

See how easily it fills itself!

—just a "dip" in ink and one simple thumb-pressure on the "Crescent-Filler." Isn't that fountain pen "clam"? Isn't it a downright relief and soul-satisfying comfort to eliminate the troublesome, ink-dropper-filler and tight screw joints?

Conklin's Self-Filling Fountain Pen

not only fills itself, but cleans itself, too, at the same time and with the same operation. Moreover, it absolutely will not leak either in the pocket or when writing.

Wanted For Larceny

A stranger came to town Tuesday night and called the deputy sheriff of Independence up over the phone and told him that a man by the name of E. Bruce had stolen a double-barrel shotgun and other things from Gypsy Joe's camp in the Siletz Basin and was heading towards Albany and for him to apprehend him.

The description given of the man was as follows: Light complexion, bald-headed, blue eyes, gray mustach, nervous and when spoken to behind his back would wheel about in a quick manner, height about 5 feet 8 and walked in a hobble like gait, wore white hat, dark coat, corduroy pants, medium weight shoes and carried a bundle.

The stranger gave the description to Pat Murphy, who being busy at the time paid little attention to the matter. About 11 o'clock Pat saw the stranger who was then "three sheets in the wind" and as he didn't say anything more about the matter, no more questions were asked.

A man answering the description given was seen by Murphy the next day, but as there was no warrant for his arrest, he could not be legally detained.

Black-Titus Wedding

A quiet wedding was solemnized at the home of R. A. Titus last Wednesday, Oct. 7 when Miss Pearl Titus became the wife of Roy Black.

The house was beautifully decorated with ferns, autumn leaves and orange blossoms by Mrs. I. G. Singleton and Miss Bertha Frink.

At ten thirty (10:30) A. M., the bride and groom led by M. Howard Fagon entered the parlor where the guests had assembled and stood under the arch of orange blossoms, until Mrs. I. G. Singleton delivered in her usual fine delivery and charming way, the beautiful reading, "A Woman's Question to a man." Then the bride and groom passed to the center of the room and standing beneath the marriage bell listened to the ring ceremony read in a very impressive manner by M. Howard Fagon, after which congratulations were in order.

The bride was dressed in blue messaline, with all over silk lace and looked very charming and beautiful as they stood beneath the orange blossoms taking the vows which bound them for life.

Miss Bertha Frink caught the bride's bouquet.

Dinner was served at eleven o'clock and a bountiful repast indeed it was, consisting of all the good things in the land.

Loses Thumb and Finger

Chancy Davis, who lives near town, had in his possession Thursday night, some dynamite caps. By what chance of fate or fortune they came into his possession is not recorded, but he was also possessed of a curiosity to know if they would explode. His thirst for knowledge on that subject has been very fully satisfied. His brother, Wilbur says that the best information he can get is that Chancy retired to a sequestered spot and taking a cap between thumb and finger proceeded to examine it with a lighted match. There was a commotion, the cap was gone as well as the end of his thumb and finger. He was taken to the Dallas hospital.

Tuesday evening the city marshal received a call from the Miller home that someone was up stairs at the Ellis place in the outskirts of town. They immediately vacated and went to the Miller home and phoned the marshal. The marshal proceeded at once to the Ellis home and made diligent search but was unable to find anyone. It is thought that the intruder took fright about the same time as did the ladies.

FALLS CITY CORN GROWERS

R. S. Ferguson Carries off Honors for Most Prolific Corn Yet Brought to News Office.

The first of the week R. S. Ferguson brought to the News office a sample of corn raised on his place in the city that leads anything so far exhibited. It is of the sweet corn variety and one seed produced five good sized well developed ears. Dick says that he is not much on raising stalks but will match up with any of them on ears. He says that he has the art of corn growing down pat and would like to see a corn-growing contest started here next year to stimulate interest in growing corn and other field and garden products.

Who will be next?

Mrs. F. A. Wolfe brought to the News office last Saturday a bunch of dahlias that she had grown on her farm, 1 1/2 miles south of town. The flowers were fine specimens of different varieties. Mrs. Wolfe is noted for raising fine flowers and the church festival and the weddings are nearly always supplied with her flowers.

U. S. DEPARTMENT OF LABOR

Immigration Service. Division of Information.

Distribution Branch, Portland, Oregon, October 6, 1915.—The United States Department of Labor, through its local Branch at Portland, Oregon, again directs the attention of the public to the fact that it maintains a Division of Information for the benefit of employers of labor seeking help and for the assistance of workers seeking employment.

While this service is entirely free and available to all in both city and country, the Government realizes that it is the employer situated outside the larger cities and towns who is handicapped in securing competent help because of his remoteness from the ordinary labor markets. Therefore, it is particularly to such, comprising farmers, ranchers, orchardists, stockmen, cannery and manufacturers, that the Government tenders its free service. Employers can be put in prompt touch with skilled or unskilled help of almost any race or nationality and for any kind of work including domestic service.

Every Postmaster is an authorized agent for the Government's Employment Branch and will receive applications from employer or unemployed. Or such applications and requests for information may be sent to the District Headquarters under the following address:

Officer in Charge,
Distribution Branch,
U. S. Immigration Service,
424 Railway Exchange Bld.
Portland, Oregon.

The service is free.
