GOVERNMENT CONTROL.

Judge Gary, president of the steel trust, in his testimony before the Congressional Steel Trust inquiry, said the government should take hold of the transportation lines and big industries and absolutely control them, including the fixing of prices.

Andrew Carnegie in an interview in London says Judge Gary gives the only solution to the evil of combinations and yet retain the good of them.

"Our court of commerce will have access to all the books and accounts of corporations and will fix prices according to profits revealed," said Mr. Carnegie. "The 25 and 50 per cent profits will be no more. People will have to be content with 5 and 10 per cent.

"Multimillionaires will then be very scarce," he added with a chuckle.

"It will deal liberally with capital, but also justly with the consumer, at least we shall have peace and contentment in the wide range of production and this new arrangement will be more satisfactory to both factors than any that has yet been in force.

"I welcome Gary as the worthiest leader of the movement. Let our country set the world an example. No monopoly, but prices fixed by the commission of fair men."

Andy is sure canny. He's made his "pile" and doesn't care whether anybody else gets three hundred million in a short life time or not.

He can afford to favor what is right.

WIDE-AWAKE MEDFORD.

No sooner does Mrs. Harriman announce that she will found and liberally endow a great university "somewhere on the Pacific Coast," than wide awake Medford makes a bid for the same—offers 5000 acres of land, $50,000, good climate and fine scenery.

It is a foregone conclusion the site will be in Southern California, but that makes no difference, Medford achieved its main object—publicity. That offer appeared as a press dispatch in all the big daily papers of the United States, and Medford secured thousands of dollars worth of publicity free.

GREAT CROP PROMISE.

There was never a better promise of bumper grain crops in this county than now. Both fall and spring sown grain is looking fine, with good stand and color. The hay crop will be enormous and pastures are the best in years. The wool clip is of superior quality and the weight above the average. Prices are stiffening daily both on wool and grain, so to put it most moderately the outlook is splendid.

Of course there will be no "boom times" because of the nation wide timidity of capital, but on the other hand there is no basis for the wide-spread fear of "hard times."
