Monday night Dr. Moore was called to Joseph, on an emergency call to minister to Miss Alice Sprague who had been practically unconscious for about 24 hours. The semi-conscious condition was the result of an injury. The doctor restored the patient to sensibility.

W. E. Keltner, brother of the local hardware man of that name, who has been visiting here and looking over the country around Enterprise with a view to locating, left Monday for points in southern Oregon. He goes there to visit several localities and to look at the land. It is Mr. Keltner's desire to secure lands at the lowest figure for extensive ranching. However, he may return to Wallowa county, even though the rapid settlement here has increased the general price of land immensely in the past few years.

All time and money spent in training the body pays a higher interest than any other investment.—Gladstone.

The best man is the man who helps the most people while doing the least injury to others.—Rev. L. M. Powers, D. D.

Yesterday it was the exceptional case, the very patent case, that sought osteopathy. Today, it is the whole range of human infirmity and every complication of disease.

Osteopathy is coming to be known to increasing thousands as the real curative agent. This is its peculiar virtue—that it does not whip the ailing body into semi-normal action by drugs; but that it works patient-nature to correct, the abnormality that produced the symptoms, and bringing about a real state of health.—From Announcement of Philadelphia College of Osteopathy.

MEETING OF THE LOCAL COMMERCIAL CLUB

A meeting is called for the Enterprise Commercial Club to be held next Monday night. The place of meeting will be announced later. Every member of the club should be present. The spirit of rapid growth and development is "upon the face of the land," and Enterprise and Wallowa county are in the van of it. Come. Appoint yourself a committee of one to see that you are in attendance.
