COFFEE FOR TWO.

As yet it's a table just for two, A plate for me and a plate for Sue - My bride and I. Whits as her heart is the cloth between, Bright as her eyes the silver's sheen; And I gaze and try To understand and to calculate Why I have won so much from Fate, As she who gazes with eyes of blue Across the table set for two. Fragrance o' flow'ret in her breast, Whiff from the urn; now, which is best? I scarcely know! Sweet is the scent of the double rose, But oh, that sniff from theurn's bright rose Is surely so. And smiles seem dearer and lips more sweet When seen through the shimmer of fragrant heat From CHASE & SANBORN'S perfect brew Above our table set for two.

LOSTINE CITIZENS ON THE WARPATH

CLAIM THE ARTICLE IN WALLOWA "SUN" TO HAVE BEEN WITHOUT FOUNDATION.

The citizens of Lostine are on the warpath. According to the signed version of the "removal" story of Lostine to the O. R. & N. station there, appearing below, the citizens are about ready to demonstrate their determination to remain where they are. Following is the signed communication:

Erroneous statements published in the Wallowa Sun under date of April 29, 1910, as appears below, is considered by the business men and citizens of Lostine as false and with vicious intention on the part of a few knackers who live out of town, that have the intent of sacrificing principle and manhood for mercenary motives, thereby regarding the growth and prosperity of our town.

We, the undersigned citizens of Lostine, deny any and all assertions relative to moving to a new townsite or lending any assistance to the so called promotion of the same, and do hereby proclaim to public our intention of remaining where we are and hope the day is not far distant when our neighboring towns will realize that we are still on the map.

- S. L. McKenzie, Druggist. M. Crow, merchant. S. P. Crow, merchant. S. M. Crow, merchant. F. W. Fitzpatrick, merchant. C. A. Fitzpatrick, merchant. M. K. Bue, hardware. F. B. Leonard, butcher. W. W. Kuhn, butcher. O. F. Mays, real estate and insurance.

- Anna Nolan, hotel. Jas. L. Hammack, hotel. W. C. Fleener, hotel. H. J. Martin, liveryman. J. O. Kiddle, miller. Jas. T. Wisdom, blacksmith. Geo. Willett, barber. L. B. & C. H. Williamson, milliners. Geo. Childers, drayman. Chas. Williamson, drayman.

The above is also signed by practically all residents of the town.

The following is the article taken from the Wallowa "Sun," and referred to by the foregoing signed communication:

"Lostine will have a new site. Plans will be definitely closed today whereby 40 acres of the Geo. W. Wood place surrounding the depot will be platted. A portion of the Haun place will be added later. After more than two years of negotiating, the Wood property surrounding the Lostine depot has been secured by an option and Couch & McDonald will manage the platting of the new townsite and the marketing of the lots associated with them in the deal are Messrs. J. F. Haun and S. W. Miles. This will be placed on the market as soon as the services of the county surveyor can be secured.

"Many of the business men of Lostine realize that their future success depends upon moving to the depot and the sentiment is entirely changed from what it was a year ago. Strangers have remarked that Lostine was losing many opportunities by not getting to the depot and this movement means much toward the development of Wallowa county and the growth of the fourth own of the county."

WILL PROBABLY LOCATE IN THIS LOCALITY

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Woods, who have land holdings in this vicinity, met the brother of Mr. Woods, Jesse Woods, at the O. R. & N. station, Thursday. The latter came from Weston, Oregon, and it is stated that he will locate on a ranch near Enterprise. All Enterprise and Wallowa county welcomes Mr. Woods. The growth of the county seat depends upon and is measured by the growth of the county's settlement. What is especially needed in Wallowa county is the thousands of experienced farmers who can find rich homes here, to settle and develop the fruit growing, small grain growing, and vegetable growing of the county. In this county, as perhaps in no other county in the state, the settler can find almost any climatic conditions he desires, by selecting almost any altitude he desires. For this reason Wallowa county presents fruit belts, hay belts, small grain belts and vegetable belts to the prospective settler. Come to Wallowa county, work hard and grow prosperous.

CENSUS WILL SHOW A GOOD SOLID INCREASE

According to popular report, the census now being closed in Wallowa county will show a very material increase in settlement. It is freely predicted that the past two years will show an increase of double the population over that of the preceding time dating back to the last census.

The entire county of Wallowa will be proud of such a showing, if the returns will show it. However, the people of Wallowa county will hope that the growth in settlement during the next two years will prove fifty per cent in excess of that of the preceding ten years. This is not a wild hope by any means, when it is considered that Wallowa county has acquired an impetus to growth greater than ever, has had the advantage of further advertising, and now has a railroad penetrating the county seat.

SAYS THE RAIN IS JUST THE THING FOR HILLS

Rancher Hartley, having a grain farm some six miles out on the hill land, spent Wednesday in Enterprise. In conversation Mr. Hartley stated that the rains of the past few days have been an excellent thing for the hill farms, insuring big bumper crops for the coming season. Mr. Hartley has a small grain farm, raising wheat, barley, oats and rye. Some of the oats from his ranch are so extraordinary that they are used as examples of eastern Oregon grain.

AGENT BUTNER WILL TAKE A WASHINGTON VACATION.

Agent Butner of the O. R. & N. station in this city left Tuesday morning for a flying vacation to points in Washington. Mr. Butner will visit Spokane first and later on several other towns, returning in about a week. O. L. Davis of Iowa will serve as substitute during Mr. Butner's absence.

COUNTY COURT CONVENES; MANY BILLS HEARD

The county court which convened in regular session this week has been largely taken up, thus far, in the hearing of bills and allowing a measure of them. A full report of the transactions of the session will be given later.

Good Work at Alder.

Under the leadership of Mr. A. R. Murray the Baptist Sunday school of Alder is doing an aggressive work. The coming Sunday will be one of special interest when it is expected that 75 shall be in attendance at 10 o'clock. Rev. W. H. Gibson will preach in the evening on "Doing Business for God." A cordial invitation is extended to all.

FAREWELL PARTY GIVEN TO MISS AVA CONOWAY.

Mrs. C. E. Funk and Mrs. C. M. Lockwood were hostesses to a delightful party given Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Funk in honor of Miss Ava Conoway. The guests met at the W. J. Funk & Co. store and proceeded in a body to the Funk home where Miss Conoway was engaged in giving a music lesson, going in upon her in the midst of the lesson and giving her a complete and happy surprise. The guests were: Mrs. Ray Vest and Misses Edna Browning, Edna Ragsdale, Eula Forsythe, Amy Olmsted, Katherine Kay, Cora Berland, Joyce Craig, Alta Davis, Anna Richards, and Lulu Ownbey. Delicious refreshments were served and games were played on the lawn. Music was also a pleasant feature of the afternoon. The party was in the nature of a farewell to Miss Conoway who will depart next week for her former home in Iowa. A pretty cut glass celery dish was given her as a memento of the occasion.

Japa-lac at Keltner's.

When in Enterprise, call at W. J. Funk & Co.'s and get prices on the famous John Deere agricultural implements. Let us quote you prices especially on alfalfa rakes and stackers. Don't buy till you get our prices.

Many Are Coming Into Wallowa County

Two Big Stockmen From Athega Have Located Here Within a Week.

That Wallowa county is settling up rapidly is still further evidenced by the influx of men with their families and with the determination to make this locality their future homes. Within the past few days two families have moved into Wallowa near Enterprise, from the neighborhood of Athega. The heads of these families are J. A. Badley and D. B. Banister.

Mr. Badley has purchased 700 acres and will stock it with well bred stock, launching into the stock business on an extensive scale. He and his family thus become new residents of Wallowa county.

Mr. Banister brings a large family with him to settle on what is known as the old Frank Wright place. He brings to the ranch blooded stock, highly bred, and will engage in the breeding of full bloods both for the market and for breeding purposes. Mr. Banister and wife have a large family, we are informed, and all will become industrious residents of Wallowa county, adding materially in the development of one of the greatest counties in Oregon and one of the most prosperous localities in the world. Within a very few years little land will remain unclaimed in Wallowa county.

NO PREACHING AT THE M. E. CHURCH SUNDAY.

There will be no preaching at the M. E. church in this city Sunday, owing to the baccalaureate sermon at the Presbyterian church in the morning and owing to the temperance lecture in the same church in the evening by Mrs. Ada Wallace Unruh, state president of the W. C. T. U. of Oregon. Sunday school and other services, except the preaching, however, will be held as usual.

W. H. GRAVES PUTTING IN AN IRRIGATING SYSTEM.

W. H. Graves left Tuesday morning for his ranch on Swamp Creek, some twelve miles from Enterprise. At this ranch Mr. Graves is putting in a private irrigating system, and once the ditches are completed and water in them he will turn the ranch into the production of alfalfa almost exclusively.

MRS. ADA WALLACE UNRUH WILL LECTURE HERE

Mrs. Ada Wallace Unruh, state president of the W. C. T. U. of Oregon, will give an address at the Presbyterian church next Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Unruh is one of the best women temperance lecturers on the platform, and it is hoped that everyone will avail himself or herself of the opportunity of hearing her.

EVERYBODY HAPPY; K. P.'S ENJOY DAY

WALLOWA KNIGHTS AND LADIES REPORT EXCELLENT TIME IN ENTERPRISE.

The Wallowa K. P.'s and their ladies returned to their homes in that city Saturday morning, after spending a gala time in Enterprise Friday and Friday night. The afternoon was devoted to handshaking, a ball game and a general good time about the city. The evening was devoted to a banquet, presenting a beautiful program, at Fraternal hall.

The Ball Game.

Wallowa was not going to be outdone in generosity by the Enterprise K. P.'s, and retaliated in the game here with as deep generosity as the Enterprise K. P.'s displayed at Wallowa in the former game. For Wallowa permitted the Enterprise experts to take the game by a score of 9 to 7.

The game was characterized by enthusiasm. Genuine Enterprise and Wallowa enthusiasm. The Wallowa fans shouted their encouragement so advantageously that it looked as if the team might lose its generosity in its baseball enthusiasm, and take the game from Enterprise. But a council of war was held by each individual Wallowa K. P., and it was readily seen that it would never do to come into Enterprise, partake of the K. P. hospitality here, and take a baseball game away from the hosts. Consequently a new light began to twinkle in the Wallowa eye, a new chuckle of delight began to be heard from the Wallowa players and fans, and they kindly handed the game over to Enterprise with Wallowa's compliments. And, every Enterprise fan shouted for joy!

The Line-Up.

The line-up of both teams was an invincible front of sturdy baseball experts—experts meaning those who play the national game well. The Wallowa team was as follows:

Editor R. H. Jonas, p; Oscar Maxwell, c; John Sannar, ss; Tom Potts, 1b; Floyd Hammack, 2d b; Ben Curtis, 3d b; J. J. Wilson, rf; Todd Maxwell, cf; E. J. Manchester, lf.

The impregnable array of Enterprise experts was as follows:

W. C. Boatman, p; Charles Crum-packer, c; Marshal Hug, ss; A. C. Miller, 1b; F. A. Clarke, 2d b; C. H. Zurcher, 3d b; Halilo Boswell, rf; Fred Savage, cf; L. A. Jackson, lf.

The Banquet.

The banquet in the evening, at Fraternal hall, was the crowning event of the occasion. A. C. Miller acted as toastmaster, and acquitted himself most creditably, bubbling with good humor and sandwiching in a bit of fun at proper intervals. F. A. Clarke responded with a brief toast to his credit and to the enjoyment of those present. Attorney Charles Thomas, Mr. Bruce Cox, the latter being laughingly declared the "ladies' favorite," followed, Charles McDaniel, cashier of the Stock-growers and Farmers National bank of Wallowa, responded with a very apt and timely speech. Mr. McDaniel is locally referred to as the "daddy" of K. P. loyalty in Wallowa county, not because of his years, but because of his deep interest in the lodge work.

In addition to the response to toasts, Mr. A. J. Boehmer and Miss Edna Browning afforded excellent vocal music, both in solo and duet pieces, eliciting hearty applause and pleasing every one present. Miss Nanne Heaton delighted everybody in the assembly with her reading of "Queenie at the Ball Game," and the evening closed with everybody happy and secretly voting the event one of the most enjoyable of the season.

The Visitors Present.

The names of the visiting Knights from Wallowa are as follows: H. Driver, A. S. Cooley, F. G. Potter, John McDonald, Bruce Cox, C. T. McDaniel, J. H. Maxwell, J. F. Sannar, J. J. Wilson, F. W. Hammack, B. R. Curtis, W. T. Potts, E. J. Manchester, Oscar Maxwell, Editor R. H. Jonas, A. V. McAlexander, James Riley, C. R. McLaughlin, Edward Mason, J. E. Tulley, H. B. Halsten, H. H. Moulton, A. B. Pace.

The ladies accompanying the Knights were as follows: Miss Eva Louftua, Mrs. Bruce Cox, Mrs. C. T. McDaniel, Mrs. J. H. Maxwell, Mrs. J. J. Wilson, Mrs. R. H. Jonas, Mrs. A. V. McAlexander.
