SATURDAY, JULY 24, 1915

The Welch miners seem to think that if war is a game of high finance that they might as well have a share in the profits.

An effort to suppress the Peace movement and peace literature is being made. Surely the world is war mad. Doubtless an attempt will be made to bar from the mail all matter advocating peace.

War between the United States and Germany depends entirely with the money power. If it becomes necessary for the protection of "American Loans" (not American lives) to crush Germany, the United States will be drawn into the fray. Are you ready to spill your blood, sacrifice your homes in the interest of the plutocrats?

Portland and Salem newspapers have had much to say of Teddy's "enthusiastic reception" on this Coast. The crowds that gathered to view this egotistical piece of humanity were impelled by the same motive, curiosity, as if he were a giraffe or orang outang. His vanity has caused him to imagine it was his popularity.

In view that there are a few bloodthirsty fellows demanding war because an hundred or more Americans were drowned by the Germans, why not catch up a like number of "Dutchmen" and drown them in some frog pond in retaliation. This method would, perhaps, appear just a little inhuman, but wouldn't it be better than engaging in a war and have hundreds of thousands killed in a more horrible manner?

The Barnaby Mills of Fall River, Mass., making gingham, have shut down for an indefinite period, throwing a thousand hands out of employment. The managers say they have no market for their goods, though they have kept in operation, piling the cloth up in the storehouse, in order to give their employees work. Gingham, it should be remembered, does not figure in "war orders". It is worn by American men and women, who cannot buy it now because—unless they are connected with a "war order" factory—they are themselves out of employment and short of money. The Barnaby Mills are typical of thousands of cases in this country.

Marse Henry Watterson reckons that "the country will not be blinded—certainly the South will not be blinded—by the dazzling billion-dollar total" of this year's foreign trade balance. Quite right. The country knows by this time that our huge exports are made up of food products which are sent abroad to feed armies and peoples in countries where warfare has supplanted industry, and of war munitions which produce huge profits for a few manufacturers in a limited area of the country. The effect of all this is to increase the cost of living to Americans through a decreasing of the supply of food material available for home consumption, and to emphasize the general lack of prosperity in communities where war factories do not exist but where staple industries have been crippled by the folly of Democratic tariff legislation. Mr. Redfield and the other Sunny Jims of the Administration will doubtless try to blind the country with "the dazzling billion-dollar total;" but the country, like Marse Henry Watterson, has its eyes wide open.

Want County Court Re-Called

Trouble for the county court has been brewing for many moons. It appears that the county judge incurred the displeasure of certain men and they have been zealously watching for an opportunity to raise his scalplock. From what can be gathered it seems that certain localities where they have in the past been receiving more than their share of the road funds are jealous of the Falls City district through which the new road to the Coast is being built. Be it remembered, however, that the Falls City district levied a special tax for this purpose and has shared least in the road money in the past and is certainly entitled to use her own money. Just what other "breeches" of the peace or judicial etiquette the Judge and his fellow servitors have been guilty of we are not informed, but if this is the extent of his delinquencies it will avail but little in this community.

WHO ARE DEMANDING WAR?

It will be almost a miracle if the United States can be kept out of war so strong are the demands from those who would be benefited. The manufacturers of munitions of war demand it that they may dispose of more products at a larger profit. Financiers who have much money in English securities, and upon the success of the Allies depend the success of their investment, demand it. Politicians who expect to ride into office on a war wave, demand it. Editors of big trust owned papers whose only remarkable accomplishment is their ability to remove their shirts without unbuttoning the collar, demand it. The Allies, who are getting most beautifully trounced everytime they get from under the shadow of the Stars and Stripes, demand it. But how of the poor fellow who will be called upon to do the fighting for this aggregation? He is the Mollycoddle, Roosevelt harps about, with everything to lose and nothing to gain by war. In the language of the old Spartan gladiator, "If we must fight, let us fight our oppressors."

President Wilson should try his peace methods upon the strikers and owners of manufacturing plants in the United States where a state of war now exists. Peace at home is of more importance than any German or English Note.

MUSIC MAKES HAIR GROW.

Boston Holds Out Hope For the Bald Among Us.

Boston.—Bald men, if you would have your hair return go in for music. At least that is the cure prescribed by Dr. R. Kenrick Smith, a prominent Back Bay physician. The peace, harmony and joy of music are what make musicians' hair grow long, according to Dr. Smith. He says:

"If fright or grief will turn the hair white, which we all know sometimes occurs, why is it not perfectly logical to assume that the opposite extreme, that is, the tranquillity, peace, harmony and joy of music would tend to produce an opposite result?"
"An expert statistician, after months of labor, announces that only one of every hundred devotees of music is hairless, while in every other profession eleven in every 100 are bald. This may, in part, be due to the habit traditional to musicians of always brushing their hair backward."
