OREGON'S GREAT FUTURE.

From the Insurance Monitor.
If there is one state in the Union more than another whose future is pregnant with promised prosperity, that state is Oregon. Another generation will probably witness the transfer of the world's commerce with the countries of the Orient to the Pacific. The nations who dominate this great ocean will control the trade of the world. The fact has been recognized by our own government and earnest efforts are being made to forestall this mighty movement that will make of our Pacific Coast the connecting link between the nations of the Far East and of the West. A generation hence it will be on this coast, rather than on our Atlantic seaboard, that the eyes of commerce will be turned. For more than three hundred miles the western boundary of Oregon is washed by the waters of this mighty ocean, with the City of Portland on its northern border, the apparent gateway through which this commerce will find its way.

Here is a young state one and one-half times larger than all New England, with its wealth of minerals and of timber, and as yet with a population of less than 700,000, rapidly swelling from the best of our immigration and destined soon to reckon its people by the millions. In this great and growing state Oregon Life Insurance company is the chief representative of domestic life insurance, with no company having any real start in the life insurance world on the whole Pacific Coast nearer than San Francisco, seven hundred and fifty miles away, to compete, and with its nearest important Eastern competitor nearly two thousand miles away beyond the Rockies. It is easy to see what a prospective future must open up to such a company, established in the important City of Portland, with all the advantages of a pioneer domestic institution of the state. We believe that every important state should, if possible, have its representative life insurance company, in which the citizens who prefer to put their trust in domestic institutions may be able to secure protection. We trust that this role will be filled by Oregon Life.

The Canby Tribune says that an electric railway is projected from Canby to Molalla, which will run through some of the best timber land in the state. It will make farm lands very valuable by furnishing cheap and rapid transportation for products, and as the timber is cleared off the stumps will follow and gardens take the place of the wild. The intention is to build the line with local subscriptions.

Putting it Delicately.
At a cricket match played in the park of a baronet it was found necessary to secure the services of one of the footmen as umpire. In due course the baronet went in, and the second ball delivered him he stopped with his leg, and the cry of "How's that?" was raised.

It was the footman on whom the decision rested, and he said in a half apologetic tone:
"I'm afraid I must say 'Not at home, Sir John.'"

"Not at home?" retorted the baronet. "What do you mean?"
"Well, then, Sir John," replied the footman, "if you will 'ave it, I mean that you're hout!"—London Answers.

The busiest and mightiest little thing that ever was made is Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They do the work whenever you require their aid. These tablets change weakness into strength, listlessness into energy, gloominess into joyousness. Their action is so gentle one don't realize they have taken a purgative. Sold by all dealers.

Milk on a Stick.

In winter time milk goes to the buyer in a chunk instead of a quart, says a Glasgow paper. The people in Siberia buy their milk frozen, and for convenience it is allowed to freeze about a stick, which comes as a handle to carry it by. The milkman leaves one chunk or two chunks, as the case may be, at the houses of his customers. The children in Irkutsk, instead of crying for a drink of milk, cry for a bit of milk. The people in winter time do not say, "Be careful not to spill the milk," but "Be careful not to break the milk." Broken milk is better than spilled milk, though, because there is an opportunity to save the pieces. A quart of frozen milk on a stick is a very formidable weapon in the hand of an angry man or boy, as it is possible to knock a person down with it. Irkutsk people hang their milk on hooks instead of putting it in pans, though, of course, when warm spring weather comes on they have to use the pans or pails as the milk begins to melt and drop down the hooks.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is so common every day cough mixture. It is a meritorious remedy for all the troublesome and dangerous complications resulting from cold in the head, throat, chest or lungs. Sold by all dealers.

Hasheesh.

There was a terrible secret society in the east which was organized for wholesale and systematic murder. Its members called themselves "Hashheesh"—whence, by the way, came our word "assassin"—and used to get up courage for their deeds of atrocity by doses of the drug called "hasheesh." This is obtained from Indian hemp, and it is from the seed vessels that the substance is taken which yields the poison so famed in history and romance. It is a vivid green and when taken produces the most extraordinary visions and hallucinations.

Foolish Worry.

"Captain, is there no way in which the ship may be saved?"
"None at all, sir. We are going to the bottom, but I should not worry about the ship, sir, if I were you—she is fully insured. You'd better find a life belt."—Houston Post.
