LUCKY IDAHO.

A number of Wallowa county young people who desire to become public school teachers, will attend the Idaho State Normal at Lewiston the coming year. This is necessary because Oregon, to her shame, has no training school for teachers.

Oregon has no normal because of the Oregonian newspaper which fought the schools until an obedient legislature killed them.

The Lewiston school is reputed to be a good one, and Idaho people are pardonably proud of it.

We should have just as good a school in Eastern Oregon.

Lucky Idaho that has no Oregonian newspaper to retard development and block the path of progress.

With over 350 on the Wallowa county registration books, a man who knew every one and his political affiliations said not one was registered as belonging to other than his proper party. That is another Oregonian he nailed as far as this county is concerned.

Reports from nearly every part of this county indicate a good crop of fall sown grain. The hill land where farmed right, will return big yields even in this season of unprecedented lack of moisture.

Interest on state, county and municipal funds deposited in banks, should go to the owner of the funds, not to the treasurer, who is paid a fat salary for his little work.

It is laughable how the "assembly" candidates are trying to wipe off the stain. All over the state they are seeking cover. The assembly is already in disgrace with its own following.

Clarke, the assembly candidate for state printer says if elected he will "favor a flat salary"—for his successor.
