Getting Back at Kansas

Everyone has read William Allen White's 42-centimeter editorial shot at Nebraska, inspired by the New York Times' error in assigning Nebraska instead of Kansas as the native state of General Fred Funston. Now comes Harvey Newbranch, editor of Senator Hitchcock's Omaha World-Herald, with the following withering fire of literary shrapnel:

"Base envy, as the poet remarked, withers at another's joy, and hates that excellence it cannot reach. So was it ever with Kansas."

"Nebraska raises corn and alfalfa and wheat and pork and beef and Kansas raises hell. Nebraska piles up wealth and Kansas piles up sand dunes. Nebraska is so righteous that she can trust herself to freedom, and Kansas so wicked that she must restrain herself in gyves and chains—then cries out, 'See how good I am!' Kansas tries all things and Nebraska picks up those that are good and holds onto them. Kansas keeps the rest. Nebraska is philosophic and happy, Kansas a fretful, impatient, insomniac. Kansas vainly seeks surcease in fads and follies and chimeras, Nebraska finds it in the simple virtues our mothers taught, reinforced by all the good things that a rational use of honestly acquired wealth can procure. Nebraska is courteous and unobtrusive, Kansas a shrieking self-advertiser, boasting even of her blizzards and hot winds as colder and hotter and more destructive than can be found anywhere else on earth. Nebraska outranks Kansas in all the excellencies and blessings and Kansas outranks Nebraska in her ability as a ballyhoo artist."

"If this man White really thinks we are 'a milk-eyed, placid, blue-stockinged old maid who never had a throb of emotion,' let him come up and try us. Let him speak around Lincoln, which is a Kansas burg transplanted by a Kansas breeze and not a Nebraska town at all, and make his way straight to Omaha. Let him come with his hair in a braid and a glad, mad light in his eye. He may go home fagged and dazed and bent and broke, but at the least he can say, 'I have lived!' And he will have the rest of his life to devote to recuperating—and remembering. He will have been to Carcassonne."

Cockerline-Hansen

Sunday morning Chris Hansen and Miss Grace Cockerline were united in marriage at the home of the bride's mother. Justice Strayer performed the ceremony. The couple boarded the motor car at 9:30 and departed for Portland for a few days visit returning Wednesday morning.

Mr. Hanson is employed by the Falls City Lumber Co., as book-keeper.

Mrs. Hanson is well known here having been in the employ of M. L. Thompson, the druggist. May happiness and contentment be theirs all the days of their lives.

NOTICE.

The annual School Officers' Convention will be held in Dallas, Saturday January 9th. As this is legislative year, there are some things to come up that pertain to the next session of the legislature. It is hoped that we will have a greater number in attendance than we ever had before. Last year nearly every district in the county was represented and this year we should have more. Dr. Winship of Boston, an educator of National reputation, who is spending the week of January 4-8 in Portland, will be with us in the afternoon and will give us an address. This will probably be the only School Officers' Association in the state to be addressed by Dr. Winship. Superintendent Churchill will also be with us.

THE FALLS CITY NEWS.

Luke McLuke Says.

Once upon a time a man remembered that the day was the tenth anniversary of his wedding and he brought home some flowers and candy to his wife and gave her a kiss. And it took eight doctors nine days to restore the poor woman from the effect of the shock.

The Soft Hearted men are the best fellows and have the most friends. But they are usually working for and paying rent to the Hard Headed men.

After sizing up the people he meets every day, a man can't understand why any blamed fool would want to be a Cannibal.

It is funny, but it is a fact. The Rich think the Poor are Extravagant and the Poor think the Rich are Stingy.

There are all sorts of people in the world, including the human hog who eats five times a day and roars about the Evils of the Liquor Habit.

If you hate a man you also regard his dog as the sneakiest, orneryest brute in the world.

We have just had a peek at the new winter lingerie. No, it wasn't being worn. It was in a fashion sheet. The popular garment is the Umbrella Combination and it is about as big as a man's pocket handkerchief. It begins at the waist and it doesn't reach to the knees. The dear things wear this and get prickly heat and the fool men wear their heavies with the bottoms rolled up into wads around their ankles and then they holler with rheumatism.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Bidding For Another Saloon?

Gains & Owens, who some time ago filed an application with the City Recorder for a third saloon license, withdrew their application last week and when the matter came up for consideration of applicants only the two saloons now in operation had filed. The Council postponed action so that any one wanting to engage in that kind of business the coming year, will have ample time to make it known. The question will come up at an adjourned meeting to be held on next Wednesday evening. If you want to get into the game, you had better get your application ready.—Independence Enterprise.

The New Year's dinner given by the Ladies of the Christian church was well attended. Those who partook certainly can say that they ate one good meal in 1915.

BUSTER BROWN'S RESOLUTIONS

That during the coming year I will wear sandpaper soles on my shoes if I must slip and fall it won't be on a banana skin that I fixed for myself. I used to be able to resist anything but temptation; now I'm going to resist that. This year I am going to make a real business of being happy. Nothing is any more important than happiness.

HAPPY NEW YEAR

BUSTER BROWN.

For Neuralgia, nothing is better than
Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills

Used by thousands for a generation

Those who have suffered from neuralgic pains need not be told how necessary it is to secure relief. The easiest way out of neuralgia is to use Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. They have relieved sufferers for so many years that they have become a household necessity.

"I have taken Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills for five years and they are the only thing that does me any good. They have relieved neuralgia in my head in fifteen minutes. I have also taken them for rheumatism, headache, pains in the breast, toothache, earache and pains in the bowels and limbs. I have found nothing to equal them and they are all that is claimed for them."
