Bess Gearheart Morrison

Mrs. Bess Gearheart Morrison is already known on the lyceum. Perhaps no impersonator in the country has had more calls for return dates than she. Many years of training, both as a teacher and reciter and interpretative readings has given her an enviable place upon the lyceum platform. Her work is strong, versatile and accurate. Each year adds to her reputation and more firmly establishes her name among lyceum patrons.

Perry Carter

Twelve and a half years of active service as a newspaper cartoonist preceded by other years of varied experience in the newspaper profession furnishes Mr. Carter with a wealth of material and gives him advantages possessed by no other lyceum cartoonist. Mr. Carter is not less noted as an entertainer. Newspapers all speak in the highest terms of his work on the lyceum platform.

Ye Olde Towne Quartette

Beside the usual program given by a male quartette "Ye Old Towne Quartette" program will consist of quartette numbers in costume, together with readings, solos, and crayon work, giving unusual variety to their program. Each member of this quartette is a soloist of excellent ability.

Gilbert Atlee Eldredge

Mr. Eldredge presents a widely varied, artistic and popular repertoire of costumed interpretations of high order; changing quickly from humorous to pathetic, and from dramatic to sentimental representations. His line of work reaches all classes, from those who like the subtle humor of good old "David Harum" to the tragedy of "Julius Caesar."

Newton Wesley Gaines, the noted lecturer says: "Never has any male quartette pleased me more than this one. They are certainly artists in their line, each one being an actor as well as a singer—and they are not only pleasing to listen to, they are good to look upon; their voices blend as perfectly as the keys of a properly tuned and exquisitely touched piano. They always make good."

Ernest J. Sias

The Lexington, Kentucky Herald states: "Last night at the Chautauqua Ernest J. Sias delivered his splendid lecture 'The Lost Chord,' and charmed the large audience with his fine word painting. Mr. Sias is a masterful orator and has a fine command of the English language. This lecture is an elegant blending of wit, wisdom, pathos and poetry."

These five first-class entertainments will cost you but $2.50 for an adult's season ticket; $1.25 for students. Season tickets for sale at the drug stores and by students of the high school.

"It Beats All."

This is quoted from a letter of M. Stockwell, of Hannibal, Mo. "I recently used Foley's Honey and Tar for the first time. To say I am pleased does not half express my feelings. It beats all the remedies I ever used. I contracted a bad cold and was threatened with pneumonia. The first doses gave great relief and one bottle completely cured me."
