INTERNATIONAL UNITY IN THE INLAND EMPIRE.

Commerce and science, it has been claimed, know no boundaries. Neither it seems does agricultural art in the Inland Empire. In fact, it goes farther and demonstrates the international unity of the empire.

The minister of agriculture for British Columbia has invited the agricultural demonstration train of Washington State college and the Great Northern railway to visit the farmers of his great province. The invitation has been accepted and the provincial department of agriculture will itself take part in the demonstrations given on Canadian soil.

Such an interaction of agricultural activities is rather remarkable. It indicates the intimacy of the relations between this American state and that Canadian province. It constitutes an ideal use of the principle of reciprocity.—Spokesman Review.

The first minimum wage bill ever presented in any state legislature of the United States has been introduced by Representative Stern in the Wisconsin house of representatives. Such laws are in force in England, Australia and New Zealand. The bill is backed by the Consumers' League of Wisconsin and vests in the commissioner of labor the authority to compel payment of living wages by employers. The commissioner has the additional power to decide what wage is necessary to supply employees with the ordinary necessities of life in each instance.

A woman becomes for the first time in Norway a member of the storting. Her political platform is concise, emphatic and significant. She simply says: "Justice in great things as well as in small things is the people's breath of life. I desire a government fully democratic. I will fight for the rights of individuals, of property and of the liberty of labor. I will work against laws of compulsion everywhere—in business life, in the schools, in the church and in the state."

In France an establishment manufactures alcohol from sawdust, getting 10 to 11 liters (nearly three gallons) of alcohol from 220 pounds of sawdust or about 1 quart from twenty pounds of sawdust. An American company has secured the patent for this country and is improving the process. This opens a great opportunity in the Northwest, where thousands of tons of sawdust annually go to waste. From each ton 100 quarts, or nearly a barrel, of alcohol could be produced.

Many thousands are starving to death in China. There is plenty produced in China to enable all to live in comfort. It is merely a problem of distribution and equity. On these points the Chinese as a people limp badly, hence they starve. Nature gives abundantly, man distributes idiotically, and none more so than the Chinese.

Parcels post exports from Great Britain last year amounted to about $32,000,000 in value and the parcels post imports were about $8,000,000, making a total of $40,000,000. The English people make the postal service one of everyday convenience in many ways.

A Notable Painting Reproduced.
In each copy of the March number of Woman's Home Companion will be embodied a copy of the painting "Aurora and White," by Hilda Belcher, which won highest distinction in the exhibits of the New York Water-Color club, the Philadelphia Water-Color club and other exhibitions.

Each picture is eleven by sixteen inches in size, done in full colors on rough art paper, ready for framing. By means of a new art process, used exclusively in the Woman's Home Companion, these copies of the painting have a marvelous beauty of color and a faithfulness to the original never before obtained in magazine illustrations.

If the type is so blurred you can't read the date after your name stamped on the paper, it is because you haven't paid up for so long the figures are worn smooth. When a subscription is renewed the name and date are reset in new type and show up beautifully. Try it.
