The Big Atlantic Liners.

In a big Atlantic liner there are more than 1,000 tons of piping of various sorts. The boiler tubes if placed end to end would stretch about ten miles. The condensers pump up more than 50,000 tons of water a day, and the furnaces consume about 8,000,000 cubic feet of air an hour. About 50,000 separate pieces of steel are used in the main structure.

"And what has that to do with it?"

"Why, papa, didn't you say with your own lips that young authors should be encouraged?"—Chicago News.

The Little Cuss.
Professor Marsh, the distinguished paleontologist, once met P. T. Barnum, the showman, in a railroad car. He knew Barnum from his portraits, but Barnum did not know him. They entered into conversation, and Barnum told him of a number of curios which had been picked up in Mexico for his museum, but which his agent in New York, not realizing their value, offered for sale.
"And they were sold?" asked Professor Marsh.
"Yes; some little cuss up in New Haven bought them," answered Barnum.

"I thought so," said the scientist, smiling and handing out his card. "I was the little cuss."
