DEATH RECORD.
Judge H. E. Courtney of Baker City died at his home there, January 17, after a long illness of heart trouble. He is survived by his widow and a son, and also by a brother, Dr. H. A. Courtney of Portland.

The deceased was a native of Ireland. He came to Baker City something over 20 years ago, and was for many years prominent in the Baker bar. During the days of the democratic-populist fusion he was elected district attorney for Baker, Union and Wallowa counties and was successful as a prosecutor.

Ethel May Washburn was born at Argyle, Lee county, Iowa, February 26, 1876, and was married there in 1893, to S. D. Cox. She contracted lung disease some years ago, and in hopes of benefiting her health the family has moved from place to place in the Northwest. They have been residing in Enterprise about two months, Mr. Cox following his trade of painter.

Mrs. Cox passed away Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Funeral was from the home Friday at 2:30 p. m. Rev. C. E. Trueblood officiating. Besides the husband she leaves four children, the oldest a boy 15 years and the youngest a baby only one year old.

BLOCKADE RAISED; TRAFFIC RESUMED.
den halt in its work of clearing the main line near Telocasset—a task vainly kept up for many hours. A break necessitating considerable time in repairs resulted. To hold the advantage already won in the war with the wind and snow and to get the trains through, two light engines tackled the drifts of eight feet in depth with vigor, and one passenger train was able to pass the drift about 3 o'clock this morning.

Elgin train delayed.
For the first time in the history of the Joseph line, a complete tieup has resulted. Last evening the trains transferred at a point two miles east of Elgin. This morning two engines and a mail car broke through the drift, reaching Elgin, but the other cars were derailed, and this morning it was announced that the track will be cleared by 12:30 this afternoon. As it is impossible to transfer, traffic was of course stalled until the coaches were righted again.

It is in the cut at the Galloway place that all the trouble has taken place. The snow troubles are all practically over, unless another hard wind sets in, and as soon as the cars are re-railled, traffic will likely be resumed on the branch.
