

ENTERPRISE AND WALLOWA COUNTY.

Enterprise is the growing, lively county seat of Wallowa county. It is centrally situated in the county. It will draw from the vast land and stock and general agricultural and mineral resources of the county, sufficiently to become eventually a big inland county seat.

It is a city of generous, busy hustlers. It is rapidly building up with stone buildings. In time it will be known as the "Stone City." Millions of the best building stone, soft and free from lime and hardening on exposure, lie within half a dozen miles of Enterprise.

There is water power enough flowing right through the center of the city to run all the spindles and wheels of a great manufacturing center.

Enterprise is surrounded by as fine wheat land as lies out of doors.

It draws from some of the best fruit land in America.

When you come west, come to Enterprise and look Wallowa county over—on the O. R. & N. railroad from La Grande.

TRACK MEET BROUGHT TOWNFUL OF PEOPLE

Owing to lack of space it is impossible to print at this time a detailed account of the track meet held in Enterprise Saturday. The city was taxed to the utmost to accommodate the large crowd of people from all over the county, who attended. Everybody enjoyed the event immensely, the grounds being filled with the cheering, happy multitude, and all left for their homes vowing Enterprise just the best sort of place for holding such a meet. The victors in the contests were awarded the medals Tuesday evening, at the graduating exercises at the county high school.

WILL PROBABLY HAVE A BASEBALL LEAGUE HERE

Marshal Hug left Tuesday morning to transact business at Elgin, and in that he was going in that direction, was made the Enterprise representative to attend the meeting of the baseball enthusiasts, Tuesday evening in La Grande. There was a meeting of Wallowa and Union county fans to organize a Union and Wallowa ball league. While nothing definite has been learned thus far, it is altogether probable that the league will be formed, an appropriate name selected, and the national game here be given further impetus by organization.

JUDGE OLMSTED'S HOME HAS NARROW ESCAPE

The ranch home of County Judge Olmsted narrowly escaped a serious fire early Sunday morning. The blaze was discovered before more than slight damage was done, the fire destroying about $100 worth of clothing and furniture. It is supposed that the fire originated from an electric iron which became overheated and set the clothing afire.

TEMPERANCE LECTURE LARGELY ATTENDED

The temperance lecture, last Sunday night, at the Presbyterian church by Mrs. Ada Wallace Unruh, was attended by a large and interested crowd of people. It was pronounced fine by those who heard it. Mrs. Unruh impressed her hearers vividly with the theme of rum vs. decency, and elicited the desire on the part of practically all present to hear her again.

Mrs. C. P. Ragsdale and little daughter left Monday afternoon for Joseph and Prairie Creek, the latter being their destination.

News comes that the son Albert of Harry Chenoweth passed away after an attack of scarlet fever. Mr. Chenoweth is a brother of Mrs. Maxwell of this city. He had gone to Salem to undergo an operation, and while there his two older sons were with them. Both contracted scarlet fever, which resulted in the death of Albert. At last accounts the son Harold, aged 7, was critically ill of the fever. Albert was 5 years of age.

NEWS PARAGRAPHS FROM OTHER CITIES IN OREGON

SEASIDE—As a result of a spider's bite J. W. Conn, a druggist, is suffering from blood poisoning.

KLAMATH FALLS—Saturday, May 21, is the date set by the City Council for holding a special election to vote on the adoption of the new city charter.

PRAIRIE CITY—The gold mines of Eastern Oregon are steadily improving and with the opening of the Sumpster smelter this Spring, a very material advancement will be made.

ROSEBURG—Roseburg is about to undertake its second annual strawberry and rose carnival, which will be held on May 12, 13 and 14. It will be on a much larger scale than ever before. Many special features have been arranged.

HOOD RIVER—J. A. Epping, a well-known fruitgrower here, and F. R. Bridle closed the largest real estate deal so far completed at Hood River by the purchase of 1000 acres of fruit land from the Stanley-Smith Lumber Company, for which it is said they paid $100,000.

ROSEBURG—A Douglas County locality that promises to become one of the busiest and most prominent mining camps of the West was the scene this week of a deal involving the sum of $75,000. The property that changed hands consisted of the Billiken Trio of gold mining claims, situated on Canyon Creek, four miles south of Canyonville.

SALEM—Professors Jackson and Bidwell, of the Oregon Agricultural College, after an examination of the Wallace orchard and others where the bud moth has been at work, state that the season in which the moth can do damage is past for this year and that there is no danger of a spread of the pest.

ROSEBURG—That some unknown person deliberately "raised" various items on the tax rolls in the Sheriff's office in Douglas County is the startling information contained in the report of J. W. Ferguson and E. H. Collins, who experted the county's financial records from July 1, 1908, to March 1, 1910.

SCAPPOOSE—The Harry West herd of cattle, the finest herd of high-class Jerseys in the West and one of the finest in the United States, has been sold at public sale. The herd included some fine animals from the East and some imported direct from the Isle of Jersey. The sale included about 80 animals and brought $16,850.

LAFAYETTE—Alfred Reed, a 9-year-old boy, lost his life by a shocking accident here. The boy was holding a grazing horse, and thoughtlessly fastened the rope around his waist, when in some manner the horse took fright and ran. When released the boy was dead, his back being broken, neck dislocated and head crushed.

SALEM—Farmers in every direction from Salem disclose the astonishing fact that not enough grain will be on hand after harvest to supply the wants of even the local mills; in other words, the wheatraising industry in Marion County is gradually going out of existence, due to the large farms being cut up in small tracts and converted into orchards and dairying ranches.

SALEM—After comparing lighting expenses of the state institutions for the past year on a flat rate and meter basis, Governor Benson decided to install meters in all the state buildings, by doing which the state will save $300 per month upon the expiration of the lighting contract with the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company.

SALEM—Professor R. L. Kirk, principal of the Salem High School, has written State Labor Commissioner Hoff, requesting at least a half dozen copies of Mr. Hoff's annual report for 1909. The work is used in the classroom, and Professor Kirk says: "Our teacher of commercial geography finds your report the most valuable text in her collection for a basis for the study of 'Commercial Oregon.'"

ALBANY—One of the greatest conventions ever held in Albany will be that of the Oregon Threshers' Association on June 23, for which elaborate arrangements are now being made. Hundreds of threshermen, men interested in the industrial development of Oregon and prominent speakers from various sections of the state and of the United States, will be present to exchange ideas and formulate plans for the betterment of industrial and marketing conditions.

CONDON—A mass meeting of the people of Gilliam County will be held at Olex Saturday, May 14, when permanent organization of the Rock Creek Irrigation Association will be effected. It is through this organization interested farmers residing on Rock Creek in this county purpose providing the funds with which to construct a concrete dam in that stream by which sufficient water can be conserved for the irrigation of 15,000 acres of land. The cost is estimated at $75,000.

"College Chap CLOTHES"
MANUFACTURED BY
Brandegee, Kincaid & Co.
TAILORS, UTAH

WHEREVER you happen to see a group of young fellows you are most certain to find them wearing clothes of rare style and individuality. We don't claim that these clothes are always of an exceptional quality, but we do claim that young men affect certain features which older people don't. In "College Chap Clothes" we have been fortunate enough to find a quality which is not by any means expensive, and features which are strikingly young though not too young, for men who wish to retain their youthful appearance.

The Normadic, The Norfolk, the College Chap and the College Chap, Jr. are four styles of young men's garments. They are classed under the name of "College Chap Clothes." They are a branch of "Modern Clothes," made by Brandegee, Kincaid & Co., tailor shops at Uta.

If you are particularly sensitive to style you had better make it your business to call at our shop and inspect these garments. You may rest assured of good treatment at the hands of skilled salesmen.
