PATRONIZE WALLOWA COUNTY BUSINESSES

Mail Order Houses Have No Interest in Our Home Cities.

THEY DON'T BUILD OUR COUNTY ROADS

Our Home Business Men Are the "Boys" Who Come to the Front For Wallowa.

Enterprise and the people surrounding perhaps are not in the custom of patronizing the Chicago and Kansas City mail order houses.

The Chicago mail house is a big institution. Its object is to remove from its path and obliterate every merchant in Wallowa county.

By no means do mail order houses pay any taxes for you. They do not deposit in your banks. They do not build court houses and city halls for Enterprise.

The Old Plea.

The mail order house makes the profuse claim that you can get your money back on demand, if you are not satisfied with the goods.

Splendid, isn't it? The profuseness with which the mail order house returns money on demand is a splendid business transaction—no?

Carlyle once looked at the human world, in that sorrowing, pessimistic vein of his, and then informed us that we were "mostly fools."

The only slogan worthy the life of a Wallowa county patriot is this: "Patronize your Wallowa county institutions!"

With this spirit, this paper rejects much foreign advertising in order that it can serve its home people.

Almost Any Sort Of Climate Here

The Settler Can Select His Altitude and Climate To Suit His Taste.

One thing about Wallowa county which attracts attention, is its varied climate. The eastern portion, perhaps, cannot understand readily why it is that one can get almost any sort of climate here, within the confines of Wallowa county.

In altitude, the different portions of the county vary from a few hundred feet above sea level to some 1,200 feet on top of "Old Eagle Cap," the highest point in Oregon.

erner has only to take a drive from Enterprise to Innaha, however, to be convinced of the difference between here and back east.

There never was a county so varied in climate and in vegetation as this. If the settler wishes a California climate, he can find it in some of the lower valleys.

The county's thus marvelous. Its production is thus widely varied. And its prosperity, present and future, will never depend upon any one single crop like that of the eastern counties and states.
