 days in jail.

The case of J. A. Wood, Admr., vs. Morley resulted in a non-suit, and in Wood, Admr., vs. Wiley the jury found for the defendant. The indictment against J. A. Barnett of Wallowa for giving away liquor, was dismissed.

HOW OSTEOPATHY IS DIFFERENT

Osteopathy does not weaken organs and tissues, but strengthens them. It removes the cause of disease, allowing Nature to be re-established and each organ and tissue to take up its own function, thus restoring the patient to health. Nature does the curing. Osteopathy assists by relieving the pressure of bone, ligaments, and muscle that impinge upon nerves, arteries, veins, and vessels carrying the various secretions and fluids of the body. With the structures of the body in proper relationship, health must result. Cleanliness, pure air, good diet, and exercise are excellent aids, but medicine is not.—Osteopathic Health.

Mrs. F. S. Malcolm of Phillipsburg, Montana, came Friday, for a visit, with her sister, Mrs. N. H. Marks. Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm have bought property here and expect to move to this city next spring.

Enterprise Kids Win From Joseph

Local Players Overwhelm Lake Town Team—Two Goals From Field.

The football game between the "Kid" teams of Enterprise and Joseph on the local grounds Thanksgiving afternoon, resulted in a score of 18 to 0 in favor of Enterprise.

Byrd Ault of the Enterprise team started brilliantly in a ground play during the whole game. He made two goal drop kicks from the field and his defensive play was just as strong, he catching several forward passes. Asa Craig also did some fine playing for the locals, Akins and Shutt played well for Joseph. In the first half Enterprise made a touchdown and a drop kick from the field. In the second half the locals scored a touchdown and kicked goal from that.

All the forward passes tried by the local boys were successful except one. Irving French was referee and Arthur Pace umpire. Following was the line-up of the Enterprise team: Charlie Bauer, right end; Eddie Oaks, left end; Henry Murphy, right tackle; Charlie Dunbar, left tackle; Russell French, right guard; David Reavis, left guard; Roland Marvin, center; Joe Bauer, quarter back; Adolph Bauer, right half back; Byrd Ault, left half back; Asa Craig, full back.

RURAL TELEPHONES INCREASING FAST

OVER 3000 PER CENT GAIN IN ELEVEN STATES IN FIVE YEARS.

Two thousand three hundred and fifty per cent, seems rather large figures to be dealing with, even when one is considering as broad a subject as the increase in the use of rural telephones. Yet it is a fact that in the five year period ending Dec. 31, 1907, the number of phone stations in the rural districts of the western states did jump 2,350 per cent. In actual figures, the eleven states which constitute this group had 2,559 country telephones at the end of the year 1902; five years later they had 62,774.

These figures form the most striking part of the latest telephone census. Statistics placed side by side for comparison always speak an interesting story. One may deduce some telling facts from the following table, showing just how many rural phones each Western state had in 1902 and in 1907.

State	1902	1907
Montana	61	2,389
Idaho	93	4,013
Wyoming	33	1,399
New Mexico	78	577
Arizona	205	534
Utah	—	3,187
Colorado	254	8,980
Nevada	22	928
Washington	117	15,961
Oregon	842	12,108
California	854	13,968
Totals	2,559	62,744

It must be remembered that the telephone was nothing new in 1902. It dates back to 1876, but its marvelous popularity is of more recent origin—in fact is within the memory of all. Where once the telephone was the luxury of the rich man, now it is utilized by thousands of plain American farmers, who find it their greatest convenience and business aid. That is the story told by the telephone census and there are many other statistics of more than passing interest.

In the United States in 1902 there were 266,966 rural phone stations. Five years later the census recorded 1,464,733, an increase of 449 per cent. The number of farms in the country is given as 5,535,614. In 1902 but 24.8 percent of the farms were equipped with facilities for communication over the telephone wire. Five years later the percentage was 26.5.

The state of Iowa on Dec. 31, 1907, showed 78.9 percent of its farms using the telephone. Today unofficial figures place the percentage at 85. For the increase in the number of farm telephones has gone on even more steadily since the latest census figures were published. According to the statement of the Western Electric company, which manufactures all the telephones and apparatus used in this country by the Bell
