STATE AID FOR ROADS.

Five highway bills are before the legislature, endorsed by the Good Roads association, and by the County Judges and Commissioners association. They are modeled on the most effective and equitable measures adopted by other states. They are vital to the progress of the state and we hope they will be adopted.

The one appropriating state aid to the counties in building roads is based upon $10,000 from the state to every $20,000 raised by the county during the years 1911 and 1912, or a total appropriation by the state of $680,000 for the two years.

As we understand it, each county that raised $20,000 a year for road purposes for those two years, would receive $10,000 a year from the state—no more, no less.

Wallowa's share of the state tax required to raise the $680,000, based on present valuation, would be $8,454, and we would receive $20,000 in return.

Multnomah's share of the state tax would be $262,740 and it would receive but $20,000 in return.

If the foregoing is correct it would certainly seem good business for the smaller counties. Portland favors it on the ground that what helps the state helps the state's market place—Portland.

A FEW WORDS PERSONAL.

Just a word personal. The publishers of the News-Record and the Chieftain have been making efforts to collect money due on subscription for several months past. This is not conducive to growth of circulation as any publisher will testify. In spite of that fact, and of the further fact that no special canvass has been made during that time for subscribers, the lists of both papers have steadily grown until today each paper has a larger number of paying subscribers than ever before.

For this and many other evidences of the good wishes of our readers, the publishers feel deeply grateful. We will endeavor to reciprocate in kind—by giving better county papers.

MAKE IT COUNTY-WIDE.

The county fair can be made the best advertisement of remote parts of the county by people of those parts taking an active interest in it.

The first thing to do is to belong to it. Persons always take more interest in something to which they belong. Write to the President of the Fair Association, Enterprise, and tell him you want to join.

Now is the time when such action will be appreciated. A lift in time is better than a whole lot of "we killed the bear," expressions next fall.

If it can't be a COUNTY fair it would better be no fair at all.

Enterprise will have a free public library and reading room. The action has not been taken yet, but we are assured the council is a unit and will probably take the necessary steps at its next meeting. A splendid move and one that will never be regretted.

Tillamook Spends $300,000 For Roads

Isolated Oregon County Becomes Prosperous Thru Building Permanent Highways.

(From the Portland Journal.)

The coming of the railroad will not interfere with Tillamook county's liberality toward wagon roads. In the past three years that isolated county has spent nearly $300,000 on road work. This year the County court has made a levy which will provide $125,000 for road and bridge purposes. It is a difficult matter to reach Tillamook over the present roads across the mountains, but once within the confines of that prosperous county, the traveler will find highways that would be a credit to much more pretentious communities.

Clatsop county, lying north of Tillamook, is also making liberal provision for 1911 road work and has plans for meeting Tillamook county with a first-class road over Necarney Mountain. When that road is in shape for automobiles, people will cross the continent to use it.

OBITUARY.

The funeral of James Moore, the aged man whose sudden death was noted in our last issue, was held from the Ashley undertaking parlors Thursday afternoon. In spite of the very inclement weather a goodly number were present, including a delegation of Masons. Services were conducted by Rev. W. H. Gibson, and a choir sang several beautiful hymns. Burial was in Enterprise cemetery. A daughter of the deceased, Mrs. Alta Sanders of Union, arrived on the afternoon train and at the cemetery just in time to see her father's face before the body was lowered into the grave.

The deceased was one of the pioneers of the Willamette valley, a veteran of the Indian wars, and a Mason since a young man. Born in Garrett county, Ky., Oct. 12, 1832, he crossed the plains in 1852 by ox team, settling near Eugene. Later on during the troubles with the Indians, he served gallantly as corporal of Company B, Oregon Mounted Volunteers. He was married in 1860 to Miss Mary Potree, who, though she has been in feeble health for many years, survives her companion of a half century of married life. To them were born 10 children, seven of whom survive: Mrs. Della Stevenson of Summerville, John W. of Council, Ida, James L. of Jackson county, Mrs. Alta Sanders of Union, L. H. of this city, Mrs. Lottie Thrush and D. T. Moore, present address unknown.

The family has moved about in Oregon, Idaho and Washington a great deal in late years on account of Mrs. Moore's health. They were comparative strangers here, having come from Summerville last November.

The sympathy of the community goes out to the aged widow and the bereaved children.

RESOLUTIONS.

WHEREAS, the Grand Architect of the Universe has called our brother Charles G. Holmes, from his labors in the Lodge Terrestrial to the more sublime labors in the Celestial Lodge above,

Be It Resolved, by the members of Wallowa Lodge No. 82, of Ancient Free and Accepted Masons that the Craft has lost a true and faithful brother, and one who by his zealous and efficient labors in the promotion of virtue and the upbuilding of that Hieroglyphical Temple in man has brought honor to the Fraternity at large and endeared himself to the brethren of his own lodge.

Be It Further Resolved, that society has lost a good and upright citizen, and one whose charity knew no bounds except his ability to bestow.

Be It Further Resolved, that the lodge room be draped in mourning for thirty days, that a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the lodge, and that a copy thereof be suitably engrossed and presented to the relatives of the deceased.

Dated at Enterprise, Oregon, this 11th day of January A. D. 1911.

Water Power Sites Are Put In Reserve

Nearly 10,000 Acres Along Grande Ronde River and Its Tributaries.

(From La Grande Star.)

An executive order has been received by the local United States land office directing that 9353 acres of land in this vicinity be withdrawn from settlement and sale. These lands are mostly in Union and Wallowa counties and along the Grande Ronde river and its tributaries, and are reserved for water power sites.

A small portion of the land withdrawn and put into what is officially designated as Power Site Reserve No. 170, is in the state of Washington on Snake river, but the bulk of the acreage is in Union and Wallowa counties. This land represents a resource of untold wealth. There is room and power enough in the reserve to build a vast number of electrical power houses and to generate an enormous electric current.

This land cannot be homesteaded nor bought outright, but is held by the government subject to the laws governing reserved natural resources.

THEODORE WILCOX SAYS EAST AWAKE TO OREGON.

Portland, Jan. 17—Wide interest and confidence in Oregon throughout the East was noticed by Theodore B. Wilcox, president of the Oregon Development league, who has just returned from a business trip. He found the railroads are advertising Oregon extensively and expects this, in connection with the other work along similar lines, will bring a flood of settlers. Mr. Wilcox found the belief general throughout the East that the completion of the Panama canal will be of great benefit to the Pacific coast.

Mr. Wilcox showed the pride he feels in his state when he said: "On my trip I passed through Virginia, the Carolinas and Georgia, I do not hesitate to say I would not give the poorest acre in the whole Northwest for ten of the best in that section of the country, that is, for agricultural purposes."
