KNOWLES GOOD WORK.

Judge J. W. Knowles doesn't allow any time wasted in his court. In many years of reporting court proceedings in several states, he is the best man to expedite business we have ever seen on the bench.

At the recent session of court here, night sessions were therule and not the exception.

He expects lawyers to have their cases ready, and he comes in several days in advance of opening of court to hear and decide their dilatory motions and demurrers, in that way trying to save the taxpayers the burden of extra cost caused by this state's primitive and almost obsolete methods of pleading and practice.

The people of this county are taking note of Judge Knowles' work and will not forget it soon.

WOULD INCREASE DEPOSITS.

With a good state bank deposit guaranty law, available to the national banks in the state also, deposits would increase very largely — some bankers two years ago said the deposits would double.

In a community like this, where the banks are conservatively managed and known to be perfectly sound, and have the confidence of the people, 100 per cent increase of deposits under a guaranty law is probably too high an estimate, but even here, in a new country, where the big demand for money means high interest, there are thousands and thousands of dollars hoarded—either put in circulation through the banks or privately loaned.

BANK INSPECTION FARCE.

As usual, the state bank inspector discovered the stealing and general rotten condition of the Seaside bank just as soon as the thieves in charge of the bank wanted him to—and not a minute sooner.

With the present laws and especially the present administration of law in Oregon, and the whole United States for that matter, bank inspectors are not worth their salt.

The whole system of inspection is a farce.

If Oregon had a guaranty law, and what would inevitably follow, bank inspection by the united banks of the state, there would be no looking of banks like that at Seaside.

CLEVER COMEDY COMING; "IS MARRIAGE A FAILURE?"

One of the bright spots in the entertainment line this season is the production of the clever comedy "Is Marriage a Failure?" It is a screamer full of smart sayings and funny situations and the end is a rattling climax of merriment.

It is one of the few comedies with a good plot. An interesting story which hangs around a much married hon-pocked husband who determines to solve the question for himself and with the assistance of a number of other characters he finds himself in many ludicrous situations making fun and amusement in abundance.

Joseph Detrick, the popular comedian, will be seen in the leading role. A character full of humor and one particularly suited to his qualifications as a humorist. It is said to be one of his best characterizations and one in which he always gives the best satisfaction to his audiences. In the supporting cast is the young comedienne, Miss Olive Morloff, Miss Morloff is said to be an excellent player, possessed of beauty and charm and gives a fine portrayal of her character. A number of other actors and actresses of merit appear, making it one of the strongest organizations on the road. Messrs. J. G. and Glenn Harper have provided handsome wardrobe and appropriate settings.

"Is Marriage a Failure?" will be presented at Enterprise opera house Wednesday evening next. Seats are on sale at the usual place.

He and Mrs. Shillock made many warm friends in Enterprise and vicinity, all of whom are sorry to hear of his death and feel deepest sympathy for her in her great trial.

THANKSGIVING SERVICE AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

Larger than the usual Thanksgiving service congregations heard a splendid sermon by Rev. B. F. Meredith, Thursday morning. The text was the second verse of the 103rd Psalm, "Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits." The theme and application of the text was individual. Thoughtfulness must precede true thankfulness; in the old Anglo-Saxon think and thank were the same word. The sermon was digested from the customary one on such occasions and the speaker held the closest attention of his audience throughout. Most of the praises for thankfulness enumerated were spiritual and are shared alike by all persons.

Revs. S. Harris and C. Driscoll assisted in the services, and beautiful music was sung, a quartette composed of Mrs. Conaway, Miss Davis, Messrs. Boshmer and Gally leading in the fine old hymns and contributing two anthems. Miss Williamson was at the organ. Beautiful flowers and plants were massed around the altar and pulpit. A large offering was taken that will be given to the song in need here, if any such can be found, and if not will be sent to some city mission work.

COUNTY HIGH TEAM OVERWHELMS ELGIN

WINS BY A SCORE OF 29 TO 0 AT FAIR GROUNDS THANKSGIVING AFTERNOON.

The Wallowa High School football team defeated the Elgin High team by the score of 29 to 0, at the Fair grounds in this city, Thanksgiving afternoon.

Aside from its one-sidedness it was a pretty game to watch, and the hundred or so spectators more than justified their money's worth. Especially was the first half interesting, being replete with open plays, the speed and quick passes of the W. C. H. S. boys, together with the splendid team play completely mystifying the Elgin fans.

The snowstorm undoubtedly kept the attendance down, but the snow had ceased falling when play was called and the weather conditions were comparatively good. The mantle of snow helped make the rough field in better shape for the game.

The home team made its first two touchdowns in just a minute of play each. W. C. H. S. had the kickoff and Miles caught a return punt and cleverly dodging the Elgin boys aided by good interference, crossed the goal line. Casey French kicked goal. Score 6 to 0.

French made the second touchdown by a fast end run but failed to send the ball between the bars on the goal kick. Score 11 to 0. The first quarter ended with the ball at Elgin's 30-yard line.

Byrd Ault made the third touchdown about the middle of the second quarter. French made a pretty forward pass to Ault standing close near the sidelines and he had a clear run to the goal line. French again kicked goal. Score 17 to 0.

Fred Read went through Elgin's line for the fourth touchdown; his speed and clever dodging shelling the tacklers as fast as they came up. French again kicked goal. Score 23 to 0.

In the third quarter Read made the fifth touchdown. Elgin punted, Read docketed and by splendid running went over the goal line and again "Casey" was there with the goal kick. Score 29 to 0.

That ended the scoring the remainder of the game consisting principally of line bucking and short runs.

The W. C. H. S. line was impressive and Elgin could make no gains whatever against it. All the home boys played a speedy, heady game. Kreggs' signaling was fine and the team gave evidence of good coaching.

Prof. H. K. Shirk, who returned on the afternoon train from La Grande, was cheered heartily as he reached the field after a record run from the depot.

The Elgin boys put up a gritty game in spite of being overmatched and both sides played clean ball. The Elgin boys say three of their regulars were absent and the three subs
