BEGGING IN SCHOOLS.

There is one place that should be free from any and all charitable or place is the public schools. No cause "begging propositions, and that however worthy, should be permitted to ask contributions from the pupils.

The glory of our public schools, aside from their efficiency, is their equality, the very groundwork for intelligent citizenship in a true democracy. When a charity is allowed to beg from the public school pupils, that equality is destroyed. Children have nothing to give except what their parents give them. The result is that some bring more, some less, and, pity the child, some none.

School days are the happiest period of life. Let the children enjoy them. They will learn all too soon of the inequalities in life that wealth makes. Don't visit the stinginess of poverty of the parents on the child by begging exploitation of the schools. These remarks are not directed against the "cause," recently begged for in the public schools of Enterprise. As far as we know it is worthy. But even begging for that worthy cause made many unhappy little hearts in Enterprise. Children who brought fruit or clothes were made to feel sad because money gifts were more appreciated, while the feeling in the little hearts of the children who could give nothing is more easily imagined than told.

Surely there is a better if not easier way to raise such contributions.

The number of unemployed in the United States is 4,500,000, according to a New York report, most of them factory operatives in Eastern cities. If the number is within a half million of correct, it means low prices for farm products next season. Let us hope it is only a wild guess.

In addition to big dividends (profits) right along, Sears, Roebuck & Co. a Chicago mail order house, recently cut a $10,000,000 melon. That is if he had $10,000,000 additional profits to divide they were ashamed to put on as dividends. How much for, or Mrs. Reuter, do you contribute to the sweetest and best melon?

The Portland Telegram says a fund of $100,000 is being raised by the machine Republicans to defeat Jonathan Bourne for United States senator in 1912. Bourne always was lucky. If anything would re-elect him, it is just this cash fund raised to defeat him. Bourne is fortunate in his enemies.

Hollanders to Oregon.
SALEM.—The secretary of state's office is in receipt of a communication from J. W. Schmidt, Varsseveld, Holland, who wants information relative to Oregon with a view of bringing a colony of Dutch to this state. Agricultural pursuits in a free country is what the Hollanders are looking for, according to this correspondent.

Volcanic Shocks Put Seven to Flight.
Flagstaff, Ariz.—Seven members of a construction gang arrived here with the story that they had been driven away from their work near the base of an extinct volcano in the Coconino forest, 45 miles north of here, by a series of 52 violent earthquakes. The shocks were so violent and the rumblings within the dead volcano so terrifying that the men broke camp and left in a panic.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE UPHELD BY LABOR

St. Louis.—The American Federation of Labor closed the 30th annual convention by choosing Atlanta, Ga., as its meeting place for next year. The entire list of officers, including President Gompers, Secretary Morrison and Treasurer Lennon, were re-elected.

The Western Federation of Miners' application for charter was referred to the executive council with authority to act. The convention by unanimous vote endorsed woman suffrage and later placed itself on record as favoring the organization of all classes of labor in this country, including negro. Some of the Pacific Coast delegates objected to the proposition to include the Asiatic races and it was suggested that the remedy was the exclusion of Orientals.

Battling Nelson Knocked Out.
San Francisco.—For the first time in his fighting career Battling Nelson, a shell of the once great pugilist who proved such a terror to men in his class, was knocked out beyond all dispute. Owen Moran knocked Nelson out in the 11th round of a scheduled 20-round event, his victory being clean and leaving no room for argument as to his complete mastery over the one-time champion.

Income is Three Billion.
Washington.—The net income of the 262,499 corporations of the United States which are subject to tax under the corporation tax law was $3,125,470,000 for the year which ended on June 30. According to returns made to the Internal Revenue Bureau, the capital of the corporations was $52,371,626,572 and their bonded and other indebtedness was $31,133,952,696.

WASHINGTON, D. C., NOTES

The railroad securities commission, of which President Hadley of Yale is chairman, held its first meeting Monday. The commission was created to investigate questions pertaining to the issuance of stocks and bonds by railroads.

That the increase of a few mills in the freight on a pair of shoes was followed by an advance in price to the retailer of 10 or 15 cents and of 40 cents to the consumer, was declared by Henry C. Barlow, of Chicago, before the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Secrets of corporations and the intimate details of their business are to be guarded by the government under the laws passed by the last session of congress, providing for the filing of returns with the treasury department for the purpose of assessing federal taxes. Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh issued a ruling which prevents perusal of the reports by the curious or by those who might benefit unfairly by them.

The members of the Board of Army Engineers, who examined all the government irrigation projects during the past summer, will report to President Taft the first of this week, and within a few days thereafter it is expected that the president will appoint the $20,000,000 made available at the last session of congress for the completion of these projects.

NEWS OF NOTED PERSONS

The pope gave a private audience recently to Cornelius McGillicuddy (Connie Mack), the manager of the Philadelphia American League club, and Mrs. McGillicuddy, who are in Rome on their bridal trip.

The California court of appeals has affirmed the judgment of the superior court whereby Abraham Reuf, former political boss, was convicted of bribery and sentenced to serve 14 years' imprisonment.

Colonel Moses E. Wetmore, chairman of the finance committee of the national Democratic committee, who was one of the first men of means to support W. J. Bryan's presidential ambitions, is dead as the result of injuries received when he was run down on the street in St. Louis.

Harry Orchard, convicted of the murder of ex-Governor Frank Steunenberg, of Idaho, is declared to have recently admitted that he declined an offer of parole from the Idaho state penitentiary. Orchard is said to have told his friends and the prison board that he considered the prison walls the best protection available for him, as he feared violence, even death, if released.

NEWS PARAGRAPHS FROM OTHER CITIES IN OREGON

Federal engineers at Portland have decided to report against the proposition to survey the Umpqua river, between Scottsburg and Roseburg, to determine whether the stream could be made navigable.

Arrangements have been completed for the annual convention of the Oregon Retail Merchants' Association in Salem, and the dates fixed as January 25, 26 and 27.

A farmers' school, to be conducted in Forest Grove under the auspices of the Horticultural Society, the County Dairy Association and Gales Grange will be held December 6 and 7.

Oregon is to have a country life commission of its own, if the movement started by the Umatilla county members of the Farmers' Educational and Co-operative Union of America meets with success.

Oswald West, governor-elect and railroad commissioner, will resign his position as railroad commissioner about December 1, and take a short vacation in California before assuming his duties as governor of Oregon January 9.

The work of reseeding the burned-over areas in the Crater national forest has been checked temporarily by a heavy fall of snow within the forest. If a freeze should occur within the next few days the work will have to go over until next fall.

H. C. McAllister, manager for the Home Rule Association, has filed a statement of expenses incurred by that organization in the late campaign. Total expenditures equaled $39,786.72 and the total contributions were $40,219.25.

Twelve years in the penitentiary at hard labor was the sentence pronounced upon Herbert Lambert for killing his wife, Margaret Grace Lambert, in a tent at Portland, July 3. Lambert, after shooting his wife, shot himself, but recovered from the wounds. The verdict of the jury was manslaughter.

Killing elk in Oregon was expensive for E. E. Sletet, of Gresham, for on November 23 he was found guilty of such an offense and fined $500 by Judge Campbell at Oregon City. The offense was committed last January, but owing to various postponements the trial was not held until recently.

An immense body of timber land along the Sluslaw river, in Lane county, has been purchased by San Francisco capitalists. The tract is said to contain 1,000,000,000 feet of saw timber, which was sold at the rate of $1 a thousand feet. This would involve a consideration of $1,000,000, the largest that has been made in Oregon for several years.

A meeting of representative Astoria business men was held to arrange for holding a suitable celebration next summer of the 100th anniversary of the founding of the first white settlement on the Pacific Coast. A committee of five was named to select a centennial commission of 17 members which will have entire charge of the arrangement.

The Fels fund commission disbursed in Oregon during the late campaign through its treasurer, H. W. Stone, of Portland, $15,484.72. This amount was expended in publication of pamphlets and other literature distributed among the voters in behalf of tax amendments to the constitution that were voted on by the people and other measures proposed by the People's Power League.

Prompted by insane jealousy, William Hassing, an electrical worker, fired two bullets into his wife's brain and, turning the weapon upon himself, sent two more into his own a moment after they met on the street at Portland. The woman died 20 minutes later at St. Vincent's Hospital, where both were taken by the police after the shooting. Hassing has a chance to recover.

Fees amounting to more than the legislative appropriation covering the expenses of the entire board of control, were turned over to the board by F. M. Saxton, superintendent of Division No. 2, representing money collected in connection with water right adjudications for the past six months. There is still a sum amounting to $1,234 on hand for that division, not payable owing to contests and certificates. For the first six months fees for this division amounted to $2,999.73 and only $999.35 for the second six months.

State appropriation for the support of the Oregon national guard must be increased or the companies forming one of the two regiments of militia must be disbanded, according to a statement in the biennial report of Adjutant-General Finzer addressed to the members of the legislature that will convene early in the new year. Accompanying the report of Adjutant-General Finzer, is a report made by Colonel Jackson, inspector of the Oregon national guard, in which it is recommended that the men throughout the state available for military duty be listed as a war reserve. This list should be made up of men not belonging to the organized militia.
