Wool Innocent of High Cost of Livestock

Our livestock experimenters conducted a very high-cost experiment during the past year.

These experimenters expressed themselves in various unsatisfactory terms about the results of their experiments, and they requested the County Board of Commissioners to appoint a committee to review the experiment.

The committee was appointed, and the experiment was reviewed.

The results of the experiment showed that the high cost of livestock was due to the following factors:

- The high cost of feed
- The high cost of labor
- The high cost of transportation

The committee recommended that the high cost of livestock be reduced.
