

RELIGIO-SCIENTIFIC SKETCHES ON HUMAN PROGRESS

THE SECOND DAY OR EPOCH

The expressions "evening and morning" and "day" cannot be understood to signify twenty-four-hour days, for neither Sun nor Moon was visible until the Fourth Day. The Earth was swathed in impenetrable darkness.

The word "day" applies to any period, or Epoch; for instance, the "Day of temptation in the wilderness"—forty years. (Psalm 95:8.) Note again, that we read of the "Day of Christ," evidently referring to the thousand-year Day in which Messiah is to be King over all the Earth. (Isaiah 2:11.) In the common affairs of life we use the word "day" similarly, when referring to Caesar's day, Napoleon's day, etc.

We follow the theory that each of the Seven Days of the Creative Week was a period of seven thousand years. This, seven times seven thousand, equals forty-nine thousand (7 x 7,000=49,000) years, ushering in a grand Jubilee Epoch.

As one after another the encircling rings of water and minerals approached the Earth they would spread out like a great canopy, but would not be permitted to fall upon the Earth because of the circumambient air, referred to in Scripture as a "firmament." Saturn's rings have not yet fallen.

God made the firmament in the second, or Palaeozoic Day, and separated the waters which were under the firmament from the waters which were above the firmament. (Genesis 1:7.) The strongly mineralized waters above the Earth, held off by the "firmament" and centrifugal force, greatest at the equator, gradually concentrated at the two poles, where later they broke and then reached the Earth, forming layer after layer of mineralized earth deposited by the water which rushed from both poles toward the equator.—Genesis 7:11, 18.

These rings, or belts, of water and minerals followed each other as great deluges upon the Earth—perhaps thousands of years apart. The Deluge of Noah's day was the last, of pure water only, heavier minerals being attracted first. Hence minerals are generally under several layers of shale and soil.

USE PRINTED STATIONERY

If you do not want separate stationery for each member of the family, at least you should have the name of the head of your family on it.

If it is a private letter the printing heading could be just your name and below it the name of your town, thus:

James W. Andrews
Bath, Mo.

Then all members of the family could use it for their private correspondence.

The cost is no greater than you are continually paying for stationery when you buy it in small lots.

We make you low prices on lots of 250, 500 or 1000, with envelopes to match, and also printed.

You can have it either plain or fancy, and in single sheets or the fashionable fold, as you desire.

HERE'S THE WHY OF IT:

Fashion is inexorable in its decrees, and fashion has decreed that you have your name and postoffice address neatly printed on your stationery.

This does not apply alone to the business or professional man, but to every man and woman—or young man and young woman—who writes a letter.

Of course not every person obeys the dictates of fashion, but to be considered up-to-date you should do so.

It is but question of time when your printed stationery will be as much a part of your personal equipment as your hat or your tie.

It is better to lead than follow, for the being of a leader indicates that you have both character and initiative.

Neatly printed stationery is an assurance that your name will be correctly spelled, that there will be no mistake in your postoffice address, and that your mail will be returned to you in the event of its non-delivery.

Strangers to whom you may be writing will not be required to puzzle over your signature, or your address, and errors will be few.

SPRING POETRY

How dear to my heart is the old speckled rooster,
Which fond recollection brings back to my view,
With spurs long and pointed he "uster"
Go crowing around till he made the air blue.
And when some strange rooster would come to do battle
How quick the old fellow was up on his guard;
He'd make the eye-balls of the strange rooster rattle
And scatter his feathers all over the yard.

Oh, the old speckled rooster,
The mongrel-bred rooster,
The fifty-cent rooster
That scratch in the yard.—Ex.
