SATURDAY, APRIL 22, 1916

The United States is facing another crisis with Germany.

Prosperity is hitting central Oregon so hard these days that a positive "boom" is threatened, says W. C. Wilkes, assistant general freight and passenger agent for the Hill lines.

"America will fight only for humanity," says President Wilson. If it were only true, but, "Can the Ethiopian change his skin, or the leopard his spots?" If the cause of humanity had been adhered to there would have been no crisis. Greed alone is responsible for the unhappy condition that has been forced upon President Wilson. The United States may be dragged into war under the guise of humanity, yet how little has been shown by those who had their money at stake and really held world war or peace in the hollow of their hands. War might add a few millions to the coffers of a few, but would mean the loss of all that is dear to thousands of homes, and for what? Greed.

GAS BUGGIES GOODBYE

Experts of the Bureau of Mines declare that at the present rate of supply and consumption of crude oils that the supply will be exhausted in 27 years, and that the price will tend steadily upward. This means that the price of gasoline will have advanced to such an extent that the use of automobiles and other gasoline driven motors will be prohibited. The indications are that the production from the mid-continent fields for 1916 will be about 40,000 short of 1915. Unless some means can be found to furnish motive power the "honk, honk" of the "buzz wagon" will gladden the ears of the pedestrian no more.

The Straw Vote

The "Straw Votes" taken recently at various places appears to be viewed with much significance in the coming presidential election by a few. In our humble opinion it is to be regarded only as it is, a straw vote, having no weight, binding no one nor principle. Wilson is the avowed and only Democratic candidate for president while the Republicans have a number of good men to select from. Thus we find the Republicans in a quandary, not as to the party, but as to the best man in the Republican party to pull the government out of the hole Wilson has got into. The Democrats have no choice, its Wilson or bolt the party. When asked to vote, "just for fun," the Republican is very likely to say, "What's the use, I'll just flim flam them fellows," and gabs in a straw for Wilson and Democracy goes wild.

Wilson's popularity is overrated. No man, or woman either, loves a garrulous or quarrelsome person. The fellow who is always quarrelling has not the respect of friend or foe. If you have a grievance worth paying heed to, get at it and settle it even though knives, guns or clubs are needed, get it settled for all time and don't quarrel and mouth around about it. If this nation has a grievance with Germany, let's do something or shut up and stop Wilson's chatter. He appears ready to quarrel at any and all times and over any and all things. If he isn't choked off he is liable to get the U. S. into serious trouble.

Schools Visited by Supt. W. I. Reynolds

Week April 10-14.

On Monday morning April 10th, I went to Mountainview where Mrs. Chlo. A. Seymour is principal and Miss Martha Wikberg is assistant. This is a nice modern building and everything is in good shape. Good order is kept in this school and there is a very pleasant lot of boys and girls.

From Mountainview I went to Brush College where Miss Belle Barker is principal and Miss Helen Cook is primary teacher. Very fine work is being done here and the school house is in splendid condition.

From Brush College I went to Lincoln. Mrs. Clark Wright is teacher of the Lincoln school and she has twenty-eight pupils in attendance. They are still keeping up the lunch kitchen supplying the boys and girls with hot lunches at noon. Everything is in good shape.

At Zena I found Miss Elsie Taylor teaching. This is a very good school, a good modern building twenty pupils in attendance. This is the first school I have found in the country where they use a stove that has a jacket built on correct principles.

The following day I visited Popcorn school where Miss Rosa G. Bodayla is teacher. She is very thorough in her work and is doing some vocal work in the school.

All the above mentioned schools are modern buildings.

From Popcorn down over the roughest roads possible I made my way to Oakpoint. Miss Carrie Dahm is the teacher of Oakpoint school and she is a very good teacher.

In the afternoon I visited Elkins. Very fine work is being done in primary reading work in this school by Miss Phoebe Denny who is primary teacher there. Miss Edith Witzel has the principalship handling the upper grades and high school work. At the time I was there five of the Normal school students were there taking notes. The superintendent had the pleasure of hauling them back part of the way to Monmouth and lost the switch key to the magnet and stopped his engine. We hunted and hunted for the key and could not find it but finally started the engine and succeeded in getting to Monmouth.

On Wednesday I attended a rally at Black Rock. There was quite an attendance of ladies, the superintendent being the only man present. An excellent program was rendered after which a very good round table discussion was held.

Thursday I and Mrs. Braden attended the Salt Creek school rally. There was a very good crowd with many farmers present. A fine spread was furnished at noon. In the afternoon there was a spirited round table discussion, both men and women taking part. Mrs. Braden explained the fair work telling the boys to be sure to enter for potato prizes which were open to old and young.

On Friday accompanied by Mr. McConnell, Mrs. Braden, Ruth Campbell, and Caroline Goehrkke, I went over the hills to Fern. We had a large turn-out there for a small district. A very good program was rendered by the school. Mr. McConnell gave a splendid talk on education, winding up with one of his great readings. The people here did not fail to provide handsomely for dinner. Mr. McConnell having to take the train at Willamina at 1:50, I loaded the Ford up with children and drove to the train, coming back for the discussion afterwards. Mrs. Braden again explained the fair work to the children. Leaving at half past three we got home at about five o'clock.

TOOK OVERDOSE OF SOMETHING

About 7:30 Saturday night H. H. Stam was found unconscious in the bathroom of his barber-shop on North Main street. About that time his wife brought his supper to him at the shop, but found the front door locked. She went into Frank Kersey's confectionery store, next door, and told Mr. Kersey of her suspicions that something was wrong. Mr. Kersey entered the barber shop through a rear door, which was not locked. He found Mr. Stam unconscious in the bathroom and immediately called Dr. Bollman, who worked with the man for several hours, finally restoring him to consciousness. Stam says that he had been suffering with cramps during the afternoon and had taken some sample powders that had been left him by an agent, and immediately became deathly ill.—Dallas Itemizer.

Stam ran a barbershop here last year.

This Life of Ours.
Our life is not a mutual helpfulness, but rather, cloaked under due laws of war, named "fair competition" and so forth, it is a mutual hostility.—Carlyle.
