NEWS AND COMMENT

The city treasury of Seattle, Wash., is empty.

LaGrande, Oregon was visited Monday by a rain and hail storm that damaged the hay and grain crops.

The I. W. W's., are blamed with inciting trouble in Mexico. Why not credit them with the European war?

The Royal Edward, British transport was destroyed by a submarine last Saturday and about 1000 troops lost.

"No rest for the President?" says the Democratic press. Poor fellow! He will get a most needed rest after next year.

Prosperity that must be fed on human blood and misery is not the kind desired by any, except a few millionaires that are profiting thereby.

The Welsh miners are becoming impatient over the delay in the wage settlement and threaten to go out on a strike if it is not settled soon.

The indictment against the five men accused of enlisting men for the English army at San Francisco is objected to because it failed to state that Great Britain was at war.

Nearly $25,000 worth of wheat and farm machinery was destroyed by fire Monday night near Walla Walla, Wash. The fire started from a spark from the threshing engine.

Another Jap with an unspeakable name is prowling around the country taking lessons in American ways. This time, it is said, he is studying the methods used in fighting forest fires.

Ex-President Taft criticises the report of the Chairman of the Industrial Commission on the labor conditions at the Standard Oil company's works. It does not reflect much credit upon the methods and management of this big concern. See!

Cotton will be placed on the "contraband" list in time to catch this year's crop. It is also a very peculiar co-incident that England should cancel wheat orders just as the new crop is ready for the market. Doubtless as soon as the farmer has disposed of his crop at from 75 to 80c per bushel that a "Great Wave of Prosperity" will strike the country and wheat will advance by leaps and bounds.

If the American people will give less attention to conditions abroad and take up and develop the opportunities for advancement at home far more satisfactory results will be attained in the uplift of our people.—Cedar Rapids (Ia.) Leader.

The sheriff of Multnomah county will ask permission of the county commissioners to put two special deputies on the secluded roads in the county to prevent immorality arising from motorcycle and automobile joy-rides. Miss Mary Klaus committed suicide last Saturday after a motorcycle ride with a man.

A dispatch from California, states that there is no great rush at the recruiting station for the four week's military training course to be given at Presido. Only forty-seven had enrolled up to the 17th and the enrollment closes the 20th. It is necessary to secure 150 before the camp will be established. Not so blood-thirsty as some folk imagined.

Congressman George A. Loud, of Michigan says that he can see a very bright future for the lumber interests on the Pacific Coast. This is very encouraging but does not figure very extensively in the payment of last month's grocery bill. Long range prosperity is not what the people are demanding. Col. George has extensive lumber interests and says that he expects to increase them. The wonder is what would be the effect upon the prosperity of the country if Congressmen and Senators were selected from a class of men not so extensively interested in the railroad, lumbering and other manufacturing industries.

DEFECTIVE VISION

The Independence Monitor evidently pins its faith to the old adage, "Its an ill wind that blows nobody good." In the recall now being agitated against the county court, it imagines a division in the Republican party at the next election. There is another trite saying the editor of the Monitor possibly has overlooked, in regard to "cat fights."

The Kind of Democrat Jefferson Was

The Rascal Whipper has read a great deal first and last about Thomas Jefferson being a Protectionist. At any rate, Tom never busted the country with a Free-Trade Tariff law and then attempted to set things on foot by palming off on the people a special tax to meet the deficit and call it a "war tax." But, then, it should not be forgotten that Thomas Jefferson was a real Democrat, not a galvanized Socialist a thinly veined Populist or a traveling Anglomaniac. Besides, Mr. Jefferson always took his licker straight, as became a Virginia gentleman, and never sought to rape his stomach with such miserable substitutes as grape juice and similar slops.—Moravian Falls (N. C.) Rascal Whipper.

BELIEVES IN ADVERTISING

Last week nearly every householder in Falls City received by mail an expensive catalog from a wellknown mail order house. The cost of this output totaled more than all the merchants in Falls City spend for advertising in a whole year, yet this firm evidently believe it pays to spend such an amount. As a result of the distribution of said catalogue, thousands of dollars will go out of town that should, and would be spent with the home merchants were the proper methods used. The fact that times are a little dull does not deter the mail house from advertising; in fact that is the time they put forth their greatest efforts, and gather in the cash and leave the undesirable credit to local merchants.

In fighting the mail order house the great mistake is made by misrepresenting the matter. It is as foolish to say that their goods are all shoddy or damaged as it would for one local merchant to accuse his competitor of selling rotten cabbage or giving short weight. "Accidents are liable to happen," it is said, "in the best regulated families."

It is useless to preach of the duty the people owe to the community in which they live. Preservation of life is the first law of nature, and life and the pocket-book are synonymous. Buy for cash and sell for cash at a small profit is the only method that can be used effectively against the mail order house. Do not let a five-cent purchase leave the store until the coin is in the till. People that pay their bills resent the idea of being taxed with the debts of the fellow that don't pay.

Ira C. Mehrling and Otto Teal left Monday on a hunting trip. The hunting was good but the find rather light. They returned Wednesday night.

A Personal Matter

SEES HIS FIRST PRESIDENT.

Toll Keeper Shakes Hands With Woodrow Wilson.

Cornish, N. H.—Being president of the United States does not entitle Woodrow Wilson to cross the Cheshire toll bridge over the Connecticut river, near Claremont, N. H., without paying the regular fee of 15 cents. He found that out recently.

Mr. Wilson on his vacation here has motored across this toll bridge perhaps a score of times and always without being recognized by the seventy-four-year-old toll keeper. Each time he has leaned down from his seat beside the chauffeur and paid the 15 cents from his own pocket.

A few days ago the president reached into his pocket for the right change as soon as the car slowed up, but he found that at last the aged keeper had recognized him as the country's chief executive. Instead of the accustomed, "Fifteen cents, please," Mr. Wilson was greeted with—

"Are you the president of the United States?"

Mr. Wilson smilingly acknowledged his identity.

"I never saw a president before," said the keeper, "and I would like to shake hands."

They shook hands, the keeper collected his fee and the presidential automobile speeded on back to Harlakenden, the summer White House.

MUSIC CHARMS MUTE TO TALK.

Italian Corporal, Made Dumb in Battle, Suddenly Cured.

Rome.—Corporal Saturno Squillaciotti of Naples became dumb in the course of a violent battle. Since then he has been lying in the hospital of Modena.

All medical efforts to restore his speech failed, and the doctors despaired of his recovery. Recently one of the hospital physicians, having been told that Squillaciotti is a great lover of music, sat at the piano and played, with the object of entertaining the unhappy patient. The corporal listened with intense interest and great excitement. When the music had ended he jumped to his feet, exclaiming: "Bravo! Bello!" ("Beautiful!")

The corporal's dumbness was cured.

SURPRISE FOR FALLS CITY

The simple mixture of buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., known as Adler-i-ka, the appendicitis preventative, surprises Falls City. It draws so much foul matter from the system that ONE SPOONFUL relieves sour stomach, gas and constipation AT ONCE. M. L. Thompson, druggist.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.
