THE PLACE TO FIND BARGAINS

The merchant who advertises is worthy of your consideration. He invites you to come to his store and inspect his goods confident that he will be able to please you both in quality and price. He is not afraid to place his goods on record and stand behind his guarantee. That he advertises is also evidence that he is wide-awake and keeps in touch with the markets and is in position to offer you bargains while his non-advertising competitor dozes in his chair and wonders when in Thunder the mill will start. Trade with our advertisers.

MAY ELECTRIFY ROAD

There has been much speculation as to the probability of the road to Falls City being electrified. The S. P. Company are preparing to electrify many of their branch roads and there is a late rumor that the Falls City branch will be considered. Should this be done it will be possible to get electric power for many purposes not available at this time. It is believed also that the company would bid for the city lighting. There is some hitch between the city council and the local electric company and the council does not appear anxious to grant a franchise. The service is regarded poor and unless there is an improvement there is no likelihood of one being granted by the present council.

TRIP AROUND THE WORLD

On Friday night, Aug. 27th, occurred one of the greatest social treats Falls City has had in some time. It was called the "Trip Around the World," and was in charge of the Epworth League of the Methodist church. Mr. Lloyd Miller as chairman of the committee did very creditable work. Washington, D. C. was at the home of Mr. Harry Starr where those contemplating the journey could buy their round trip tickets for 25 cents per. As a fortification for the first lap of the journey by auto the guests were served with a cup of Mrs. Starr's delicious "Home made" coffee and sandwiches. Across the Atlantic, to Italy, proved to be a moonlit ride to Mr. Wells' country home where beautiful artistically gowned maids served the macaroni to the tune of an Italian waltz played on the piano. Although the same scenery was observed, in reverse order, on the trip to Japan (Mrs. Cobbs) the enjoyment was just as intense. Tea and wafers were served in an elegantly decorated room of the Cobb home by maidens to match, (match the decorations I mean). You were treated to "Home Made" ice cream in Holland, (Mrs. E. Montgomery's beside the canal) where the wind mill grew in the front yard. And Ireland—Ah me!—Pat and Mike were both there and some "Wild Irish Rose(s) and the Blarney Stone and Irish Stew. Mrs. D. Courter can sure cook. But wasn't it good to be back in Georgia (Mr. Treat's) and hear the coon quartette and banjo while you eat juicy melons served by the "belles" of Africa.

I hope you get the idea that the "Trip" was grandiferous, it sure was, but you know I was so busy tasting that I didn't have time to see and hear.

The Epworth League had charge of it and they want me to thank those who opened their homes to the jolly throng and also to thank Mr. Hal Thompson, Mr. Lewis, Mr. Selig, Mr. Tetherow and Mr. Austin Titus for the use of autos and the time they gave as chauffers.

Signed
Mr. I. Took The Trip.

THINKING

Few men really think, although each would deny the accusation. Although man is supposed to be a rational thinking animal, thinking is actually the hardest work and the rarest he does. We hear a thing, ordinarily, and immediately form an opinion about it. Usually self-interest is at the bottom of our conclusions. We are told, for instance, that prohibition is a good thing and that the sale of liquor should be forbid by law. It is the same with the tariff, the single tax, the Mexican situation, the European war, in fact everything we have anything to do with. Do we study the arguments for and against? No, we simply jump at conclusions allowing our personal feelings and prejudices to govern us. How much more rational it would be to hold up our judgement on a question until we have had an opportunity to study it from every angle. Then form an opinion and stand or fall by that opinion, until we learn something of which we have been in ignorance that might change our minds on the subject. Not to be open to conviction is pig-headed. Narrowness is the bane of our whole system of civilization. Let your mind be open to argument, and think—think for yourself.—Exchange.

Butter and Eggs And Merchandising

By HOLLAND.

MR. FARMER, do you spend money with mail order houses? Do you send your cash to Chicago or New York while doing a credit business with your local merchant? You do not? Then we congratulate you and beg to say that these words are addressed to the man who does.

You, Mr. Mail Order House Patron, should think a few thoughts before buying another money order or draft payable in Chicago. Think what sort of welcome you would receive if you went to that big Chicago concern with a few pounds of butter or a few dozen eggs! Would the Chicago concern buy your eggs, think you? Would it take your butter and give you in exchange sugar that is sold at such a narrow margin of profit that the weighing must be careful and close or there will be a loss? Hardly.

The mail order house insists on cash—cash in advance. There is no bartering and no credit. It is "Send me your money first if you want my goods."

It will be to your advantage directly and indirectly to spend your real money where you take your butter and eggs.
