The prompt action of Marshal Lewis prevented a fire Monday night. About 12:00 o'clock Monday night Walter Tice was passing the marshal's house and chancing to look down the street he saw a fire at the house of Paul Rusk. He aroused the officer and they ran down to the building. Mrs. Rusk was preparing to move to Dallas and had set a brooder containing 39 two month old chickens on the steps by the louse. It is thought that the lamp exploded setting it on fire. The brooder and chickens were burned up when the marshal got there. Mrs. Rusk did not know anything of it until aroused by the marshal.

You know the symptoms—headache, eyeach, dizziness, drowsiness—what's the use of telling it again. You want relief—not talk. Satisfaction is assured if you patronize Dr. Lowe. Ask your neighbors. He will be at Falls City Hotel Friday April 30. Go see him in the forenoon if possible.

Exciting Runaway

The black dray team of R. A. Titus ran away Friday morning causing considerable excitement. They started in the mill yard near the dryer and headed down the dock toward Bridge street. They had a clear track as every one fell over themselves to get out of the way. They made the turn at Bridge street on two wheels, crossed the bridge and turned east on North Main. At the Bank they collided with an electric light pole breaking it off. They then turned back and ran west on North Main and were stopped back of Selig's store. The team was not injured.

CONCERT

Ben Claire Crow, baritone, assisted at the piano by Mabel Clar Groun will give a concert at the Gem Theatre Monday night, April 26, 8:00 o'clock. Admission 15 and 10 cents. This will be a rare treat and no music lover should miss it. This concert was given in Dallas last November and was highly appreciated. Mr. Crow has just returned from a California trip and below are some of the estimates placed upon his work by our California friends:

A SPLENDID CONCERT

The Concert given by Ben Claire Crow and Mabel Clar Groun at the Christian Church Friday evening was well received by an appreciative audience. Mr. Crow's delightful baritone voice is unusually pleasing to listen to. His rendition of Mendelssohn's "It is Enough" revealed the high culture and rich quality of his voice which fully satisfied the expectations of everyone in the audience. His other selections from the Oratorio, Opera and Classic ballads were well suited to reveal his wonderful versatility as a soloist. His best numbers were a "Faust's", "Dio Possento" and "Tt Id Enough from Elijah." Miss Groun, his assistant with the program, added much to the enjoyment of the evening with her choice selections for the piano which were exquisitely rendered. The Pleasing style of both made the evening's entertainment one of unusual merit throughout.—Pacific Grove (Cal.) Daily Review, April 10.

MANY ENJOY CONCERT AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

At the Presbyterian Church Sunday afternoon a most delightful concert was enjoyed a very large and appreciative audience. The event was the second appearance of Ben Claire, Crow, Baritone, in Los Gatos this season. The Numbers that won Mr. Crow the most praise were the "Cavatina" from "Faust," Remick's "Rock of Ages" and "Give Alms of Thy Goods" by Bontemps. The programme open with "O God Have Mercy" from Mendelssohn's "St. Paul." In this number the singer displayed excellent control of the middle voice. He was assisted by Miss Mable Clar Groun, pianiste, Miss Groun, from the very first, captivated her hearers by such exquisite touch and decided technique. "Ero-tique" by Grieg, "Am Meer" by Schubert and a "Prelude" by Chopin were executed with much artistic feeling. These two splendid musicians appeared in sacred concert again at the Christian Church, Saratoga, Sunday night where they were enthusiastically received.—Los Gatos (Cal.) Mail, April 14.

Gored By Bull

While transferring a two-year old Jersey bull from one pasture to another, last Friday A. E. Calkins, a prominent farmer near Airlie, was suddenly attacked by the animal and so badly gored that for a time it was feared his injuries would prove fatal.

The infuriated animal caught Mr. Calkins under the right shoulder bone with one of its horns, pitched him over a fence, where he fell unconscious. Then further maddened by the sight of blood, the bull broke through the fence and renewed the attack on the helpless man. Men working nearby went to the rescue and drove the bull off. The right breast had been torn open, exposing the lung, and the large artery leading to the right arm was severed. The bull has been killed.—Itemizer.
