Horses Not Held Under Quarantine

State Veterinarian Says: No Such Order Issued—May Increase Bounty.

State Veterinarian W. H. Lytle who was in the city, Friday, says no quarantine has been made on Wallowa county stock, and none will be if the order for muzzling dogs is strictly obeyed.

Dr. Lytle says the Gaskill & True horses were not quarantined at the Portland yards on account of rabies among coyotes in this county, or he would have heard of it. In fact such quarantine order would have had to come from his office. He is inclined to think the hold-up of the horses was for a monetary reason.

Dr. Lytle says the 12 hunters sent out to the North End are deputized by him and have orders and full power to kill unmuzzled dogs.

He has asked the county court to increase the bounty on coyotes for the next 60 days, and this will be determined as soon as a quorum of the court gets together. The court may also appoint a county veterinarian. Dr. Lytle has recommended Dr. E. R. Flack for the position.

OFFERED $6 WORTH OF MAGAZINES FOR $1.

An agent giving the name of C. C. Conway was arrested Thursday evening and lodged in the county jail awaiting investigation. He was canvassing the town, offering two years subscription to the Ladies Home Journal and the American Magazine, and a fountain pen all for $1.

The same man canvassed Joseph under the name of H. E. Larson. That he found many to bite at the alluring bait is evidenced by the big roll found on him when he was arrested—over $240.

BOUND TO GRAND JURY ON SERIOUS CHARGE.

Alvin Harris of near Lostine was arrested Wednesday for shooting a boy named Fred J. Jacob on December 10 last. At a preliminary hearing before Justice Goodman, Thursday, he was bound over to the grand jury under $1000 bonds on the charge of assault with deadly weapon. Chris Cook, a material witness, was put under $250 bonds.

The story of the shooting as given at the hearing is, that several fellows were hazing the Jacob boy, and Harris amused himself by shooting near the lad's feet, one bullet finally entering the upper part of the leg near the groin. The matter was hushed up and never became known to the authorities until a few days ago.

The wound healed but lately internal suppuration started and the boy is in a bad way, likely to die. He was taken out to the La Grande hospital, Friday.
